

Come One, Come All.

Come one, come all, new life obtain, Tho' it be time and time again...

Think of the home, the dear ones there; Think of the wife, the children so fair; Think of the grief, almost despair; Of those around that vacant chair...

Cast away the devil's strong hold; Check his glee, in manner so bold; The treatment "Bi-Chloride of Gold" Is sure to cure, both young and old...

—IRVIN PROCTOR.

Farewell Address.

At the request of many club members we cheerfully give space to some extracts from the eloquent farewell address delivered by Capt. J. H. Hoofstetter at the time of his recent departure from Dwight.

MR. CHAIRMAN, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—The hour has arrived for my departure from among you. I have certainly spent many happy hours in the society of the membership of this organization.

I feel intensely interested, not only in my own behalf, but in the welfare of each and every patient of the Institute. A few thoughts presents themselves very forcibly upon my mind at this moment.

We are citizens of the grandest government the sunlight ever kissed into existence. It is the only government on the face of the globe, where a man can stand up, and say, I am a man, from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet.

Mr. Osmun, Jr., of Chicago, came out and spent Sunday with the boys and girls. He brought out a couple of friends, and expects to visit Dwight often.

The poetry, "Come one, Come all," published in the club news last week, was from the pen of Mr. Irvin Proctor, and is a very nice production.

Mr. Carey, one of the popular literary men of the club, left for his home in Chicago, Saturday.

Mr. Arnold, who left here some weeks since, returned last week with a friend, and spent several days with the boys. Saturday he was called upon for an address and responded in a most happy manner.

Capt. Insley, a popular club member, left for his home in Leavenworth, Kansas, Saturday. He is a prominent K. P. and visited the lodge here several times.

Messrs. J. M. Cunningham, of Caney, Kan., and M. P. Burger, of Euclid, Wis., left Tuesday for their homes. They will keep posted on Club news by reading the STAR and HERALD.

The entertainments this week have been largely attended and duly appreciated by all. The success is due to the untiring efforts of the present committee, and in order that these pleasing features may continue, every member of the club should uphold and assist them in every way possible.

If we return to our cups again, we can never return to the Keeley Institute for treatment. This ends the chapter.

As for myself, I shall use my pen, my voice and my influence to destroy the cause that sent me here. My hatred for the liquor traffic is as high as Heaven, as deep as Hell, and as wide as the universe.

O. O. Oliver, assistant night editor of the Chicago Inter Ocean, was out a few days this week. He responded to a call for a few remarks in a happy manner, Tuesday morning, and gave encouragement to many new comers.

The membership of the club increases rapidly. It's a nice, comfortable place to pass away the leisure hours during treatment.

Mr. E. Pitkin, one of the lively and popular members of the club, returned for a stay of another week or two with the boys. He is a splendid musician and full of fun and the club would like to have him with them all the time.

A letter from C. H. Ross, of Chicago, says he is getting along fine, and will visit the club here some time this month. He will join the Chicago branch at their next regular meeting—the second Tuesday in September.

known to one of the following gentlemen who comprise the committee—Dr. Weld, Mr. Cantrell or Mr. Voris, the chairman.

The Leslie E. Keeley Co.'s new office building is nearing completion and presents a handsome appearance. On the top in the center appears their trade mark—a representation of the earth with a belt around it on which are the words, "We belt the world."

It would be a difficult matter to find a more gentlemanly or popular corps of medical assistants than those employed by the Leslie E. Keeley Co. It is a pleasure to meet any and all of them.

The singing of Prof. Harris was one of Wednesday and Thursday evening's pleasing events.

The lecture of Mr. Parkison on "Electricity" and "What am I to wear," was one of the best we have ever heard.

The Keeley quartette, composed of the following gentlemen, Cantrell, Dunlop, Johnson and Voris, made their first appearance Wednesday night and proved quite a feature, and especially was the solo work of Mr. Cantrell loudly applauded.

The amusement committee wish to return thanks through the STAR and HERALD to the following gentlemen for assisting them in every possible way, and hope they will again volunteer in the near future, as many would be pleased to listen to their songs, recitations, etc.: Messrs. Proctor, Pitkin, Vandever, Parkinson, Howell, Moran, Baxter, Dunlap, Johnson and many others we might have omitted; also Mrs. Shaw, the esteemed wife of one of our members.

The following resolution was adopted by the Club:

WHEREAS the seating capacity of our club room is limited and a large number of our members are unable to find seats when our entertainments are given.

Resolved, That with the exception of Saturday evenings, none but members, their relatives, and those guests specially invited by members, be admitted to the evening sessions of the club.

In explanation it might be said that the desire of the club was merely to keep out children who could take no interest in the entertainments, and occupied as much room as people do who enjoy it.

Vice-president Frank Clark was unanimously elected president and Mr. Webster vice-president, Wednesday morning. Geo. B. Smith is permanent secretary.
