THE PERFECT KEELEY CURE. (Dedicated to the Chicago Bi-Chloride of Gold Club.) With head erect he walks the streets, His nose is pointed high. He scarcely bows to friends he meets, But coldly passes by— He'll hardly deign to notice us Who once felt quite secure In his esteem, because he is A Perfect Keeley Cure.

I tell you he is out of sight, And untold millions worth, Since he returned from Dwight. He simply owns the earth— He wouldn't change positions with George Pullman, I am sure; Because the papers say he is A Perfect Keeley Cure.

The Tribune speaks of him quite frequently in words of praise. Presents us with his picture, too, For our admiring gaze— His life is written up in bright And graphic portraiture. Jim Blaine is simply nowhere since We've found this Keeley Cure.

Kind friends, give heed to what I say Nor deem me premature. We're bound to have for president A Perfect Keeley Cure; And since the straws all point that way, And Joe Medill's agreed, The men to lead the Keeleystes Are Opie and Nate Reed. —Jno. J. Flinn.

The "Jags" Triumphant March. [For the Star and Herald.] We greet, in Dwight, many of God's noble men—manly, earnest men—who are passing "Through the Valley of the Shadow," on upward and ever onward toward the Perfect Light. We halt, briefly, at the world's great mecca of liberty—the helpless inebriate's court of last resort—patiently awaiting the toot of Dr. Keeley's horn, heralding the resurrection, the magic benediction, "Thou art born again; depart in peace." Selah In hope and faith and trust, C. S. Clark, Milwaukee, Wis.

Dr. Tanner visited Dwight this week. The membership of the club has now reached 1,713.

A number of interesting letters from club members were read at the club during the week.

The lady quartette rendered very delightful music to an appreciative audience Wednesday night.

John L. Sullivan is said to be returning to America to knock out the bi-chloride of gold cure. The result of such an encounter is fraught with interest to several would-be champions of the world.—Kansas City Times.

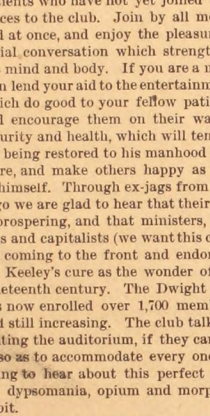

A "jag" from Chicago arrived on the 7:45 train looking as if he had too many shots in his locker. He surveyed the crowd, who were gazing him, and said: "Boys, I know you're all glad to see me. Where's the shootin' gallery, eh?"

A very amusing dialogue between two "jags" occurred yesterday afternoon. One party says to the other: "Jack, you are a very lazy man." "No, Billy," says Jack, "I am not lazy one bit. The only thing is this, I have not the staying qualities of the other fellow."

A rival institution for the cure of the liquor, tobacco, opium and cigarette habits, has been established at Lacon, and has agents throughout the country drumming up the unfortunates. This institution uses a cyanide of gold instead of the bi-chloride of gold used at the Dwight infirmary.

The Wednesday nine o'clock meeting opened with President Nash at the wheel, and was a very bright one. Several speeches were made, which added strength and gave encouragement to the boys. A letter was read which will be a warning to those men(?) who are inclined to give fictitious names. The writer says: "Mr. Slidein has got home. He sneaked into Dwight, sneaked out of Dwight, sneaked into a saloon in Chicago, sneaked out, and he will sneak into h—l if he gets rope enough." He says further that the boys should hold to the text better, doing all they can to help themselves by early rising, regular hours, taking their dope carefully and on the two hour plan, etc., and winds up by saying: "You push the button and Dr. Keeley will do the rest." More exercise for the patients who are not strong is required, a change of scenery and less tobacco smoke in their sitting and sleeping rooms, as he remarks consistently. Get your lungs and respiratory organs working good and your transpiring will become regular as a matter of fact, and naturally healthy. This letter is from a lawyer in Chicago who has been through the mill here and is now home with his family, who are enjoying his society, and he himself a happy man, free from liquor, brain clear, and enjoying nature as it should be. Several speeches were made of a very encouraging nature, especially to the new comers. Of course all the club members are talking of the doctor's return, and devising some plan to head him off in order to give him the welcome he deserves. Speaking about club members we would call attention to the patients who have not yet joined their forces to the club. Join by all means, and at once, and enjoy the pleasure of social conversation which strengthens the mind and body. If you are a musician lend your aid to the entertainments which do good to your fellow patients, and encourage them on their way to security and health, which will tend to his being restored to his manhood once more, and make others happy as well as himself. Through ex-jags from Chicago we are glad to hear that their club is prospering, and that ministers, lawyers and capitalists (we want this class) are coming to the front and endorsing Dr. Keeley's cure as the wonder of the nineteenth century. The Dwight club has now enrolled over 1,700 members; and still increasing. The club talks of renting the auditorium, if they can get it, so as to accommodate every one desiring to hear about this perfect cure for dysomania, opium and morphine habit.
