Mrs. Stateler, of Varney, Marshall county, has brought suit against the Chicago & Alton for $5,000 damages. Twenty years ago Mr. McGraw took charge of his first train out of Bloomington for Chicago as conductor, with engine 49, Mr. Lew Van Buskirk, as engineer. The latter is now at Venice, superintendent of machinery for the C. & A. What can be justly said of Mr. McGraw for his services for so many years can be said of few railroad men. He has not cost his company one dollar through neglect or carelessness

Co-Operative Creamery.

At a convention of farmers and business men held at the town house last Saturday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a stock company, for the erection of a co-operative creamery here, C. Steichen, G. L. Taylor and John Baker, with Fred Liggitt as an alternate, were appointed as a committee to go to Chicago, Elgin and vicinity, to investigate the practical workings of creameries in those sections and report to an adjourned meeting to be held at the town house in Dwight on Saturday, Feb 20 at 2 o'clock.

The committee consisting of G. L. Taylor, Fred Liggitt and C. Steichen left Monday and visited the factory of Davis & Rankin in Chicago, manufacturers of creamery machinery, and then proceeded to Geneva, Ill., where they visited large creameries doing immense business and using the Davis & Rankin machinery, or will soon. The committee report that the Geneva factory is in a flourishing condition. In 1890 the amount of milk received was 5,733,129 pounds; butter made, 249,803 pounds; cash received $56,099.29; paid patrons, $48,775.64; earnings $7,494.09. Expenses, $5,690.75; profit, $1,848,34. The average price paid for milk per 100 pounds, 86 5-6 cents; average yield of butter per 100 pounds of milk, 4 35-100 pounds; average price of butter received, 22 45-100 cents.

At the Batavia creamery the total amount of milk received was 6,464,199 pounds; pounds of butter, 293,625 pounds; the lowest price paid was 61 cents and the highest $1.30. Total cash received $73,092.78; paid to patrons, $63,477.48; average yield of butter to 100 pounds of milk, 4 54-100 pounds; average price paid for milk per 100 pounds $1.03 2-3. The profits were $5,204.20 in 1890.

The Batavia factory stock is worth $2 and none for sale. The factory is run entirely by farmers, they even refusing to allow their butter maker to own stock.

The factory was formerly owned by a private party and in May 1890 received only about 11,000 pounds of milk. After it got into the hands of the farmers they received 24,373 pounds the next May, and have brighter prospects.

The committee also report that it will be necessary to have at least 6000 pounds of milk per day to start on.

The farmers who are stockholders and patrons generally of the above factories are well pleased with their investments and the prices paid, and are very enthusiastic over the outlook.

The milk taken to the above factories is all returned to the patrons after the cream is extracted, and can be used for feeding purposes.

Every farmer in this neighborhood who is interested in getting good prices for his milk should attend the meet-to-day. They will be solicited to take stock.

Seamark-Kime.

Last Wednesday, Feb, 17, at the Evangelical parsonage, Rev. Brose, officiating, Mr. James Seamark of Verona, Ill., was united to Miss Carrie Kime, daughter of Mr. Paul Kime north of Dwight. The ceremony was performed at 10:30 and at 11:55 the happy couple started south on their wedding tour. The best wishes of their many friends attend them.

Mrs. Chas. Waters Very Ill.

Mrs. Chas. Waters has been suffering for the past month with an abscess in one of her ears, caused from the effects of la grippe. She spent about two weeks in Chicago, and came home last Saturday much improved in health. She caught cold in some manner and was obliged to return to Chicago Monday morning. Mr Waters was sent for by telegram Wednesday and immediately went to the city. Word from him Thursday says Mrs. Waters condition is slightly improved. Her many friends hope to hear of her speedy recovery.

Gone East.

Mrs. Dr. Palm and children left Dwight Friday last for Pennsylvania where they will make their home for the present. She was accompanied by her brother, Mr. Van Eman, of McWilliams & Smith's store, who will return soon. Dr. Palm will settle up his business here, and join his family about May 1. The Doctor and his family have made many friends here during their residence, who will be sorry to learn of their departure from our midst. We join those many friends in wishing the genial doctor and his estimable family unbounded success in whatever locality they decide to locate.

Arrested and Fined.

Three young bloods who have been raising cane outside the club house on entertainment nights, were arrested Tuesday and fined $3, $2.50 and $2.50 each by Police Magistrate Thompson. In default of payment they were taken to the calaboose and locked up. This will undoubtedly put an end to making night hideous, and serves them about right. Tuesday afternoon the chimney in the calaboose burned out and the pipe from the stove got red, and the boys thought they were going to be burned sure, and yelled like good fellows. It is to be hoped that the arrests may have a tendency to change their ways and make better boys of them. They are going on the downward course very fast, and are getting so their parents have no control over them.

"Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue."

The schoolars of the west side school are contributing their mite to a patriotic cause—that of purchasing the stars and strips to be unfurled from the highest point on the school house on all national holidays. Prof. Schlabach and his assistants are doing a good work in instilling patriotism into the minds of the pupils as well as other necessary knowledge.

Insane.

The following item appears on the docket of the county court and explains itself:
