A Good Letter From A Grand Institution.

From the Mt. Pleasant, (Ia.) Evening News.

Ed. News: If you will allow me the space in your columns I will try to give my many friends in Mt. Pleasant some idea of the great good that is being done for humanity in the little village of Dwight. I arrived here ten days ago and went under treatment immediately for the cure of the liquor habit with Dr. Kelley. This is a beautiful little village of 1500 inhabitants, situated on the Chicago & Alton R. R., seventy-two miles south of Chicago, and the people are unquestionably the most social and sympathetic I have ever met. When I arrived there was fully 100 as fine and intelligent lot of men awaiting the arrival of the train to extend a hearty welcome to anyone who might come here for treatment and speaking words of encouragement and assurance that this is the place where they may look hopefully for relief. Here is met millionaires, bankers, ministers, and ex-congressmen; and in fact all classes seeking relief from the one greatest enemy of the human race, liquor, and they are all on a common level here, no distinction made on account of social or financial standing, and the moment one arrives he is made to understand that he is surrounded by a vast crowd of sympathetic friends, and there can be no greater offense offered the doctor than to mistreat one of his unfortunate patients. Almost every train takes some one away entirely cured, who only a few days ago was what might be termed a total wreck. The tears of joyful sympathy that well up from their very inmost soul as they grasp your hand for the final good-bye is quite enough to make strong men weep. Many of your readers know full well what a mighty hold the accursed distilled damnation had on me. He allowed me all the liquor I wanted and in less than three days I could no more take a drink of it than I could fly. It does seem to me that all the nations of the earth ought to praise the name of Dr. Kelley. I only have one regret now, and that is that I did not come here long ago. The grandest sight that I have ever witnessed is to see daily two hundred stout, manly and intelligent men falling into line with the left arm bared to the shoulder, eagerly working their way forward toward man's greatest earthly benefactor, Dr. Kelley. Oh, how I do wish that all who are afflicted with an alcoholic appetite could only be prevailed on to come here and be cured. I have met one or two cases who were trying to keep their whereabouts concealed while here, but, Mr. Editor, if I have ever made a move in my life of which I am proud, it is surely this. In such a move and to all who may read this who are cursed with an appetite for strong drink, I would say start for Dr. Kelley's at once, for they will find in him a perfect friend and in full sympathy with them in their afflictions. No kinder, nobler man lives to-day than he, and in my judgment is doing more to-day for suffering humanity than any other living man. While this may not be of any great interest to those who have never known or experienced the miseries that follow in the wake of a life of drunkenness, I hope you will give this room in your paper for the benefit of quite a number of your readers, and I am certain that some of them will be rejoiced to hear that I am getting along nicely.

JULE H. IRWIN.

train and the address was not delivered, We publish it at the request of many of his friends:

My FRIENDS:—No one not in my situation can appreciate the sadness I feel at this parting. The past rises before me like a dream. It is here that I have tried hard to bury deep down in oblivion the dark and disreputable past of my life; it is here that has been laid the foundation work, I hope and trust, of a grander and nobler manhood; it is here that warm and lasting friendships have been formed that will never be severed except by the sickle of time; it was here that I met many of you for the first time in life twenty one days ago a wrecked and haggard specimen of depravity, and the great transformation that has taken place makes me almost believe that their own eyes deceived them. My friends I am sad at this parting and yet I am rejoiced when my thoughts wander away to my own household, and I imagine that I am already there, looking down through tears of crystallized joy, into the happy and anxious hearts that are awaiting my return home, a free man. I pledge my word that the kindness I have received at your hands during my stay can never be blotted from the pages of my memory, and as I go away from you we must not forget that there is a great work before us that must not be neglected and that is, that we should always be on the alert for any opportunity that may present itself to help those whom we may meet to seek relief here, and it is by living in this manner that we may be accredited as faithful workers and faithful laborers in the casting up the great shining highway, over which the race may travel, redeemed and disenthralled from the vices of intemperance. It may at times seem to some of us as though we were suffering martyrdom within ourselves. There is one great consolation and that is this: There is no glory that invests the triumphs of the sword like that which lights up the pathway of the silent martyr. I care not though he may die unnoticed and unobscured by the wayside, or sleep in a forgotten grave, his name will live down through all the ages. And now my friends, I will again bid you an affectionate farewell.

JULE H. IRWIN, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

A Novel Offer.

We have received a copy of the Dominion Illustrated, which is the only high class illustrated journal published in Canada. With the beginning of the present year it was enlarged to twenty-four pages weekly, and new and striking literary features have been added. It is profusely illustrated in the highest style of photogravure art, and is altogether a highly interesting journal and a credit to Canadian skill and enterprise. The publishers have inaugurated a prize competition for the current six months, which bears the stamp of originality. Six questions are published each month, and the material for answering them is found in the numbers for that month. Only subscribers compete, and the prizes, which number 100, exceed $3,000 in value. The smallest is valued at $5, and the first is $750 in gold. The publishers announce that any dissatisfied prize-winner may exchange a prize for the cash value at which it is rated in the published list. As the Illustrated is not a "fake" journal it has every reason for keeping faith with subscribers. The publishers (The Sabiston Litho. and Pub. Co., Montreal), announce that on receipt of 12 cents in stamps (Canadian or American) they will forward to any address a sample copy with full particulars as to terms, etc.

CHICKAMAUGA CHIEF.

Bay stallion; foaled April 18, 1886, owned by A. H. HAYNES. By AMBER 768.—(Son of Almont 33, and 35 in 2:30 list.) 1st dam Polly—(dam of Danzig), by Chickamauga 4776—(sire of Luella, 2:21; Danube, 2:21; Charlie B., 2:29, and Bell Chick, 2:40); 2d dam, untraced. AMBER 768—By Almont 33, sire of Westmont, 2:13; Piedmont, 2:17; and 29 sons and 19 daughters are producers of 2:30 trotters. 1st dam Patti, by Mambrino Chief 11. (Sire Lady Thorne, 2:18; Woodford Mambrino, 2:24, and 23 sons and 16 daughters producers.) 2d dam, by Parks' Highlander. 3d dam, by Gray Eagle, (Grand sire dam of Grafton, 2:22; and Edgewater, sire of Harry W., 2:27; and dam of Edgemark, 4 years, 2:16.) 4th dam, by Bertrand, CHICKAMAUGA 4776. By Vermont Boy son of Green Mountain Morgan, by Gifford Morgan, (sire of Luella, 2:21; Danube, 2:21; Charley B., 2:29, and Bell Chick, 2:40.) 1st dam untraced.

NOTE.—Chickamauga Chief was sired by one of the best individual sons of the great producer Almont 33; and Chickamauga, the sire of his dam, got but forty-eight colts and two of these have records better than 2:22, one of 2:29, and one of 2:40, a percentage of speed shown by few of the best trotting sires. Here is a promising young horse certain to sire roadsters, and being from prolific speed sources he ought also to sire trotters. His breeding comprises Hambleton, Mambrino Chief, Pilot, Jr., and Morgan, lines that have produced our most enduring roadsters and fastest trotters. Chickamauga Chief has never been developed for speed, but is open gaited, rapid and promising, and will be trained after the season.

TERMS.—Fifteen Dollars to insure with foal, payable when mare is known to be with foal. Persons parting with mares before they are known to be with foal, or failing to return them regularly, will forfeit the amount of the insurance. While all possible care will be taken to prevent accidents I will not be responsible should any occur.

Horse will be found at barn of his owner during the season. Mares from a distance will be kept at reasonable rates.

A. H. HAYNES, Dwight, Ill.

THE SUPERB "STALLION," Ontario Chief THE YOUNG

Is a bay; foaled April 2, 1885; weight 1,800 lbs. Bred by W. T. Sprout, Bonese, Kircubright, Scotland. Got by Lockfurge Champion (449); 1st sire, imported Ontario Chief, Jr.; 2d sire, imported Ontario Chief, imported by Andrew Harvie from Scotland to Canada, and registered in Clydesdale Studbook of Scotland. Dam, "Clyde," sired by Young Champion 449. Young Champion 449 was sired by imported Champion, imported from Scotland to Canada, in 863 by Andrew Harvie, of Beverly, Ontario, and well-known throughout the United States and Canada as a pure-bred Clydesdale and first-class getter. Registered in the American Clydesdale Studbook. Dam of Young Champion was sired by King of the West 418, a noble Clydesdale stallion, imported from Scotland in 1854, by Andrew Harvie, and her dam, an excellent mare, one of the better kind, Lockfurge Champion (449), got by Lockwed Champion (448).

DESCRIPTION.—Age 6 years April 2, 189; weight, 1,800 lbs.; color, dark bay; marks, white strip in head, and the two hind feet white to fetlocks.

Team Young Ontario Chief will stand during the season commencing April 1, from Monday to Friday at Murphy Bros.' barn, and Saturday at Judd Williams' livery barn, Dwight, Ill.

TERMS.—$10 to insure a mare with foal, payable when mare foals. Persons parting with mares before that time, or failing to return them regularly as directed, will forfeit the amount of insurance. While all possible care will be taken to prevent accidents, we will not be responsible should any occur. In case your colt comes dead, or dies before it stands up, you pay us for the dead colt and we give you a living one from either of our horses, or any other horse we may have at the time; or if you do not wish to use our horses again, you pay us half for the dead colt and we lose half.
