CITIZENS' TICKET.

The Meeting at the Town House Thursday Night Nominates a Ticket.

At the meeting Thursday night called to nominate a ticket for the village election the following business was transacted: Mr. Fox read a letter from Lawyer Terry, which stated that the assessment and sewerage ordinances were both knocked out by Judge Wallace. Mr. Fox then read the call for the caucus. Mr. Fox was elected chairman, and James Kelagher, secretary. Nominations then being in order, a candidate for president of the village board was the first looked for. Mr. Henry Fox was nominated by acclamation.

The following additions to the tickets were made by acclamation: Three trustees for two years—James Kelagher, E. T. Miller and John Stewart, with Andrew Doherty for clerk. Mr. Fox was then asked for his views on the sewerage question. In substance he made the following statement: "First," he said, "let me state, if I am elected (which I don't think I will be), there will be no license for the coming year. The sewerage shall extend, taking Prairie and Mazon avenues as the centre, two blocks west, north and south, and east as far as the creek; parties shall drain water into the sewerage. If you will satisfy me that the Keeley Co. will keep from 600 to 800 patients here all the time we will give them the improvements." But he didn't believe in spending $100,000 for the benefit of the citizens alone. "Let the Keeley Co. lend the town the money to do this with, the same as other men have at other places, the town giving them 3 per cent interest for the use of the money." He wanted hydrants in every other block as far out as was thickly settled. The present waterworks did not look like a very good thing. Mr. Kelagher, also made a few remarks in which he stated that he was in favor of sewerage and other improvements, as they were able to make them. Mr. Fox was asked about the fixing up of the streets. He stated that he was in for fixing them up, the business men standing the largest part of the cost.

The question of a name for the ticket rested in several being offered, among them being "Regulators'" and "Citizens'" the latter being adopted. The meeting then adjourned to give Mr. Kelagher an opportunity of showing those present how to fix up their ballots.

Turned Up All Right. James Glen, the young man who disappeared from his brother's residence on Root street in Chicago, has turned up at his home in Campus all right. Glen went to Chicago from his home to look for work, but was unsuccessful in securing a position at anything. He became discouraged, and after about three weeks in Chicago left for New York to visit his uncle, but said nothing to anyone as to where he was going. His brother, becoming alarmed at his disappearance, asked the police to assist in locating him. When young Glen got tired of visiting his uncle he returned to his home in Campus, and is at present all right.

A Boon to Mankind. Of the success of a Milwaukee man's efforts at book writing, the Chicago Tribune says: "A graphically-written, earnest little book, 'The Perfect Keeley Cure,' by C. S. Clark, city editor of the Milwaukee Journal, is said to have been the means of leading more than 100 victims of inebriety to the path of reform by way of Dwight."

A Dislocated Neck. George Ruckelshausen, a young German boy living about six miles north west of this city, had his neck dislocated while at play last Monday week. Mention was made of the accident in last week's issue of the STAR AND HERALD, but at that time it was impossible to gain all the particulars. Dr. Rabe was called and found the neck dislocated, but not broken. Afterwards Dr. Conway was called and devised a brace for the support of the boy's head. It was impossible for the physicians to find out just exactly how the accident occurred, but there is no doubt of the fact that it was caused by violence. Dr. Conway informs us that it is simply impossible for such an accident to occur unless violence was used. There are strong hopes of the boy's ultimate recovery, but at present nothing is certain as to that. Should he recover he will have to wear the brace supporting his head for the rest of his life.

Be Wisely Guided. We received a very pleasant call Saturday morning from Mr. W. S. Shepard, secretary and treasurer of the Standard Guide Co., of Chicago. This is the company of which Mr. John J. Flinn is president. Mr. Shepard presented us with the compliments of Mr. Flinn, a copy of an elegant and valuable work entitled "The Standard Guide to Chicago for the Year 1892." It is a handsomely bound volume, filled with fine half-tone illustrations of business houses and handsome residences and fine street scenes. In all it is the finest work of the kind that has ever been published.

The work also contains some handsome views taken in Dwight—that of about 300 patients "waiting for the train," the Keeley Co. laboratory and several inside views of the office and one of the hypodermic treatment. It also devotes about twenty pages to the Leslie E. Keeley Co., and other lesser Dwight enterprises. We advise anyone wishing to know anything and everything about Chicago to buy the Guide.
