

LIFE AT THE CAPITAL. HOW THE PRESIDENT SPENDS SUNDAY.

The Church of the Covenant and Its Pastor - A Brief Account of What Occupies a Congressman's Working Hours - Some Things His Constituents Desire to Know.

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON correspondent. The President's church is always the center of attention in Washington Sunday mornings, and the President at church is the center of attention in the city.

Washington Letter. The President goes to church very much as other people do. About 10:45 the carriage from the White House arrives at the church.

The President and his family always enter at the side door. The main entrance is reserved for the President and his family.

WHERE THE PRESIDENT WORSHIPS. There is usually a little crowd of people who know this habit of the President's.

The income of the Church of the Covenant is a very handsome sum. The news bring a rental of over $25,000 per annum for each person occupying them.

One day taken apart from all the rest in the existence of a Congressman is not apt to be marked by great adventures or uninvited by an exciting incident.

Your correspondent asked one of the oldest members of the House to keep a record for him of one day of Congressional life. This is it in brief.

They tone up the weak stomach and build up the flagging energy. Buy your Windmill direct from factory at wholesale prices.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED. With Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the hair, and burn off.

The latest statistics tell us that out of London's 4,000,000 or 5,000,000 of people more than 300,000 earn less than three shillings a day per family.

The Lunas are strained and racked by a persistent cough, the general strength wasted, and an incurable complaint often established thereby.

BRADY'S PILLS are not a new remedy. They have been used in Europe for fifty years.

REVENGE is the only debt which it is wrong to pay.

Earthquake-Proof. In all countries where earthquakes are of common occurrence the art of constructing buildings in such a way as to resist the effect of the shocks has been studied.

Professor John Milne, one of the foremost authorities on the subject of earthquakes, studied the effects of this great shock, which destroyed over 40,000 houses.

Some of the Japanese castles and temples escaped, though situated within the district where the shock was most destructive.

Probably a Japanese would consider one of our tornadoes as a thing far more to be dreaded than the earthquake of his native country.

Four or five months ago one of the hostlers employed at the stable of Charles D. Nichols of Pawtucket noticed that one of the handsome pair of cream geldings acted a little lame.

It is better than good. "Leecher" fully verified the above statement of Mr. Clapp, whom I have known 30 years.

THE COST IS THE SAME. HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. It is better than good.
