Particular attention should be paid to the merchant's parade on the 4th. Every business house in Dwight should be represented in the procession. It is an excellent chance to advertise your business, and will make an attractive feature of the celebration. Fix up something sure.

"It does beat all" we overheard a man say "that men will go around sweating in the heat, and swearing about the weather, when all they have to do is to call at McWilliams & Smith's store and procure one of those comfortable summer coats and vests, and be as cool as a cucumber."

The wind mill at the Livingston is disconnected and sold to Alderman W. H. Taylor. The Keeley company have placed in position an engine which can be depended upon to pump whether the wind blows or not, and there will be no more trouble regarding the supply of water in the Livingston bath rooms.

Jas. Williams has been a great sufferer from blood poison for the past two years. The wound was originally caused from a scratch from a wire. It has been discharging matter most of the time, and last Saturday night a piece of bone about half an inch square came out of the wound. Mr. W. is now much better and hopes he is totally relieved from pain.

Many of our readers have doubtless read of the trials the passengers on the steamship, City of Richmond, recently endured during a severe storm. They were terrorized for five long days, and life was almost despaired of. Rev. Mr. Metcalf, a former pastor of the M. E. Church, was one of the unfortunates. His many friends here will be pleased to learn of his safety.

There will be two games of base ball at the grounds next Tuesday, the Dwigts and Wilmingtons being the contestants. These clubs have played three games and stand two for the Wilmingtons and one for Dwight. The latter will make an extra effort to win both games so as to get the best three out of five. The first game will be called at 9 a. m. and the second at 2 p. m. The boys have pleasant accommodations on the grounds, and the games will be well played.

Dr. and Mrs. Leslie E. Keeley left Tuesday on the Hummer for New York on their journey to England. They will go aboard the City of Paris next Tuesday night and sail at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning.

They were accompanied from Dwight by Capt. Wilson, of the New York Sun, who goes to England with the . Mr. Jacob will leave to-day and join the party in New York and accompany them to England on his way to Australia.

Geo. C. Morgan, the Chicago waterworks man, is a very intelligent man, and what he don't know about water works wouldn't make a very large book. One thing he spoke of shows the fine financial reputation Dwight has away. When he received Mr. Thompson's letter asking him to come out here and see about waterworks, he asked his attorney in Chicago about Dwight. "Dwight," said the attorney, "Why Dwight's all right. That town has got more money than anybody."

Prof. L. A. Vaughn is just what he claims to be, an artist-scientist, and his lecture given this week at Kepplinger's hall would bear out this fact. What he says is true and he proves it by illustrations, practical and otherwise. His knowledge of human nature is wonderful and could only have been acquired by years of labor and study. We are perfectly satisfied that if the people of any community would come out and hear Prof. Vaughn, his lectures would prove of much benefit to the people. Prof. and Mrs. Vaughn are very pleasant people, socially and intellectually, and we wish them success.

Bi-C. of G. C. Entertainment.
The entertainment given under the auspices of the above club last Saturday night, was very interesting and well attended. President Reynolds presided, and the first on the program was a song, "The Bridge," by Mr. Nicol. It was finely rendered and highly appreciated, as the encore following would prove.

Rev. Riordan followed in one of his interesting and amusing talks, at the close of which Mr. Reemey sang a comic song that created considerable laughter.

Prof. Vaughn, the mind desecrator, next amused and instructed the audience in a short speech regarding character, etc., which he illustrated.

Miss Lees, an accomplished musician, a guest at the Livingston, rendered an operatic selection in a very excellent manner.

Mr. Nicol entertained the audience with several fine character representations, which created much laughter.

Original sketches by Mr. Leonard and Mr. Wood followed and the entertainment closed.

There is every kind and grade of talent in the club, and they are competent to give an interesting entertainment at short notice. Good programs are arranged and are a source of much pleasure to the club and its friends.
