"EVERY WORD TRUE"

SO SAYS THE WRITER OF THIS FAMOUS LETTER.

He Relates His Statements, Produces Additional Proof and Clearly Defines His Position.

[New York Sun.]

It would be difficult to measure the interest which was excited by the letter which the publisher of Dr. R. A. Gunn, which appeared in the papers yesterday, has occasioned. The prominence of the letter, both in its nature and in its subject, and the fact that it really talks of the town.

I called upon Dr. Gunn at his residence, No. 124 West Forty-seventh street, yesterday afternoon. I found the reception room crowded, and was only after an hour's waiting that I succeeded in obtaining an interview.

Dr. Gunn is a distinguished-looking man, and impressed me by his earnestness, bearing and air of sincerity. I took the seat he courteously offered me, and said: "Are you aware, Doctor, of the commotion your letter has caused?"

Dr. Gunn smiled and replied: "The contents of the ordinary usage comment. It is not recognized as a scientific discovery to induce and control by medicinal means other than those in the Materia Medica. History is full of instances of scientific discoveries which have been discovered and have been decried, and yet these same discoveries are blessing the world to-day.

I hope I have not disappointed you, as I have to my convictions, and that is why I so openly and unhesitatingly declare Warner's Safe Cure as the greatest discovery for the cure of disease which has been discovered in the history of the medical profession."

I laid my question with the earnestness of the Doctor, and saw that he meant every word that he said.

"How long have you known of this remedy, Doctor?" I asked.

"Nearly ten years," he replied. "My attention was originally called to the Safe Cure by a serious case of Bright's disease, which was cured by the use of your patient recovered. I have tried it in other cases with the same success, and my original faith in its power has been confirmed. I have seen patients recover from inflammation of the bladder, gravel, and Bright's disease when all other treatments had failed, and I have found it especially efficient in all female troubles."

"Can you specify any particular cases, Doctor?" I asked.

"That is a delicate thing to do," the Doctor replied; "but, as I always keep a written record of my cases, I can accommodate you."

Thereupon the Doctor opened his desk and produced his record book. Turning over the pages, he showed me the following case:

"Here is a case of a gentleman who was a great sufferer from inflammation of the bladder of long standing. He had consulted numerous physicians, and all had failed, and I have found it especially efficient in all female troubles."

"Can you specify any particular cases, Doctor?" I asked.

"That is a delicate thing to do," the Doctor replied; "but, as I always keep a written record of my cases, I can accommodate you."

"Here is another case. It is that of a gentleman who had frequent attacks of the bladder, and was cured by the use of your patient recovered. I have tried it in other cases with the same success, and my original faith in its power has been confirmed. I have seen patients recover from inflammation of the bladder, gravel, and Bright's disease when all other treatments had failed, and I have found it especially efficient in all female troubles."

THE HUMAN FAMILY

And Its Greatest Need.

The human race is in the greatest need of a good blood purifier. There are about 2,400 disorders incident to the human frame, the large majority arising from the impurities which clog the blood. Scrofula, a disease as old as antiquity, has been inherited by generation after generation, and manifests itself to-day in violent and virtually incurable forms. If we are so fortunate as to escape hereditary impurities in the blood, we may contract disease from the germs in the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink.

In Hood's Sarsaparilla is found the medicine for all the remarkable and incurable cures as its loudest praise. No remedy has ever had so marked success, no medicine was ever accorded so great public patronage. Scrofula in its severest forms has yielded to its potent powers; blood poisoning and salt rashes and many other diseases have been permanently cured by it. It is unquestionably the best Spring Medicine and blood purifier. Be sure to get Hood's.

FROM SLEEP TO DEATH.

FRIGHTFUL WRECK OF A TRANS-CONTINENTAL EXPRESS.

Seven Persons Killed and Twenty-five More Injured Near Reverse—Only Meager Remains Remained of a Heavy Rain Cut Off All Communication.

"And the Floods Came," in the midst of a frightful storm, the east-bound transcontinental express on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, filled with human beings wrapped in slumber, plunged through a trestle weakened by rain to death at about 1:45 Thursday morning, between Reverse and Mead in Missouri, about 265 miles from Mead in Chicago.

It was a frightful night, the rain fell as it never fell before, and only an occasional flash of lightning could be seen in the gloom. The great express had come through from San Francisco, Los Angeles and Mexico, to Kansas City on time. On arriving at Kansas City at 4:40 Wednesday afternoon orders were received to hold it until 6:40, and run to Chicago on the time of the Denver limited, which was very late. At 6:40 the train, which was composed of a passenger car, baggage car, smoker, chair car, tourist sleeper, and two Pullman coaches, commenced its run to Chicago. All went well until a pile and trestle bridge over the Fox River near Reverse was reached. This bridge was about 300 feet long and 40 feet high. At 7:30 hours before the transcontinental express struck the bridge a heavy freight train passed over it in safety, but the pouring rain had swollen the raging torrent which rushed beneath the rails to a miniature Niagara, which finally carried away the bridge over the river, yet left it standing and, so far as the engineer on the locomotive could see, all right.

With wheels turning slowly for safety's sake, for the storm was terrific, the train crawled slowly on the bridge. The engine, the baggage car, the smoker, chair car, tourist sleeper, and two Pullman coaches, commenced its run to Chicago. ### The Sworn Tormentors of the Inquisition.

What cared they for the groans of the victim as he lay stretched upon the rack? Yet people whose hearts are neither as hard as the nether millstone, nor whose fortitude is less courageous, often have no pity on themselves—voluntarily incur life-long torture by neglect, Rheumatism, the most agonizing and obstinate of complaints, is, perhaps, more frequently neglected in its incipient stage than any other of the extraordinary twinges being set down to the credit of a cold in the bones which will pass away of itself. Singular febrile condition! Headache! Stomach Bitters is a potent safeguard against the terrible throes of the insidious and dangerous malady—dear because of its promptness to attack the heart, the seat of life. Neuralgia is also effectively counteracted and relieved by the Bitters. Malaria, kidney complaints, debility, indigestion, biliousness, in gripes, colic of appetite and the inability to sleep are among the complaints eradicable with this general corrective.

Mr. Joseph Hennerich,

An old soldier, living at No. 23 East 14th Street, New York City, a well-known and thoroughly reliable man, writes us voluntarily an account of his remarkable cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which illustrates the great value of this medicine as a thorough blood purifier and strength giver. In 1882, at the battle of Fair Oaks, he was stricken with typhoid fever, and after a long struggle in hospital, lasting several weeks, he was discharged as incurable. Doctors said he had consumption, that both his lungs were affected, and he could not live long. But a comrade urged him to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before he had finished one bottle his cough began to get less, the choking sensation left, and night sweats grew less and less. He took a second bottle, and in good general health. He takes Hood's Sarsaparilla as a general blood purifier and Spring Medicine, and cordially recommends it, especially to his comrades in the G. A. R., of which he has been a member for twenty years. Remember.
