Please bear in mind that there is no necessity of sending any printing out side of Dwight to be done. Its the duty of every man to stand by his home and his home institutions. Mr. Rhode, who only about two weeks ago opened a tailor shop over Kern Bros. store, had the misfortune to be robbed last Saturday night. The doors were broken in and about $70 worth stolen.

Any newspaper that gives support to the Keeley cure and the Keeley League is the official organ, so the STAR AND HERALD is the official organ. We don't care anything about it, but as it depends on supporting the cure and league, we can't help it. See? D. C. MURRAY & Co., 309 Main St. Sreator, Ill.

Have you ever been to one of Murray's openings? People who have once attended wouldn't miss them for a good deal. We claim that the exhibit we make (for the amount of space we have) is equal to anything attempted in the largest metropolitan cities of the world. This season we will make a better display than ever before. Our stock is much larger, the assortment is more varied and many new lines of goods have been added. Our FALL OPENING will occur on Thursday, the 22ND OF SEPTEMBER and continue during the remainder of the month. The newest fashions will be exhibited in dress good, dressmaking, millinery and cloaks. In connection with this opening we will have a "Special Sale" throughout the store and prices will be so low it will pay you to come. Let us understand each other. We do NOT PAY your railroad fare. Ours is a "cash store," "a one price store." WE CANNOT NOT PAY YOUR FARE AND SELL AS CHEAP AS WE CAN GUARANTEE our prices to be the lowest in the United States and everything strictly as represented. Read each item carefully and coming to this sale you will be convinced as the people of Sreator have, that by purchasing your goods at Murray's cash store, your money goes further and buys more than you can anywhere else.

NOTE—Opening and sale begins Thursday, 22nd inst.

School. The members still increase. The total enrollment is 400. "There is always room for one more," so if any have not yet entered school who should be there, let them start at once and they will be provided for. Several pupils have been out of school this week because of vaccination. That difficulty will soon pass away and all will be able to attend regularly.

The school is now thoroughly arranged and is open for visitors at any time. Oftentimes people let the whole school year pass by without even inquiring how their children are getting along. They know very little of how hard the teacher is laboring all day and late at night to aid these little men and women in their growth. All they know of how the work is conducted at school is what the children tell them. Often teachers do things or have the pupils do things that the children cannot comprehend or see the reason for it. They tell it at home as they see it and the parent fails to get the proper conception of it. The teacher is at once criticised and trouble soon begins, while a short visit at the school would not only prevent the trouble, but would, in many cases, cause a closer union between parent and teacher. It is hoped that no patron of the Dwight School will let this year pass without visiting the school and seeing for himself what is done there. If it is impossible to visit the school, the teacher will be glad to get acquainted with them and receive any suggestions or answer any questions about their children. A successful school must be accompanied by the co-operation of both parent and teacher.

The method used in grading pupils this year is one that can hardly fail to give satisfaction. Pupils will be marked upon their daily work. If all lessons are good every day, their "class record" will show it. This record will count one half in making up the monthly grade. The examination at the end of the month will count the other half. The average of the monthly grades taken with the term examination, will make the term grade. The term grades will be taken with the final examination, in making up the final grade. In keeping the class record, an absence will be counted just the same as a failure to get a lesson, so it is necessary that every pupil be present every day and have all of every lesson.

At a recent meeting of the School Board, it was found necessary to engage another teacher. There are 120 pupils enrolled in the two primary rooms, so in order to do just and proper work it was found necessary to reduce the numbers to each teacher. A room has been secured and is being fitted up for occupancy. This new department will not be ready for use before Monday the 29th.

For Sale. A good second-hand leather top buggy. Enquire at 213 East Mazon ave, or at this office. Sewer Trial. The sewer trial is on this week at Pontiac, and quite a number of witnesses from Dwight are in attendance. It will not be decided before next week.

The Shoot. The shooting contest during the week was well attended and a good time enjoyed. We did not hear the winners.

Obituary of Mrs. J. P. Weagley.

Mrs. Eleanor Weagley was the daughter of Christopher and Jane Hilliard, and was born in Hagerstown, Maryland, June 1, 1810. She was married to John P. Weagley in Hagerstown, Washington county, Md., the 27th day of March, 1832. They came from the east to St. Louis, Mo., in 1838, and lived there three years, when they removed to Perry, Pike county, Ill., and lived there until they came to Griggsville, and lived here for twenty-three years, removing to Dwight the spring of 1874, where she lived until the time of her death, which occurred August 28, 1892. She was converted when she was fourteen years old in Fredericktown, Md., and united with the Methodist Episcopal church, of which she has ever since been a faithful and consistent member. Her influence and example in the family and in social and church life has always been for good. She was especially kind and helpful to the poor. They, with her highly respected family, now rise up to call her blessed.

She was the mother of ten children. Her husband and three of the children—two in infancy, and Mrs. David McWilliams, a few years ago—preceded her to the spirit world.

During her last illness she often sang, "On Jordan's Stormy Banks I Stand" and "Redeeming Love Has Been My Theme and Shall Be Till I Die." When too weak to sing these and other favorite hymns, she would repeat the words, Shedd in the triumphs of a living and ever blessed faith.

A funeral sermon was preached at Dwight, but her remains were brought to Griggsville for interment. Suitable services were conducted at the residence of Mrs. E. J. Farrand, and at the grave by Rev. J. W. Wohlhart, pastor of the M. E. church.

"Life's race well run, Life's work well done, Life's crown will follow, And now she rests." Griggsville, Ill., Sept. 10, 1892.

Lecture. The lecture, "The Trial and Execution of Christ," at the Congregational church Sunday (to-morrow) night at 8 p. m. Below will be found a press notice of the lecture:

"The Trial and Execution of Christ" was the theme of a most interesting and impressive lecture by Hon. W. C. Arnold last Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church. The house was crowded to its fullest capacity. The lecture was a story of the crucifixion told with reference to the legal questions involved in the condemnation of Christ. It abounded in literary beauties, and gave ample evidence of wide reading and research on the part of Mr. Arnold. The lecture shows in a convincing way the relation of modern jurisprudence to ancient Hebrew law. Trial by jury, the right of fair trial and free speech, were all traced to Jewish origin. The lecture also demonstrated the utter illegality of the trial of Christ, even as tested by Jewish law. The trial took place in the night, when it could only occur lawfully in the daytime. It was followed by an immediate condemnation and execution. When their own laws ordered that an execution could not take place until three days after conviction, Mr. Arnold made effective use of the death of Christ as being the means of offering to the world the light and help that all men need. Without Christ there is no help for the hopeless, and death without its promises, is the blackest of tragedies. The lecture closed with an impressive statement of the hope of immortality as related to the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Altogether it was a most admirable and elevating address. Everyone who heard it were delighted, and many were the warm words of approval spoken by those who heard it.—Huron Herald Democrat.

Mr. Arnold's note to the city and is a very interesting gentleman, and none should miss this opportunity. Republican Rally. The committee under whose charge the republican rally was last Saturday certainly worked against odds so large that they were not in it to any great extent. The rally had been advertised to a great extent and bid fair to be a large one, but Saturday morning opened very unfavorably and it rained most of the forenoon. Rev. J. M. Green, of DeKalb, was the orator in the afternoon, and spoke enthusiastically to a fair audience in West park.

Hon. A. J. Lester, of Springfield, arrived on the afternoon train and was ready to assist in organizing a club and address the people in the evening, but the elements were against it. Rain commenced about 6:30 and continued to pour until nearly morning. The committee decided that it was better to postpone the meeting until some future time, probably about the 26th or 27th.

Hon. H. H. McDowell, candidate for state's attorney, followed Mr. Green in the afternoon in a good republican speech. Hon. G. W. Patton, of Pontiac, was present to speak in the evening. Ed. Shroyer, candidate for circuit clerk, was present and shook hands with all.

Hon. R. C. Straight, of Fairbury; Bailey Gowen, of Sibley; and the venerable John Bodley, of Lodiemia; James Hunter, of Odell, and other prominent republicans were present. J. C. Lewis presided at the afternoon meeting.

We noticed quite a number of prominent democrats present, among whom was Austin Gibbons, candidate for the state board of equalization. Our News Boys. The bright little fellows that banded the STAR AND HERALD during the convention, Walter Koehler, Rolly Bovirk, Tony Kundsén, Clyde Zimmerman and Charlie Hutchinson deserve name mention. They are all bright, industrious, honest little fellows and ambitious to make money, and none of them made less than $1 after school, and some of them as high as $1.50. The little fellows worked hard and deserve all they made, and we wish we had work for them all the time.

New Grocery. E. E. Fenn & Co. have purchased the Harrison grocery store on Prairie avenue and will move in a few days to the second store from Franklin street in Kepplinger block. They are all bright, industrious, honest little fellows and ambitious to make money, and none of them made less than $1 after school, and some of them as high as $1.50. The little fellows worked hard and deserve all they made, and we wish we had work for them all the time.

Big Blaze.

About 8:30 o'clock Friday night, the waterworks whistle announced in unerring blasts, that a fire had broken out in our midst. It proved to be a large barn belonging to Fred Steffin in the east part of town at the end of Delaware street. Last October a large hay stack at the same place caught fire and was destroyed and came near reaching the buildings. How the fire started Friday night no one knows, and it took a great deal as if some miscreant had it in for Mr. Steffin. Hanging is too good for such a rascal.

The barn contained about thirty tons of hay, and farming implements, and other articles and two valuable horses. The latter were saved. The grainery, which caught soon after the fire started, Mr. Steffin informs us, contained 1300 bushels of corn and 1000 bushels of oats. Part of this was saved but badly damaged. The loss is probably $3,000 with only $1,500 insurance.

The fire company turned out promptly and rendered heroic services. They labored for hours saving the surrounding buildings, and quite a number were scorched, and stood so close that it was necessary to keep them drenched with water to keep their clothes from catching fire.

Mr. Steffin informs us that it was impossible for a fire to start there unless some one got it. He discovered it just as it started, but as everything was dry it burned so quickly it was all he could do alone to get the horses out.

Mr. Steffin feels very thankful to the fire department and others who so kindly assisted him in his hour of need.

The K. P. Dance. The K. P. dance and reception was well attended. The new hall looked very nice. The music and calling was all that could be desired, and everybody present enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Dissolution Notice. The firm of Liggett & Fenn has this day dissolved partnership. Mr. Elmer Fenn retiring and Mr. Fred Liggett continuing the business at the same stand. All accounts of the firm will be settled by Mr. Liggett at the store. FRED LIGGETT, ELMER FENN, September 1, 1892.

Card of Thanks. We feel very grateful to the Dwight fire department and the many friends who so cheerfully rendered assistance in stopping what might have been a very disastrous fire on last Friday evening. Very respectfully, D. F. CHARTON, G. E. PETTETT, F. A. STEFFIN.

The Races. The races were postponed until next Thursday, when the same purses will be offered, and it is safe to say there will be a large crowd present.

ITEMS OF INTEREST Picked Up at the Club Rooms and Various Parts of the City. The Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas and other delegations arrived Tuesday morning.

The grand total membership of the Dwight Club up to Monday, September 12, was 4,168. Ex-Chairman W. E. Long, the Arkansas traveler, departed last Friday for his home at Fayetteville, Ark.

"Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness," is the motto inscribed on the banner of the Keeley Club at Cleveland, Ohio, organized Aug. 12, 1892.

It is confidently expected that four hundred clubs will be represented in the National Convention of the Keeley League when it convenes in Cincinnati next fall.

The thanks of the convention Thursday morning were tendered to John W. Dereen for his faithful services as temporary secretary and treasurer of the National Club.

Col. Harry Insley, of Colorado Springs, is in command of the Colorado delegation. There were nine old soldiers in uniform in the ranks. Col. Harry looks well and the Colorado climate must agree with him as he is getting fleshy.

John H. Gillespie, the lion-voiced orator from Prohibition Iowa, makes a splendid reading clerk, and when he calls the roll of states he can be distinctly heard by the citizens of Odell, Gardner and Sreator.

The Dwight club did not hold their weekly election for president and vice-president at its morning session Thursday, but postponed the election until Friday on account of the Illinois State League desiring to use the club hall.

Dr. Milton R. Keeley, attended a special meeting of the club in Bloomington Monday night and listened to an able address made by Judge Lambert, of Peoria. Dr. Keeley also made the club a neat little speech and made the club treasury a cash donation.

Judge W. H. Dodge, of Chicago, an ex-chairman of the Dwight club, and who graduated last March, was present at the club meeting Friday morning, and made the members a splendid address. The Judge is just recovering from a sixteen weeks' siege of sickness and is still very weak, but his talk aroused considerable enthusiasm in all who had the pleasure of listening to him. He remained in Dwight over Sunday, regretting that a contemplated trip to his old home in the New England States would prevent his remaining in Dwight during the sessions of National and State Conventions this week.

Much of the credit for the tasteful decorations of the interior of the opera house should be credited to the Misses Mamie Birtwhistle and Edna Tobey, of the laboratory force, who worked hard and diligently to make the ornamentation of the house so beautiful and attractive, that every one entering the house is struck with the effect and are led to exclaim, "Isn't it just to beautiful for anything, just awfully lovely," etc., etc.

On the front of the opera house gallery in prominent positions, hang the names of five men who have a world-wide reputation as benefactors of the human race, and prominent among them is the name Keeley, that will be handed down to future generations as the noblest benefactor of them all and one who has done more to reclaim fallen humanity, and make happy homes than anyone else in the wide world. Jenner, Pasteur, Keeley, Koch and Harvey, are the names inscribed upon the walls.

Hon. John V. Farwell, upon motion of reading clerk John H. Gillespie, of Burlington, was unanimously elected an honorary member of the Keeley League at Wednesday morning's session of the National Convention. Mr. Farwell stepped to the front and was greeted with tumultuous applause, and in a few well chosen words he thanked the convention for the honor done him, and in the course of his remarks he eulogized Dr. Leslie E. Keeley and his treatment for inebriety very highly. Judge W. C. Arnold, of Huron, South Dakota, offered a motion that a rising vote of thanks be tendered to Mr. Farwell.

A very pleasant surprise was perpetrated upon Dr. R. Broughton at the treatment hall Friday night at 8:30 o'clock, when Judge W. C. Arnold, of Huron, South Dakota, in behalf of some fifteen members of his class, in a neat little speech presented the highly esteemed doctor with an elegant reclining chair. The doctor was almost overcome with surprise but managed to articulate his thanks in a pleasant manner. Dr. Broughton has always been a universal favorite with the patients with whom he has been brought in close contact during his sojourn in Dwight, and they always take particular delight in springing surprises upon him.

A well-bestowed compliment was paid to Miss Stella Flagler by the Club Monday morning upon motion of Colonel LeGage Pratt, of Chicago, whereby she was made an honorary member of the Dwight B. C. of G. C. and the badge of the society presented to her. Miss Flagler has always been very kind in assisting the club at their weekly entertainments and in officiating at the piano at the Sunday morning song services. There are several other ladies in Dwight, however, who are entitled to the same compliment for assistance rendered the Club at their regular entertainments, and in justice to these young ladies it would only be proper that they should be remembered by the Club at some of their future meetings.

The attendance at the Club Monday morning was unusually large, and a very interesting meeting was held. Speeches were made by Dr. Baxter, of Kentucky, who graduated from Dwight about one year ago and who is now here for the purpose of attending the convention. Dr. Baxter remarked that seventeen months ago he arrived in Dwight a mental and physical wreck, but to day he is able to look the whole world in the face and say, "I am a sober man." His words were full of encouragement for all the patients who are now in line. Ex-Chairman Vander Voort, of New York, who graduated one year ago, was then called to the platform. He said that it afforded him a real pleasure to visit Dwight again, for in all this wide world there was but one Dwight, and he very often found himself thinking of it and the wonderful change that had been made in his career by a few weeks' stay here. Last December he had the pleasure of organizing a B. C. of G. C. at White Plains, N. Y., and that club now had a membership of fully 1000 members. His confidence in the Keeley treatment and its efficacy increases every day.

Friday's Entertainment. An impromptu literary and musical entertainment was arranged Thursday afternoon to take place in the opera house that evening. The word was soon passed around, and when it came time to commence the entertainment the opera house was crowded to the doors with as fine an audience as ever assembled in Dwight. The following was the programme carried out. Judge W. C. Arnold presiding as master of ceremonies:

Male Quartette Messrs. Hyde, McNeill, Ross and Vooris. Mr. Porter, of Chicago Address..... Dr. Baxter, of Kentucky Song..... Mrs. Ida Dalton Cole Song..... Miss M. Kelly, of Pittsburg Song..... Misses Adams, Fenn, Barr, Lower, Stella Flagler, pianist.

Major S. E. Moore, Pittsburg Address..... John V. Farwell, Chicago Addressed in Dwight..... W. S. Arnold, Iowa Solo..... Miss Mabel Howe Recitation..... Albert E. Hyde Recitation..... The addresses were all good and the speakers were frequently applauded, but the impromptu remarks made by Mrs. Cole were particularly fine, and this charming little wife and mother made a warm friend of everyone who had the pleasure of listening to her. Mrs. Cole did her subject in justice and spoke in a clear voice. Her thoughts and manner of expression were worthy of commendation. The vocal quartette by the ladies was extremely well rendered. The solo by Miss Hoge was most charmingly rendered. The recitation, "Banty Tin," given by Mr. Hyde was extremely fine. The entertainment was a pleasant, gratifying success in every particular.
