Uniformity of Text Books.

The directors and other school officers of Livingston county are urged to meet in convention at Pontiac, July 21st at 1:30 p. m., to consider the question of uniformity of text books. The State Superintendent will be present to advise and suggest plans to pursue.

So far as reported there are fifteen varieties of Grammar now in use in this county, eleven of Arithmetic, twelve of Geography, twelve of Readers, twelve of Physiology, twelve of Spellers, and four of History.

This necessitates a large number of classes in mixed schools, and therefore poorer work, and also where a uniform series is strictly enforced in one district among several where it is not, involves a very heavy expense to the non-permanent residents who are least able to bear it.

I trust each board will meet soon to discuss this matter, and elect a delegate who shall be instructed that their district will consider itself bound by the action of the convention.

Let the whole board be present if possible, and help to settle this question which so nearly interests all citizens of this county.

Peoria Races.

The Lake View Driving Park Association will hold its fourth summer meeting June 14 to 17. Peoria is noted for its genuine contests of speed and for the absence of all trickery among drivers. At Peoria the best horse wins and the public are sure of good sport.

This year colt stakes have been added to the program. There are 72 nominations in the 2, 3 and 4-year-old trots and 3-year-old pace. As nearly everybody now is a breeder of one or more trotters, our breeders will be interested in these contests.

Excursion rates will be granted on all railroads.

Talk about your "fearfully and wonderfully made," this is the worst case of deformity we have read of. We clip it from the Streator Monitor: "The child has no arms, only short stubs, showing where the arms should be, and looks as though an amputation had been gone through. On the left stub is a large thumb having two nails on it. The child also has but one leg, the left one, and this is only about 2 1-2 or 3 inches in length, and seems to be connected with the hip at the knee joint, so that it will never become full sized or be of much use to the owner. On the lower jaw are two teeth which have, at this early date, almost forced themselves into sight and will show in the course of four or five days. From the hips up the child is well formed and in a healthy state with all the evidence in the world that it will live and do well. The mother is getting along as well as could be expected, although she and the father are almost driven to distraction over the affair."

Dickens' Complete works, twelve large volumes, and the STAR AND HERALD for one dollar and eighty five cents. Just think of it.

Dwight Boometh!

Dwight has crossed the line from a quiet little village to a thriving little city, and in less than five years the population will increase to 8,000 or 10,000. New enterprises, such as factories, the proprietors of which desire to locate in a solid temperance community, have made overtures to come here. Capital from all parts of the country is looking this way and will find means of investment. Since the great Leslie E. Keeley Institute has decided to remain in Dwight and has made large investments, property has advanced and will continue to do so. The town has electric lights, and will soon have macadamized streets and a good system of water-works. There is no town in the west that has brighter prospects or offers better inducements to investors, Apropos of this

CHAS. L. ROMBERGER,
Prop. of Dwight Land and Loan Office,
