Dr. Payne has decided to open up forty acres of his fine farm, bordering on the southern corporation line, and start a little town of his own. He will sell lots very cheap, and there is plenty of water and the electric lights light it, and has natural drainage and don't cost a cent. Read his ad. Mr. S. T. K. Prime left this morning for New York City, not in the interest of protection or free trade, but in the interests of good roads. He has been offered the secretaryship of the National Road League and he has gone east for consultation with the officers of the society concerning the details of the appointment. Mr. Prime will also represent the National League at the convention at Concord, N. H. He will be absent about ten days.

He also has coin machines of various kinds, and withal, it is sure to be a popular resort. Remember Mr. Rowley invites all to call on him and enjoy themselves. Read his advertisement in another column. All litigation in regard to the Payne farm has been settled. Forty acres adjoining town, will be laid out into building lots and blocks to suit purchasers at reasonable prices. Other lands adjoining will be laid out into blocks of from one to five acres for gardens and cow pasture. The land will not be laid out as an addition to Dwight, consequently there will be no taxes for electric lights, water works and sewerage. It will be a village to itself. There is already on the premises an inexhaustible supply of the best of water for both house use and stock. For full particulars enquire of Dr. Payne.

The Coming Attraction. We clip the following from the Pomero, Ohio, Democrat, regarding the company which will occupy the boards at the Dwight opera house, Wednesday evening next, the 16th: "The Heywood Concert Co., which opened the opera house Monday night gave a most delightful entertainment. Miss Zimmerman and Julian Jordan have both appeared here before, but never to such a well pleased audience. Every number on the program deserved and received enthusiastic applause. Miss Gleason's stage presence, artistic training, versatility and perfect ease made her a favorite at once, and caused every number to be encored three or four times. Sig Visini gave Verdis "Il Balen" in a most artistic manner, his full baritone voice impressing the audience with its purity, power and expression. The concert playing of E. A. Couturier showed his perfect mastery of his instrument. He as well as Miss Zimmerman, played with seemingly perfect ease. The performance of cornet duos was a novelty and merited the warm applause it received. Julian Jordan puts his whole soul as well as his voice into his singing, which makes the combination of sentiment and music exceedingly rare. He sings his own composition entirely, which is the best advertisement they could have. Neidziski is an artist; no higher compliment could be paid him. He is really the only violinist we have ever heard. His staccato bow was perfect. Mary Rose Hughes and Miss Belle Daily pleased the audience with their numbers. The closing number of the evening, the "Blue Danube Waltz Song" from Strauss, was beautifully rendered, the voices and instruments blending to perfection in the ensemble. The company will be welcomed back at any future time."

This popular young couple of Dwight, were both converts and joined the M. E. church during the pastorate of Rev. Merrill in Dwight. The esteem in which Rev. Merrill held by the young couple was reciprocated by him, and it so happened that Rev. Merrill could not come here and the young couple went there and had the ceremony performed.

Mrs. Hayes has lived in Dwight all her life and is well known as an amiable and popular young lady, and Mr. Hayes is fortunate indeed in securing such a prize. Theodore Hayes is a son of J. A. Hayes, who resides north of town, and is a young man of splendid character and of bright promise. He is gradually working into his father's large trade in the grocery business as a traveling salesman, and already has won a fine reputation as a business man. We join the people of this community in extending congratulations to the happy couple and we wish them a prosperous and bright future. We understand they will occupy rooms at the rooms home for the present.

Smith--McKay. The marriage of Miss Maud Smith and Jas. L. McKay took place at the home of the brides' parents in Pontiac, Thursday evening at 9 o'clock before quite a circle of relatives and friends. The bride is one of the most popular and pretty young ladies in Pontiac. Jim McKay is well known in Pontiac and Dwight, and is a son of Alex McKay, mayor of Pontiac, and is now a valued employe of the Leslie E. Keeley Co., in Dwight and a young man of excellent habits and fine business qualifications. The many friends of the newly married couple in Dwight wish them a happy and successful future. We understand they will reside in Dwight permanently. Quite a number from Dwight attended the wedding.

Special Assessment. The first installment for the special assessment is now due and the blanks and books are open and Collector Naffziger will receive the cash at the bank of Dwight. Jesse Diffebaugh was the first man to pay, last Saturday. He paid on his property in the Renfrew addition. Sewer Foreman Bounced. One of the sewer foremen was bounced Saturday and another said he would quit if they bounced the former, and so work was practically at a stand still for a day or two. We understand it was a question of wages. Cleveland no Doubt is Elected! But business will still continue at J. C. Lewis' jewelry and book and stationery store with a large stock of goods which is daily increasing. For Sale. A half interest in a good paying business well located. Small payment down, balance on time to suit purchaser. Call at this office for further particulars. Must Settle. Bills owing me while in the grocery business at the old stand must be settled before Dec. 1, 1892, or they will be left in the hands of a collector. GEO. L. KERN.

It's Over. The election is over and all people are attending strictly to business again. The business man should glance over his his stock of printing and order for the winter. A great many want printing for the holidays and now is the time to think about and get it in on time. It is also time to make your wishes to the public known and tell them what you will have for sale for the winter and holidays. You know the STAR and HERALD is read by everyone and no man that ever advertised with us can honestly say we did not do their business good. Particular attention is also called to the fact that we club with every paper of any importance in the world, and can get your papers cheaper than you can send for them. Most any of the great weekly paper and this paper for the small sum of $2 per year to new subscribers.
