for years—the offer that's made by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's addressed to you, if you have Catarrh. It's a reward of $500, if they can't cure you, no matter how bad your case, or of how long standing—an offer that's made in good faith by responsible men.

Think what it means! Absolute confidence in their Remedy, or they couldn't afford to take the risk. A long record of perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases—or they couldn't have faith in it. It means no more catarrh—or $500. If you fail to be cured, you won't fail to be paid.

But perhaps you won't believe it. Then there's another reason for trying it. Show that you can't be cured, and you'll get $500. It's a plain business offer. The makers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will pay you that amount if they can't cure you. They know that they can—you think that they can't. If they're wrong, you get the cash. If you're wrong, you're rid of catarrh.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Recommended as the Best. IX

LE MARS, Plymouth Co., Ia., May, 1889.

I suffered from temporary sleeplessness from overwork for two years, for which I used Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, and can recommend same as the best medicine for similar troubles.

F. BOHNHORST.

RADOM, Ill., Sept., 1889.

The Rev. P. Sebastian writes: Koenig's Nerve Tonic has produced a wonderful effect here in a case of a girl 9 years of age, who had epileptic fits daily since her first year, sometimes 9 times in one day. Nothing seemed to help her, but after the first spoonful of the Tonic the attacks disappeared forever.

JOLIET, Ill., March 10, 1891.

Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic has been used for the past 12 years with satisfactory results by our Sisters troubled with nervousness.

HE TALKS TO MANY CURIOUS CROWDS.

Thousands Cheer the New York Man Who Wants to Be President—His Praise for Democracy and Denunciation of Republicans Applauded.

Hill's Southern Tour.

At Roanoke, Va., Senator Hill was given a warm welcome. His train was met twenty miles out from Roanoke by a delegation of citizens, who urged him to make a speech during the ten minutes which the train was to stop. Several thousand persons gathered about the depot and loudly cheered the noted New York politician upon his appearance. Senator Hill was introduced to the citizens of Roanoke by the Hon. H. S. Trout, the chairman of the delegation, and, after the cheers had somewhat subsided, the Senator spoke.

A committee representing the capital of Mississippi met Senator Hill at Meridian and escorted him to Jackson. The members of this committee were R. H. Henry, editor of the State Ledger; Senators Fox, Stephens, and Harrison, and Representatives Street and Vardaman. At Jackson an immense crowd was assembled, and Gov. Stone met the Senator and welcomed him to the State amid the cheers of 5,000 Mississippians. Senator Hill became the guest of Gov. Stone during his stay in Jackson, and a reception was held at the Executive Mansion, where the Senator shook hands with the stream of visitors for over an hour. The Legislature met in joint session in the hall of the House of Representatives, with Lieut. Gov. Scott and Speaker Street as the joint presiding officers. The galleries and lobbies were crowded to the utmost and loud cheers greeted the appearance of the guest of Mississippi as Senator Hill entered the hall in company with Gov. Stone. Here the Senator spoke for nearly one hour.

At Birmingham, Ala., incoming trains brought enthusiastic Democrats. An escort, consisting of prominent Democrats, had met Senator Hill at Jackson, and accompanied him over the State line to Birmingham. It was 3:30 a. m. when the train rolled into the Birmingham station, but a large crowd had already assembled, and the Senator was loudly cheered as he and his party passed to the carriages which conveyed the visitors to the hotels. The visiting party became the guests of the Hill Club of Birmingham, and were the object of true Southern hospitality. Col. Hewitt, the President of the Hill Club of Birmingham, introduced the Senator, who spoke to at least 3,000 people.

On the trip from Birmingham to Atlanta the Senator was greeted at every stop by hundreds of enthusiastic admirers.

DR. SCUDDER'S CASE.

A Chicago Crime Rivalling in Interest the Cronin Mystery.

Chicago special: Every day brings to light some new and startling fact in connection with the Scudder-Dunton tragedy. What appeared at first to be a very ordinary murder, growing out of a commonplace family quarrel, is fast developing into a sensational crime, beside which the bloody Cronin conspiracy is dwarfed. If one-half the statements which are now alleged can be sustained in court, Dr. Scudder is either a crafty, scheming maniac or the most brutal and bloodthirsty villain that ever walked the streets of Chicago. His friends are trying hard to prove that he is crazy—the proof of many things so strong that they do not hope for acquittal on any other ground. Dr. Scudder is the son of the ex-pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church, and is a skilled and successful practitioner.

Last September he married Dora Dunton, the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Dunton, owners of the Spirit of the Turf, in this city. Mrs. Dunton, although an invalid, and near to death with a bad case of tumor, was the active manager of the paper and all the property, valued at $125,000, stood in her name. The securing of this property is the alleged motive for Dr. Scudder's crime. Mr. and Mrs. Dunton had no direct heirs, and Mrs. Dunton, who had been told by her physicians that she could not live six months more, made a will, leaving the estate to her husband and at his death to Dr. Scudder's wife. Knowing that his mother-in-law could live but a little while, Dr. Scudder acted about February 18 last to poison Mr. Dunton, so as to bring the property directly into his control at Mrs. Dunton's death. By some providential interference the dose, while it made Mr. Dunton deathly sick, did not have a fatal effect. Finding that his plan in this direction had failed, Dr. Scudder, on the pretext of having some small bequests made to other members of the family, got Mrs. Dunton to consent to make a new will in which her husband was again the principal beneficiary. He had the will carefully drawn and Mrs. Dunton, perfectly pleased with the changes that she signed it at once, the witnesses being Dr. Scudder himself, his 14-year-old daughter and a youthful neice of Mrs. Dunton's. Going down stairs soon after Dr. Scudder called the two girls and told them they had signed the will in the wrong place and must write their names again, child-like, they thought nothing of this, and thus Dr. Scudder secured their signatures as witnesses to a forged will which he "rung in" on them, and by which his wife was made the sole legatee of the Dunton fortune. This was on Saturday, Feb. 20. It was now to the Doctor's interest to get Mrs. Dunton out of the way as soon as possible lest the children should chance to mention the "mistake" in signing the will and thus arouse suspicion. The next day, Sunday, Feb. 21, he went to the Dunton home, on Aldine Square, and beat Mrs. Dunton's brains out
