

GARDNER GATHERINGS.

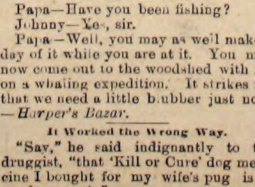

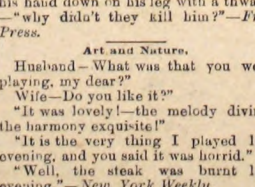

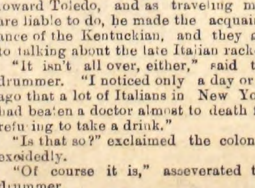

Dr. Ferguson, was a Morris visitor, Sunday. Mr and Mrs. John Cole visited Pontiac Saturday. J. Weber's mother and sister visited in Morris last week. Mr. Geo. Lewis, of Chicago, was in Gardner one day last week. Mrs. Agard and daughter visited friends in Essex, last week. There is quite a boom in farm property in this neighborhood. Mrs. Whalen, of Chicago, is here visiting with her mother, Mrs. Wheeler. Mrs. Chas. Dalbury and son, returned to their home in Chicago, Monday. Miss Katie Kimball of Cambridge, O., is at present visiting her aunt, Mrs. I. J. Keepers. Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Perry, of Braidwood, spent Sunday with friends in Gardner. Mrs. McNamara, of Streator, who visited friends here several days, returned home Monday. J. H. Rounds who operates in the tower all night, left Monday for several days' visit in Chicago. Mr. Emory Washburne, of Joliet, formerly a resident of Gardner, mourns the loss of a daughter, who died one day last week. Mr. Chas. Smith, a former resident of Gardner, and who has been living in Long Island, N. Y., died recently at the latter place. Mrs. J. A. Weldon and son, of Moberly, Mo., have been spending a few days this week in a pleasant visit with Mrs. Geo. Smith. Mrs. Melborne returned home from Caledonia, N. Y., Monday, where she had been attending the bedside of her sick mother. Rev. Cody, of the Baptist church, is attending a convention in Bloomington this week. He was accompanied by Mr. G. Robinson. Traveling Auditor Gallagher, former agent of the Alton, was in town Saturday. He and his mother visited Braceville during the day. There were no services in the Presbyterian, Baptist or M. E. churches last Sunday, but Sunday school was held at the usual hour. Mrs. Gallagher, mother of our former agent, left Sunday for her new home at Normal, Ill. During her residence here she made many warm friends who regret her departure. Mrs. J. M. Clover's health is improving rapidly. Mr. and Mrs. Clover passed through town Tuesday for a visit with relatives in Mazon. The County Sunday school union will be held in the Baptist church in Gardner Thursday and Friday, November 5 and 6. A very interesting and instructive programme has been arranged for the occasion. Bicycling is getting to be the popular sport in Gardner. The race track has been put in good condition, and every day that is favorable for Cycling, will find a number of our young folks enjoying themselves in that locality. R. L. Frost, who lives five miles west of town, will get a pension of $12 from this time on. Squire Cole received the necessary papers Monday. Mr. Frost was a good and true soldier during the war, and is deserving of all he gets. Some of our young gentlemen are talking of forming a club for amusement during the long winter evenings. A club may be a source of much benefit or much harm, according to the way it is conducted. A nice club well supplied with the right kind of literature and amusements is a good thing, and we understand that is what the boys intend to do. Success. Last Saturday afternoon the children and everybody else were warned, by the appearance of three as dirty specimens of humanity as is seen in many a day's travel, that a camp of Gypsies, or low down Dagoes, had arrived in town. It was but a short time until their representatives appeared on the main streets with their bears, monkeys, (and other live animals) to give a performance and gather in the nickles. About one hundred of our citizens witnessed the fun, and contributed towards its support. For a short time there was a snuff enough for everybody, and all seemed to enjoy it. Word was sent down here in the morning from Wilmington that the people better keep an eye or hand on their pocketbooks, red hot stoves, etc. In the evening the gang were around town singing, dancing, and using every endeavor to get nickles and pennies. Dirty women and girls plied their vocation of begging around the stores and houses.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

The employees of the Lambroni Wire Works at Joliet, went out on a strike last week, owing to a reduction in wages. The Kankakee Times came out last week profusely illustrated with several portraits of the 76th Ill. Vol. Inf., officers and men. The Christian Endeavor District Union of LaSalle, Livingston and Grundy counties, will hold a convention at LaSalle, Nov. 10th. Little Joseph Maloney, of Morris, was thrown from a horse one day last week, receiving such injuries that he died the same day. Johnnie Riley, the 16 year old son of Jerry Riley, of Kankakee, had a leg broken while alighting from a train at that place last week. Dr. N. Ellis, an old physician of Kankakee, died at his home in that place one week ago last Wednesday. He was very popular, and respected by all who knew him. Leonard Washburne, the Inter-Ocean baseball writer, was instantly killed in a railroad accident at Cre e, in Will county, thirty miles south of Chicago, last Friday. Abraham Lloyd, of Morris, while picking apples from a tree last week, fell to the ground, striking in such a manner as to break two ribs. At last reports he was improving. The Grundy County Teachers' Association held its semi-annual meeting in the High school building at Morris, Friday and Saturday of last week. An interesting program was rendered. Mr. and Mrs. John Dinsmore, of Braidwood, were injured in a railroad wreck at Hocksview, Ohio, last Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Dinsmore's injuries were very serious, being infernal. The Morris Independent got matters badly mixed in referring to the Dwight fire. It stated that the Pennsylvania House belonged to the Keeley Co., instead of S. Lower, and there is no Odell attached to the Cornell House. The Kankakee Times devoted nearly a whole page to the reunion of the 76th, which was held in that city several days ago. One of the most prominent features was the engravings of the prominent men who belonged to that regiment, and attended to the reunion. The Morris papers the past week are loaded with numerous articles in reference to the murderer, Barnett, and finally puts it as a pity that the vials of stuff that was found in his valise was not taken by Barnett, before he was taken in hand by the law. We think that is about correct. Frank Hall, an old resident of Morris, was killed by the cars at Indianapolis last Tuesday week. The building that he was working in caught fire, and Frank, with a number of others, was attempting to save some material. The wall began to fall, and in jumping out of the way of the debris, got in front of a moving train with the above result. A. Hennesy, of Coal City, night engineer at the old shaft, fell from the top of one of the boilers, Friday night, striking his head on the brick work, and receiving a severe blow on the side of the head. He was unable to rise and was obliged to remain where he fell until found in the morning. Though chilled and quite badly bruised on the right side of the head, nothing serious resulted. Paxton is having a little sensation in connection with their public schools. They employed a man by the name of Norton as principal, and a few days ago a detective from Chicago called on him and arrested him for having another man's wife in his possession. He indignantly denied the accusation, and called for an investigation of the matter, which was done immediately. It however proved to be true notwithstanding his assertion of innocence.

A Safe Offer.

Enterprising Boy (who reads the paper)—Fadder, a button manufacturer at Barmon will pay $250 to effery man killed in a railway accident if he wear six of dose buttons vat he sell. Patent (to a clothing dealer)—Dat's goot, I make me dat advertisement all right away. I sthamp my name on all dose pants-buttons, and I will offer $250 effery dime a customer gets killed on a railroad if he wear my pants mit six of my buttons on. "Subbose many gets killed. It cost you—" "It cost me nudings. Dose buttons all fly off vite de customer is running to catch dat train.—Street & Smith's Good News. Distinctively American. Mrs. Greathed—I see by the papers that a distinctively American ode is wanted for the World's Fair. Mr. Greathed (political orator)—My unpaid bill for campaign speeches is about as distinctively an American owed as I know of.—New York Weekly. Then He Stopped. Husband—The parts of the body most in use are not always the largest. Wife—Don't you think so? Husband—No. Take your mouth, for example. Wife—What about it? Husband—Nothing; only it isn't very large.—Yankee Blade. A Flight of Fancy. "I had a singularly unreal dream last night." "Indeed!" "Yes, I dreamed I saw express wagons and cab drivers everywhere voluntarily give way to the pedestrians at the street crossings." Paddy's Snake.

It worked the indroogly way, the druggist, "that 'Kill or Cure' dog medicine I bought for my wife's pug is no good on earth." "Why?" "It cured him."—New York He corder. Philosophy vs. Business. "There is a silver lining to every cloud," said the optimist. "But how wide is dot silver lining," put in the mean merchant.—Jewelers' Circular.
