Weather and the Crops. Bulletin Covering the Conditions and the Present Outlook. The following is the weather crop bulletin issued by the Government Weather Bureau.

Temperature—The week has been warmer than usual throughout the entire country, with the exception of extreme Southern Florida and a small area including Northern Idaho and the Rocky Mountains, where it has already been over the average, and in the south Atlantic and Gulf coasts the excess of temperature ranged from three to twelve degrees, the greatest departures occurring in the Missouri, upper Mississippi, and Red River Valleys, where the temperature averaged from nine to twelve degrees above normal.

Good Weather for Corn. The warm, dry weather of the week has been favorable for outstanding corn and for cutting and husking tobacco. A large part of the corn, which has already been cut, and grain in fields is now considered safe from injury by frosts, which have, however, caused some damage to corn and vegetables in the lowlands of Northern New York, and slight damage to corn in the north Pacific coast. So far this season the injury from frost has been comparatively slight.

Precipitation—More than the usual amount of rain has fallen from the upper Ohio valley southeastward to the Atlantic coast, over portions of the lake region and the north Pacific coast, and in the Carolinas, eastern Georgia, and all the north Pacific coast the rainfall was very heavy. In New England, along the middle Atlantic coast, in the Gulf States, thence throughout the Mississippi and Missouri valleys, and thence westward, with the exception of the north Pacific coast, the rainfall was below the average, and to the westward of the Mississippi but little or no rain has fallen during the week.

General Crops Secured. Warm, dry weather in the central valleys and westward has been generally favorable for securing crops. Moderate rains would be beneficial for fall plowing and seeding. Following are the special telegraphic reports: Missouri—All interests, and especially pasture, demand good rain.

Illinois—Frost in three northern counties slightly injured outstanding corn on low ground early corn being out; plowing for fall grain retarded by dry ground in southern portion.

Indiana—Wheat seeded nearly completed; corn ripening rapidly; nearly safe from frost.

Michigan—Most crops harvested. Wisconsin—Corn mostly cut and fair crop; winter wheat in good ground, in good condition, and average above average.

Minnesota—Corn safe and being cut; good crop. Iowa—Corn practically beyond danger from frost; crop below average. North Dakota—Weather for wheat for the fall and ripening of corn. South Dakota—Corn beyond danger from frosts.

Nebraska—Bulk of corn crop beyond injury by frost; very large acreage of winter wheat sown. Kansas—Weather for corn, hay and thrashing; unfavorable for fall plowing, seeding and pastures.
