

PERSONAL MENTION

Of Some Who are Attending the General Convention.

Hon. Waller Young, ex-chairman and delegate ex-officio, was among the visitors. He was called upon and made a short talk to the club Sunday night.

Mr. Young is at the head of a large institute at St. Joseph, Mo., started about a week ago, which he says is prospering and will soon be filled.

Hanley Mansfield, of Freeport, Ill., was among us again, both as delegate and as missionary also. He brought two friends with him, which makes his string 9.

J. Haydon Burns, twelfth president of the club and delegate ex-officio, came in Sunday night. Mr. Burns was one of the most popular presidents who has ever held the chair.

Ed. McCormick, of St. Louis, ex-chairman of the Dwight club and delegate ex-officio, came in on the 4 o'clock train Sunday afternoon. Ed. says his folks didn't want him to come but he made a sneak and came anyhow.

Mr. Ed. Broderick, an old graduate and ex-sergeant-at-arms, is visiting and attending the convention this week. Mr. Broderick is in perfect trim, and says the Keeley cure is "out of sight."

Ex-chairman Morrison, who attended the convention, delivered a rousing address to the club Saturday morning. Col. Morrison spent six weeks in Dwight some two months ago, and made one of the best presiding officers we have ever had.

Lyman H. Lyon, director of the club, came in from Seattle, Washington yesterday morning. He has organized several clubs in Washington, and had to get ready on the jump to get here in time.

Frank B. Happ, of Kankakee, an ex-graduate, made us a pleasant call this morning. Mr. Geo. Zeigler, of Milwaukee, is attending the convention. Mr. Zeigler was accompanied by his daughter during treatment, and the two have many friends in Dwight.

Miss Zeigler rendered the club much assistance in club entertainments.

Col. Nate A. Reed, Jr., editor and manager of the Banner of Gold, made us a pleasant call today. James Wood, of Chicago, called at the STAR AND HERALD office today. He is a graduate of several months standing, and an enthusiastic worker for the cause.

W. D. Ware, of Yates City, came in to attend the convention and make application for a charter for his native city.

Among the visitors who arrived yesterday we noticed the genial face of Amos O. Cole, of Joliet, who was a prominent member during the month of October. Mr. Cole delighted many audiences while here with his violin music and has since secured a position as leader of an orchestra at Joliet.

Chas. Wilson, of Denver, Col., a prominent club member of last October, is among the delegates selected by the Denver club to represent them at the convention. He meets many old associates.

Will A. Dabb, of the Hote Commercial, Chicago, came down with the crowd this noon and will remain during the entire session.

H. W. Davis, of Charleston, Ill., is a delegate from that place. Mr. Davis delivered an excellent address before the club last night, which was appreciated by all present.

Otto Weiss, of Charleston, Ill., is among the delegates. Mr. Weiss took treatment in October.

We notice our old friend Howard Smith, of Bloomington among the representatives present. He will soon open a Keeley institute at some point in this state.

Chas. Eugene Banks, associate editor of the Banner of Gold, and a year old graduate of this place, came down and talked to the club this morning.

Mr. N. A. Fowles, of Chicago, came down to attend the convention this noon. He is looking fine.

Dr. Wm. De H. Reeder, of Chicago, is prominent among the delegates from that village to-day. He reports everything lovely with himself and the world at large.

Mr. O. B. Stanton, of the Livingston, is an interested delegate at the convention.

Several of the Keeley faculty listened to the lecture of Dr. Keeley at the convention last night.

Among those who came down from Chicago and heard Dr. Keeley's lecture last night was O. W. Nash, ex-chairman this club, and present president of the Chicago club. Mr. Nash was a very popular man when here and his election to this office at Chicago is a just tribute.

James A. Heft, of Dixon, Ill., a prominent club member and member of the club orchestra while here, came in Tuesday morning and will represent his club at the convention.

Sculptor Birt is making sketches of prominent delegates for the Banner of Gold.

Sunday's Song Service.

Sunday morning's song service was made doubly interesting by a few encouraging remarks from old graduates having given the treatment a thorough test. After a few songs of praise from the book used by the club, Chairman McNeil took the liberty of calling on Mr. Hoofstetler, a graduate of last July, who responded and made a short address from the platform. His remarks were brief and to the point, and were given the closest attention by all present.

At the conclusion of this address ex-President W. M. Burris, a delegate from the club of Liberty, Mo., was called upon. Mr. Burris made a short talk in which he said he had been instrumental in bringing light and happiness into fifty homes, through the Keeley treatment. Ex-President Burris has been a faithful worker for the club and all present appreciated his remarks to the fullest extent.

Col. Nate A. Reed, Jr., of Chicago, editor-in-chief of the Banner of Gold, also gave the benefit of a few good, wholesome truths, and a bit of his experience. Mr. Reed said he was not in the best of trim for speaking as the paper had occupied his attention for some time previous.

Jim Cooper, the recently elected president of the Bichloride of Gold Club of Hyde Park, made a few remarks, and the service closed with the grand old hymn, "My Country 'tis of Thee."

Tuesday Morning Session.

The Dwight club held their regular session Tuesday morning, Chairman McNeil presiding. Fourteen members were admitted.

After the disposal of routine business Mr. Newton, of Ohio, who graduated last night, talked a few minutes from the platform, several interesting letters were read from old members, among them from Chas. K. Warner, and Dr. A. D. Douglas.

Lagage Pratt was appointed to succeed Mr. Hopley, of Ohio, on the amusement committee.

The club then adjourned in order to call the convention at the regular time.

CRAZED.

The German Girl at Ash's to be Taken to Kankakee.

The poor German girl who gave birth to an illegitimate child a week or ten days ago at the Ash residence on Delaware street, has gone crazy. She took a pair of scissors Thursday and was going to kill her baby and it was found necessary to take the child away from her and call in a couple of men to hold the poor woman and keep her in the house. She was taken to Pontiac Saturday for examination and will undoubtedly be sent to Kankakee. Such is the sad fate of this girl after about a year's residence in America. It is claimed that her mind never has been right and that she was led astray through her ignorance and that a settlement of the case was brought about through misrepresentation and bulldozing, and that the amount paid was but $50, when it should have been $550. Quite a number of the ladies of Dwight have taken an interest in the sad case and with Supervisor Thompson have caused all that was possible to be done for her comfort. The unfortunate being seems to have no friends to interfere in her behalf and had it not been for charitably inclined ladies the poor creature would undoubtedly have died. May be it would have been as well, as her present fate seems to be about as bad. We understand she also made desperate efforts to kill herself.

Banner of Gold.

The initial number of the Banner of Gold arrived in Dwight Sunday morning, and as the name would imply, is devoted partially to the Keeley bichloride of gold treatment, and of course was sought after by the delegates present, gentlemen here for treatment, and our people here generally. The paper will be published every Saturday after the present week, and is well edited and handsome typographically, and its literary contents are excellent. The first page inside cover presents a fine portrait of President Moore, and the second an inside view of Weese's blacksmith shop, where the club was organized. N. A. Reed, Jr., is editor and general manager, and Chas. Eugene Banks and Mrs. Kate Reed, associate editors, and Secretary J. D. Keloe is the correspondent from Dwight. The list of correspondents include some of the most prominent literary lights in the country. The ladies' department is presided over by Mrs. Reed, who is an accomplished lady and entertaining writer. With all the Banner of Gold is a fine literary production and should, and undoubtedly will, receive the financial support it deserves.

Where Do You Get Your Coal?

Do you know? Were you ever in a coal mine? Can you imagine what one looks like? Or what kind of folks the miners are? Or how their families live? After you have read that splendid paper in the March number of Demorest's Family Magazine, "Through the Coal Country with a Camera," and studied the twenty-odd fine pictures which illustrate it, every piece of coal you see will be invested with a new interest; and when you read about "strikes," among the miners, you will better appreciate their true significance. Photographs were taken specially for this article, and have been reproduced in superb style. "German Without a Master," by Prof. A. de Rougemont of Chautauqua University, will be of incalculable value to those who wish to study that useful language; "The Home of a Specialist," furnishes excellent ideas about economizing space, and achieving artistic results without a great expenditure of money; and "How to Ivorize Plaster Casts" tells how to make those pretty ornaments look like ivory. "Next Summer's Garden" is in good season, so that the garden may be planned properly, and a profusion of flowers ensued all through the summer; "Training a Husband" will amuse everybody, and there are other splendid stories, and all the excellent departments for which this magazine is noted are replete with seasonal things. The subscription price to this ideal Family Magazine is only $2 a year. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 E. 14th St., New York.

Northern Lights.

Those who witnessed the strange and peculiar phenomenon in the sky lining the northern horizon Saturday night between the hours of 6:30 and 9 saw something seldom ever before witnessed in this latitude. About 5 o'clock a slight reddish tinge was noticed, which spread and rapidly grew more bright as the shadows of night closed down upon the earth. Darker and darker grew the night, and still brighter the sky, until the whole northern horizon was covered. Suddenly streaks of white shot upward, which rapidly faded and moved upon each other as the red sky changed its position to the west. This continued for about two hours, when the sky gradually faded and resumed the natural color of the night. It was a grand sight, and one seldom seen with such good effect as it was Saturday night, and the many people in this city who spent an hour or so looking at the sky feel amply repaid for so doing.

FIRE.

A Blaze Near the I. I. & I. Depot.

An alarm was sounded at the water works this forenoon. The call was immediately answered by the firemen, and Mr. Lightholder earned the "dollar of our dads" by being first at the hose cart house with his team. He hitched on and went as far as Geo. Flagler's residence, when it was seen there was no use going any farther, as the fire was at the 3-I, and there was no place to attach hose. The members of the companies present, however, went ahead with buckets. The engine house burned down, but the tank, depot and other buildings were saved.

It is not known how the fire started as no one was there at the time. The fire under the boiler had been banked up, but there was a heating stove burning at the time.

The alarm was not sounded right and consequently some of the firemen who could not see what was going on were not there. The alarm was three long whistles, but should have been one long and four short.

He Started too Late.

A few days ago, says the Jacksonville Journal, George Walters was returning home from a trip to Missouri when he entered the little smoking apartment on a C. & A. chair car. He found one occupant, who said he was bound from Mexico, Mo., to Dwight, Ill., and exhibited an empty whisky bottle as proof of the wisdom of the trip, and at the same time he showed a roll of bills amounting to several hundred dollars, which he asked George to carry for him, as he said the conductor was trying to rob him. It was at once evident that the man was suffering with delirium tremens and George tried hard to pacify him and finally succeeded in getting him to put up his money and then he deemed it wise to leave the apartment but as he opened the door the man sprang toward him, at the same time flourishing a wicked looking knife and told him to sit down. George had nothing to do but obey, though he felt his life was in momentary danger of being ended, but there sat the man, with his knife in his hand, and nothing could be done. The crazy man wanted more whisky and at last George assured him that as soon as they reached Louisiana he would get some, and when they arrived at the station he hurried out, followed by the madman with the knife. George Tremblett was in charge of the train and the sufferer was turned over to him and with the help of a brakeman he put him in the smoker and guarded him, but when the watcher's head was turned the poor fellow whipped out his knife and cut a terrible gash in his throat. They at once attempted to secure him, when he jumped through a window and cut his head and face terribly in the attempt. He was taken to Roodhouse and lodged in the calaboose and died the next morning. It was certainly inexcusable on the part of the man's friends to let him start out alone.

Weekly Star & Herald.

The weekly STAR AND HERALD next Saturday will consist of twelve pages and will contain all the portraits and illustrations presented in the daily this week, also most of the local and club reading matter, besides a large amount of miscellaneous matter. It will be a nice paper to send away to your friends. Our subscription price is but $1.25 per year. We will send the Banner of Gold and STAR AND HERALD for $2.50 per year in advance.

Nevada.

Grip! Grip! Grip!

The dance in Nevada was well attended, all report a rousing time.

John Genneth and sister are the guests of their sister, Mrs. H. O'Neil.

Lost, strayed or kidnapped, two of Nevada's most popular young men. When last seen they were about the C. & A. freight. Any information of their whereabouts will be gladly received by their parents.

Daniel Lyons and sister, of Gridley, Ill., are visiting J. Riordan.

Please don't open my letters.

Owen Ralph's sale was well attended and everything sold well.

Mrs. Martin, who has been very low with the grip is slowly improving.

Miss Maggie O'Connell, of Streator, who has been visiting her cousin, Alice Riordan, returned to her home Saturday.

James McGown went to Streator Saturday.

John McGreevy is very low with grip troubles.

Mrs. Campbell is visiting in Cornell.

The Cary pressers are still in town.

Miss Kane, of Fairfield, is the guest of the Misses O'Neil.

Owen Ralph is very sick. Dr. Rabe is attending him.

Miss Minnie Murphy, who has been very low, is rapidly improving under Dr. Palm's treatment.

Dr. J. J. McGrath, of Odell, has three patients in Nevada. The Doc is always welcome in town.

Republican Candidate for Congress.

Geo. W. Patton, of Pontiac, will be a candidate for the republican nomination for congress in this district. We know of no man in that party in Livingston county who is more popular than George. He is a genial, wholesome gentleman, and has lots of friends everywhere. His ability and party fealty are unquestionable. He is a republican all the time, and don't care who knows it, and that's the kind of a man everybody respects. Mr. Patton will have no opposition in this county in the republican ranks to speak of.

Weekly Star & Herald.

The weekly STAR AND HERALD next Saturday will consist of twelve pages and will contain all the portraits and illustrations presented in the daily this week, also most of the local and club reading matter, besides a large amount of miscellaneous matter. The Daily.

THE DAILY STAR AND HERALD has met with success far beyond our expectations. The merchants and business men have come to our support in their usual liberal manner and thereby show that they appreciate enterprise. The delegates and visitors attending the convention and patients have contributed their mite, for all of which we wish to return thanks. Particularly do we wish to return thanks to the Leslie E. Keeley Co., for favors shown us.

Walter M. Weese.

A portrait of Walter M. Weese, "our village blacksmith," is presented to-day. Mr. Weese was the first secretary of the Bichloride of Gold Club, and owner of the shop in which the club was first organized. Mr. Weese is a young man and has been a resident of Dwight for several years, and is well known as a jovial, every day (including Sunday) gentleman. Walter is just the same always, whether in his shop or not and always ready to give and take a joke. He is a genial gentleman and popular in this community.

Speaks For Itself.

The following was received from Joe Reed, the genial editor of the Delavan, Ill., Press. Much obliged Mr. Reed, but we would like to distinguish the color of some of that wealth you speak of.

Mrs. Zimmerman & Dustin, Gentlemen—Enclosed find 20 cts in stamps. Be kind enough to mail me your daily. You are making a great paper out of the S. & H., and I predict much future wealth for your coffers.

Respectfully JOSEPH.

Treatment Hall.

The interior view of the treatment hall of The Leslie E. Keeley Co. on the fifth page with the patients in line is not as good a cut as we expected to present, but will give an idea to those who never witnessed it, of the formation of the patients as they pass the physicians for hypodermic treatment. We expect before long to present another cut showing the lines and the physicians desks and typewriters and book keepers on either side.

Progress and Prosperity.

Wisconsin has within the last few years undergone a wonderful change, and is today one of the most prosperous and productive states in the Union, and what has made it so? Why, because her rich fertile lands are well adapted and produce large crops of wheat, oats, corn, barley, rye, potatoes, hay, fax, hops and tobacco, because her lumber and timber trade exceeds that of any other State in the Rocky Mountains, because of her enormous manufacturing interests, the quantity and value of her live stock, saying nothing of her mining products, fisheries and enormous water powers. This is a desirable state for settlers intending to locate in the Northwest. The Wisconsin Central Lines, as its name would indicate, penetrates the center of the state and through its lines are the choicest farming and timber lands. Among the many thriving cities and towns along this popular route are Burlington, Wausau, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah, Menasha, Waupun, Stevens Point, Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire, New Richmond and Ashland.
