

KEELEY LEAGUE.

The Great Convention Adjourns to Meet in Cincinnati.

Harmony Prevails Throughout.

The convention assembled at 10 o'clock Thursday, President Moore in the chair. The committee on constitution reported and the report was accepted. As the other committees were not ready Gillispie, of Iowa, made a motion that Hon. John V. Farwell, of Chicago, be made an honorary member of the Keeley League. It was carried unanimously. Mr. Farwell was called for and made a fine speech, returning his thanks. He said he thought the Keeley treatment was a fraud at first, but was now convinced that it was almost supernatural.

A resolution was carried thanking Secretary Dereen for his services.

Mr. Stanton, of the Board of Control of the Dwight club, reported. His report was accepted.

A letter of regret was announced from Moses P. Handy, of the world's fair promotion bureau. The convention then proceeded to the election of officers as follows:

President, S. E. Moore, re-elected by acclamation.

First Vice-President, Judge Mahaly, of Denver, by acclamation.

Second Vice-President, A. W. Hall, of New York, by acclamation.

The following named gentlemen were elected Board of Directors unanimously:

Capt. A. M. Mattox, of Ohio. H. B. Elliott, of Kentucky. John J. Flinn, of Chicago. Waller Young, of Missouri. John A. Stratton, of Kentucky. The Board of Directors immediately held a meeting and recommended J. M. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, for secretary of the Keeley League, who was elected. J. W. Dereen will remain the secretary of the Dwight Club.

The committee on resolutions reported and the convention adjourned soon after.

National Keeley League, at Cincinnati in 1893.

Dwight has had the honor of entertaining, for the second time, as brainy a lot of gentlemen as have ever assembled together in a national convention, but it is not at all probable that we will ever again have the pleasure of welcoming to our midst the delegates to the national convention of the Associated Keeley Bichloride of Gold Clubs, on account of so many of the large cities desiring to capture the prize, and as the membership is increasing so rapidly the representations in the convention naturally increases and much as we might desire to do so it would be impossible for us to entertain them on that account.

The next national meeting of the "Keeley League" will be held at Cincinnati, Ohio, in the fall of 1893, and the representatives here from that state in this convention offered great inducements in order to secure it. Denver Colorado and New York City desired the next convention, but when the second vote was taken on the location of the convention, New York and Denver found they were not in it alongside of Cincinnati, and the vote was then made a unanimous one for the Queen City of the West, whose citizens will certainly do themselves proud when the National Keeley League assembles in her splendid music hall that will seat seven thousand people. We will all go to Cincinnati in the fall of 1893, and when that convention is over everyone attending it can take advantage of the cheap excursion rates to visit the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago.

good time of rejoicing was had and everyone felt elated over the fact that Cincinnati was strictly in it for next year, when "Hopley of Ohio" can again be in his element in making motions to adjourn.

Still They Come.

Among the prominent arrivals at the Livingston yesterday, were: E. A. Burnap, Canton, Ill., Geo. C. Webster, Indianapolis, Ind., C. E. Parsins, New York City, Dr. Gerald O. Edmund, Chicago, Geo. Fealer, Benton Harbor, Mich., A. H. Krum, manager Keeley Institute, Binghamton, N. Y., W. E. Robinson, Salt Lake City, Utah, J. H. Nolan, Dennison, Texas, M. Murphy, Joliet, W. T. Shaver, Des Moines, Iowa, Mr. Vooris, Louisville, Kentucky, E. T. Hensley and wife, Des Moines, Iowa, B. Stone, New York City, George Booth, Chicago, H. N. Williams, Louisiana, Mo., C. W. Charleston, Chicago, F. M. Fogg, Lansing, Mick, W. S. Kiemor, Chicago.

Good For the Girls. The ladies' quartette, composed of the Misses Cora Adams, Addie Fenn, Minnie Lower, and Minnie Barr, covered themselves with glory, and were greeted with thunders of applause after their excellent singing in the convention last evening. Hon. John V. Farwell, of Chicago, who occupied a seat upon the stage near the writer, expressed his amazement at the wonderful voice possessed by Miss Minnie Lower, the basso of the quartette, and many other strangers were heard speaking in terms of surprise of her remarkable voice.

Resolutions From the Ladies.

At a meeting of the lady visitors to the Bichloride of Gold Convention, the following resolutions were passed:

RESOLVED, That we as a body express our sincere thanks to the hospitable people of Dwight, for the royal manner in which we were entertained during the convention in their city.

ED. A. McCORMACK, Manager of the Keeley Institute, Kirkwood, Mo.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be published in the DWIGHT STAR AND HERALD.

MRS. JOSEPHINE DAY HILL, Sec. Pro Tem.

James R. Cline, of Amsterdam, New York, graduated last Saturday, and during his stay in Dwight he has made, by his genial manners, many friends who will be pleased to learn that he intends to prolong his stay indefinitely. Mr. Cline is an expert with the pen and has decided to remain in Dwight for the purpose of writing cards for all who may desire his services, and he hopes to educate visitors and patients to exchange cards with each other instead of autographs. While on the entertainment committee of the club, Mr. Cline done much to make the Tuesday evening entertainment successful and pleasant for all who attended them and the STAR AND HERALD hopes that he will receive a generous patronage from all the visitors to Dwight during convention.

The Warrensburg (Mo.) Standard of August 31, contains a column interview with Horace Shepard, city editor of the Warrensburg (Mo.) Star, who has just returned from a year's stay in Dwight. Mr. Shepard gave the reporter a very interesting review of the course of treatment and the people who take it.

The Kepplinger block, where the Ohio delegation had their headquarters, was crowded yesterday afternoon after the session of the national convention had adjourned until evening. A general good time of rejoicing was had and everyone felt elated over the fact that Cincinnati was strictly in it for next year, when "Hopley of Ohio" can again be in his element in making motions to adjourn.

THE LIVINGSTON, DWIGHT.

Still They Come.

Among the prominent arrivals at the Livingston yesterday, were: E. A. Burnap, Canton, Ill., Geo. C. Webster, Indianapolis, Ind., C. E. Parsins, New York City, Dr. Gerald O. Edmund, Chicago, Geo. Fealer, Benton Harbor, Mich., A. H. Krum, manager Keeley Institute, Binghamton, N. Y., W. E. Robinson, Salt Lake City, Utah, J. H. Nolan, Dennison, Texas, M. Murphy, Joliet, W. T. Shaver, Des Moines, Iowa, Mr. Vooris, Louisville, Kentucky, E. T. Hensley and wife, Des Moines, Iowa, B. Stone, New York City, George Booth, Chicago, H. N. Williams, Louisiana, Mo., C. W. Charleston, Chicago, F. M. Fogg, Lansing, Mick, W. S. Kiemor, Chicago.

The First Secretary, W. M. Weese, the Dwight blacksmith, in whose shop the first club was organized, has been overrun with visitors this week, who desired to see him and the shop wherein the club had its birth. Mr. Weese has been rejoiced to see and entertain them all, and to many he has presented a souvenir of the occasion in the shape of a small horseshoe made by his own hands, which will be highly prized by the recipients. Weese was the first secretary of the club and is popular among the boys.

DWIGHT POSTOFFICE FORCE. Dan. Chariton. Miss Bessie Huey. Miss Pauline Groull. Col. J. B. Parsons.

Major is one of God's true noblemen, and the clubs may well feel proud to have such a head. Mr. Moore accompanied Dr. Keeley and party to Europe on their last visit and proved a valuable assistant to the Doctor. Mr. Moore's home is in the handsome suburbs of Pittsburg, Pa., and it is safe to say that all his friends will receive

Keely League. No one will hail with any more

MAJOR S. E. MOORE, President of the Keeley League.

a royal welcome should they come his way. Prominent arrivals at the Livingston Tuesday were: S. Kyle Stephens, of the Keeley Institute, Madisonville, Ohio; Mrs. S. G. Holmes, Dennison, Texas; O. W. Nash and wife, Chicago; C. F. McCrary, Oklahoma City, O. T.; S. A. McLean and wife, Bay City, Mich.; W. E. Brooks, Jr., Columbus, Ohio; Theo. Talman, Chicago; A. Spear, Galesburg, Ill.; W. G. Richardson, Kansas City, Mo.; L. B. Mitchell, line together and bared their arms to the shoulder to receive the injections that have opened up a new life for them and made them men among men, and producers instead of consumers. And there is not a man among them who does not heartily rejoice that he revisits his alma mater a sober man, and possesses all of his faculties; sober in mind, body and spirit, and every man of them gives due credit to Dr. Leslie E. Keeley and his treatment for their renovation.

THE OLD CLUB HOUSE.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Nash, arrived on the special Monday night. Mrs. Nash is president of the Chicago Ladies' Auxiliary. O. W. has just been nominated for the state board of equalization in the fourth congressional district of Illinois, and bears his honors well.

The irrefrangible Griesley, of Springfield, Ill., who was in the line last November, arrived Monday. He remarked to the reporter that when he left home for Dwight the first time his wife was sixty years old, when he graduated and returned home she was but forty, and when he left home Monday to attend the convention she was but twenty, and he intended, if she had grown any younger on his return home putting her in short dresses and sending her to school.

D. S. Hayward, a well-known and popular hotel keeper of St. Cloud, Minn., who has been sojourning in Dwight for several weeks departed for his home last Friday.

ever come east, expect that you will call on me. Yours very truly, JOHN S. BAXTER, Graduate from Dwight, Sept. 10/92 Major S. E. Moore. We present to-day the portrait of Major S. E. Moore, the president of the Keeley League. The

Mrs. Fenn visited the leading large millinery establishments in Chicago last week, and new and seasonable goods are being received every day. The ladies are invited to call and inspect the new styles.

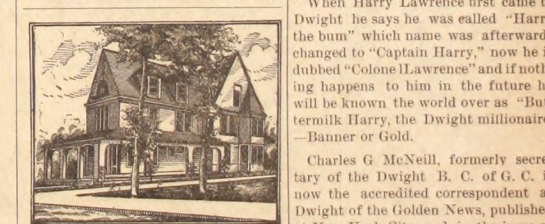

Hon. John V. Farwell arrived from Chicago Tuesday afternoon, and was escorted to the Dwight Opera House by Col. Nate A. Reed, Jr., of Chicago. Mr. Farwell was an interested spectator at the treatment hall Tuesday evening.

We understand the Golden News wants to be the official organ, the position now occupied by the Banner of Gold. The STAR AND HERALD wants nothing except the good will of everybody and a few subscribers at $1.25 a year. See?

The citizens' committee numbers fifteen members and is composed of representative business and professional men of Dwight, and they are kept busy as the arrival of trains, meeting the delegates and assigning them to their hotels and stopping places.

Dr. Alex. W. Reese, of Warrensburg, Mo., a graduate of Dwight, who has been here on a visit to his Alma mater, departed Friday night for Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, where he takes charge of the Keeley treatment at the National Soldiers' Home for disabled veterans. The good doctor, since his own cure, has always been very enthusiastic in the work, and his numerous friends in Dwight and elsewhere will be delighted to learn that he is now on the Leslie E. Keeley Company's staff.

The convention this week greatly resembles a reunion of old comrades drawn together by strong bonds of undying friendship. Many of the men who clasp hands in Dwight to-day, met for the first time when they stood in line together and bared their arms to the shoulder to receive the injections that have opened up a new life for them and made them men among men, and producers instead of consumers. And there is not a man among them who does not heartily rejoice that he revisits his alma mater a sober man, and possesses all of his faculties; sober in mind, body and spirit, and every man of them gives due credit to Dr. Leslie E. Keeley and his treatment for their renovation.

LADY PATIENTS' HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Nash, arrived on the special Monday night. Mrs. Nash is president of the Chicago Ladies' Auxiliary. O. W. has just been nominated for the state board of equalization in the fourth congressional district of Illinois, and bears his honors well.

The irrefrangible Griesley, of Springfield, Ill., who was in the line last November, arrived Monday. He remarked to the reporter that when he left home for Dwight the first time his wife was sixty years old, when he graduated and returned home she was but forty, and when he left home Monday to attend the convention she was but twenty, and he intended, if she had grown any younger on his return home putting her in short dresses and sending her to school.

D. S. Hayward, a well-known and popular hotel keeper of St. Cloud, Minn., who has been sojourning in Dwight for several weeks departed for his home last Friday.

Mrs. John J. Flinn, of Evanston, is enjoying the convention.

Since the meeting last February 120 clubs have been organized in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Harbin, of Oak Crest, Md., are among the visitors to the convention.

Judge Charles L. Lambert, of Peoria was the guest of the Cornell House during his stay in Dwight.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kelly, of Pittsburg, are the guests of the Cornell House during their stay in Dwight.

Colonel LeGage Pratt was called to Chicago on business Thursday, but expects to return on the evening train.

Miss Ada Barr, of the Institute, took the train for New York this morning. She expects to be absent about a week.

Ohio, the home of Presidents, is strictly "in it" under all circumstances. She got the convention without a struggle.

Jenkins Lloyd Jones, editor of the Unity, published at 175 Dearborn street, Chicago, has been attending the convention.

By request Messrs. Ross and Voorhees sang before the convention last night and were roundly applauded for their efforts to please.

No more interested spectator or listener has attended the convention meetings from day to day than John V. Farwell, of Chicago.

John H. Richardson, editor and publisher of the Golden News, New York City is a prominent figure at the daily sessions of the National Convention.

C. Elmer Ferguson, of Bloomington, superintendent of agencies, Golden Mutual Benefit Association of America, has been in the city during the convention.

John H. Wood, the well-known live stock commission dealer of the Chicago Union Stock yards, attended the convention Tuesday, but had to return to the city that night.

The leading hotels of Dwight were full to overflowing with convention visitors, and a merrier lot of individuals were never seen as they went about renewing old acquaintances and forming new ones.

The prominent arrivals at the Mason Wednesday were James M. Williams, Buffalo, N. Y.; F. J. Gates, Benton Harbor, Mich.; James A. Clark, Oak Crest, Md.; James I. Wilson, Jr., Freeport, Ohio.

Ed. A. McCormack, manager of the St. Louis branch of the Keeley Institute, circulates about the convention hall in his old time graceful manner, and is hail fellow well met with "all the boys."

If you have not seen the new and beautiful souvenir book of Dwight just issued by the Dwight Art Company you are certainly away behind the times. It is a beauty in every respect and should be in every home in the land.

Judge Waller Young, of Missouri, makes a splendid presiding officer, and he is perfectly familiar with parliamentary rules, but the Judge will call a halt in the proceedings at any time if by doing so he can hear a song from the ladies' quartette.

The last joke on our friend, O. B. Stanton, of the Livingston, is that when he was at Waukesha recently he was invited out to a fish dinner, and he ate so many fish he could not get up for the fish bones piled around him. We hardly believe the story, but have great faith in Stanton's ability.

When Harry Lawrence first came to Dwight he says he was called "Harry the bum" which name was afterwards changed to "Captain Harry," now he is dubbed "Colonel Lawrence" and if nothing happens to him in the future he will be known the world over as "Buttermilk Harry, the Dwight millionaire. —Banner or Gold.

Charles G. McNeill, formerly secretary of the Dwight B. C. of G. C. is now the accredited correspondent at Dwight of the Golden News, published at New York City, and in the issue of the issue of Sept. 5th, Mr. McNeill has a very readable and newsy communication in regard to club and other happenings in Dwight for the week ending August 27th.

Chairman W. C. Arnold presided at the song service Sunday morning at club, Miss Flagler officiating as pianist. Everyone present seemed to enjoy the services and a most delightful hour was spent in singing the beautiful hymns selected by the audience. The lyrics were closed with the benediction pronounced by Rev. Cole. These impressive Sunday song services seem to be greatly enjoyed by all the patients.

Olive Dickey, of Clinton, Ill., leaves Dwight to-day for his home, after a sojourn here of five weeks taking treatment at the Keeley Institute. Mr. Dickey succeeded, during his stay in Dwight, in forming the acquaintance of many of our young people, and impressed all with whom he came in contact as a gentleman, a most companionable, pleasant and worthy young man, and all unite with the writer in wishing him long life, health, wealth and happiness. We trust he will not forget the many friends he made in Dwight and will drop in to see them as often as he may find it convenient.