

J. W. Modie and T. B. Sweringer, of Independence, Mo., left for home last Saturday.

Geo. H. Ades left for his home in Byron, Ill., Saturday. He is very particular about not having his middle initial and sir name joined together. Its warm enough here.

There were thirteen arrivals from Missouri Sunday morning.

Dr. Weid, who has been in Dwight for several months with the intention of going into business here, has secured a lucrative position on the medical staff at the Keeley institute. The doctor's many friends in Dwight and Wisconsin, will be pleased to learn of his success.

Mr. Lecky, one of the popular club members, has busied himself in getting up what will be a handsome little city directory. It will be a neat and useful publication and a neat souvenir to keep or send away to a friend. Mr. Lecky has made many friends during his canvas in Dwight, and may decide to make Dwight his permanent home. We hope so.

Percy S. Morrison, one of the good looking and popular members of the club, is back again, not because he needed any more treatment, but to visit many friends in the club and among the people of Dwight. He has many friends here who are always glad to welcome him.

Jolly Mr. Ross, the author of the new "Old Shady," is represented in the club news this week by a newsy letter from the Chicago club. Come again, Mr. Ross.

Mr. Voris, one of the most earnest workers the club has ever had in the amusement line or anything for the benefit of the boys, went to Chicago Wednesday to be present at the unveiling of the Grant monument.

We publish a very interesting article this week on the Dr. Leslie E. Keeley treatment, on the first page, taken from the Helena, Montana, Independent, and written by a prominent physician.

Col. S. A. Harper left yesterday for his home in Peoria. He will be missed greatly by the people here, but we understand it is his intention to return often. He will be an energetic and influential worker for the Keeley treatment.

The entertainment given in Keppinger's hall Tuesday night was well attended and interesting, the program consisted of literary and musical selections.

Quite a number of visitors have come and gone during the week. Their visits always have an influence for good.

Keppinger's Hall was crowded Thursday night to listen to the club program and everybody was well pleased. These pleasant entertainments are bright spots in the sojourn of the gentlemen here for treatment.

Mr. Rich, a former club member, called on the boys here this week.

Communicated.

It is usually supposed that when a club or company of persons take the trouble to prepare an excellent program for an entertainment, both for their own amusement and the amusement of the public; it is generally supposed, we repeat, that all due credit will be given and appreciation of the audience shown for the efforts of the performers. The entertainment given at Keppinger's hall last Thursday night was one of the best ever given by the Bi-Chloride of Gold Club since its organization, and the appreciation of those present was shown by the frequent vigorous applause. But some person actuated by motives known only to himself, showed his displeasure at certain members of the program by a series of hisses, loud and long, which could be heard all over the house. This is not the only time he has given offense; in fact he seems to be present at every performance, and to take especial delight in hissing and embarrassing the performers. A man who will take part in a pastime of this sort possesses a soul so small that it will rattle in a mustard seed. A hint to the wise is sufficient, and we trust it will not occur at any future entertainment of the Club.

Chicago Club.

A special meeting of the Chicago B. C. of G. Club was called for Monday evening, Sept. 29th. Reports were expected to be given by the committees appointed to attend to business matters for the Club. The meeting, however, resolved itself into a social reunion, the above mentioned committee not having had time to attend to these affairs. But "it was good to be together," as Pres. Opie Read said in his few opening remarks. Then every one talked to his neighbor as though he thought so himself. "How do you feel?" "When did you get back?" "Are you drinking again?" (this last query in a banter, the questioner knowing that his friend was not), etc., were questions heard on all sides. The boys all looked bright and contented, and very much satisfied with themselves for showing their manhood off by going to Dwight. Some music was indulged in, one of the members holding the door closed to keep out the police, as he facetiously remarked, while a quartette sang "Old Shady," or more properly, "Old Goldy," a song which the class of July and August will remember as always being ready when everything else was given up by the amusement committee of the old Club.

Opie Read told of having received a letter from an anxious inquirer, who was evidently rattled, wanting to know "why in h—ll he didn't send that medicine, (dope) and when will it come?" The correspondent, a candidate for Dwight—was wanting to take the home treatment, and had gotten Mr. Read connected with the business management of the Keeley Co.

Several new members were enrolled, and Secretary Banks read one of many anxious letters he was in daily receipt of, asking of the cure, etc.

One of the members who has spent some time in Washington, presented the Club with a finely bound register, in which all arrivals in town are invited to at least register their names.

In response to a provocative remark he said he was glad to put his hands in his pocket for the cause; the Club emanated from Dwight; he had found it necessary to put his hands in his pocket for self protection while in Washington—never in Dwight; he knew he had been in both places. A quick rejoinder from Read, said: "You very likely were in a better condition to judge of the matter while at Dwight than in our Capitol." A smile went around the meeting house at this, and the "howl" was passed again.

The Club room is quite a rendezvous for the boys at times. You will generally find there some one either going to, or returning from Dwight, that Mecca of earnest, hopeless and hopeful drunkards—not Dwight, ILL—now, but DWIGHT.

But I must cease; it's time for a "bracer." The "bracer" now-a-days is work, more work. It is now with me a continuous succession of work, not a "tremendous procession of events," as DeQuincy puts it in his confessions. CARROLL H. ROSS.
