

Something More Difficult.
 "What wonderful progress the science of optics has made in the past ten years! The difficult complaints, astigmatism, myopia, hyperopia, emmetropia, and others have been found."
 "There is one thing I can't understand."
 "What's that?"
 "How they found out their names."
Jeweler's Weekly.
 A Puzzled Reporter.

Eastern Newspaper Correspondent—
 What are the chances, Chief? Is there going to be another Indian outbreak during the—

Citizen—Take off yer hat there, when you're talkin' to the only lady in town!—Puck.

His Critics.
 "What it takes to make a paradise," someone has said, "depends upon the person who is going there." There was once an artist who painted a picture of Adam and Eve in the garden of Eden, says the Youth's Companion. It was exhibited publicly. One day the painter, entering the hall, saw two men who appeared to be farmers, standing before the picture.

"Now," said the artist to himself, "I can hear an unprejudiced opinion of my work."

He drew near, and listened to what the farmers were saying.

"Well, John," said one, "what do you think of it?"

"It's pretty good," said the other, "but there's one thing about it that strikes me as a little mite queer."

"What's that?"

"Why he's got Eve with a Rhode Island green in her hand."

"Hum! Seeing that the first Rhode Island green was raised in this century, I don't quite see how they could have had them in paradise!"

"No greenings!" exclaimed the other, contemptuously, "how do you suppose they could have got along in the garden of Eden without Rhode Island greenings?"

Americans Must Be Careful.
 Standish—What's that? You say you were attacked by highwaymen on the way here?

Winthrop—Yes, and robbed of every cent after being beaten insensible.

Standish—Honest citizens ought to be armed.

Winthrop—I was armed.

Standish—Then why didn't you shoot?

Winthrop—I was afraid some of the highwaymen might be unnatural residents, and I did not want to risk plunging my beloved country into a foreign war.—New York Weekly.

From An Eye Witness.
 Miss Wabash—Did I understand, Miss Mayflower, that you were from the East?

Miss Mayflower—Oh, yes; I live in Lexington.

"I want to know!"

"Yes, old historic Lexington, where the battle was fought."

"Oh, I am so glad; now do sit right down and tell me all about it."

An Emergency.
 Bricktop—No, thank you, Budger. You really must excuse me. Fact is, I promised Mrs. Bricktop that I would never drink except in case of emergency.

Budger—Well, when we emerge from the saloon that'll be a case of emergency, won't it?

Bricktop—That's a fact, old man. That lets me out.—Epoch.

Good Cause for Suspicion.
 Westerner (in New York restaurant)—Cracky, that steak's good. Best ever I see. But, I say, waiter, y'r cook ought to be careful about keeping things clean.

Waiter—He is very careful, sir.

"He is, eh? Look at them dark streaks across that steak. That nerk was cooked on a clean fryin' pan, I know.—Street & Smith's Good News.

After the First Tennis Game.

She—You attend so closely to the game, Mr. Jones!

He—And not closely enough to the girls?—Munsey's Weekly.

A Napoleon of the Air.
 Griggs—See that young man? He's a genius. Invented an air-ship, he did.

Briggs—Was it a success?

Griggs—Well, rather.

Briggs—But I haven't heard of an air-ship flying.

Griggs—Well, he didn't. But the stockholders' money did.
