

It finds it a wonderful cure for a bad cough. Mr. Wm. E. Anderson, 241 Water Street, New York City, N. Y., gives this endorsement: "I have found Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup the wonderful cure it is, resorted to be it is just the thing for a bad cough."

Friendly Regard is never entertained by the children for a medicine that tastes bad. This explains the popularity among little ones of Scott's Emulsion, a preparation of cod-liver oil almost as palatable as milk.

CURES RISING BREAST

"MOTHER'S FRIEND" is the greatest blessing ever offered child-bearing women. I have been a mid-wife for many years, and in each case where "Mother's Friend" had been used it has accomplished wonders and relieved much suffering. It is the best remedy for rising of the breast known, and worth the price for that alone.

Needless Waste.

A few hints in regard to careless wastefulness are well worth considering. Waste in the kitchen is often very great from apparently trivial sources.

In cooking meats the water is thrown out without removing the grease, or the grease from the dripping-pan is thrown away.

Scraps of meat are thrown away. Cold potatoes are left to sour and spoil.

Dried fruits are not looked after, and become wormy. Vinegar and sauce are left standing in tin.

Apples are left to decay for want of "sorting over."

The tea canister is left open. Victuals are left exposed to be eaten by the mice.

Bones of meat and the carcass of turkey are thrown away, when they could be used in making good soups.

Sugar, tea, coffee and rice are carelessly spilled in the handling.

Soap is left to dissolve and waste in the water.

Dish towels are used for dish cloths. Napkins are used for dish towels. Towels are used for holders.

Brooms and mops are not hung up. More coal is burned than necessary by not arranging dampers when not using the fire.

Lights are left burning when not used. Tin dishes are not properly cleaned and dried.

Good, warm brooms are used in scrubbing kitchen floors.

Silver spoons are used in scraping kettles.

Cream is left to mold and spoil. Mustard is left to spoil in the cruse, etc.

Pickles become spoiled by the leaking out or evaporation of the vinegar.

Pork spoils for want of salt, and beef because the brine wants scalding.

Hams become tainted or filled with vermin for want of care.

Cheese molds and is eaten by mice and vermin.

Tea and coffee pots are injured on the stove.

Woodenware is unscalded and left to warp and crack.

And so on and on indefinitely, and it is important that the eye of the mistress be ever vigilant, no matter how important the "help" may be considered, or how thorough the housekeeper.

Decidedly Shaky.

A trembling hand, an uncertain step, fidgetiness, or a nervous shifting from one place or position to another, usually mental annoyance at unexpected noises, are among the indications of extreme nervousness. These are the conditions of men and women who are to be overthrown disastrously by causes which the vigorous might defy.

To fortify the nervous system, general vigour must, through the medium of a well-regulated diet, and a renewal of an impaired power of sleeping at night, be raised to the normal standard.

A guarantee of this is Hosier's Stomach Bitters, which re-establishes digestion, bile secretion and the habit of orderly regular habits, thus renewing that bodily equilibrium, which is followed by a gain of strength and nerve energy.

It cures constipation, rheumatism, neuralgia, and as a preventive of the first attack or subsequent return of neuralgia, headache, and other ailments, without a peer. Thrice daily take a wineglassful.

Getting Acquainted.

An anecdote of the late President Hayes is told by an Englishman who formed one of a party of his compatriots while the President and his family were at Clark's Ranch, near Yosemite. The two parties were assembled in the rude kitchen, awaiting the coming meal.

A certain stiff and awkward Englishman, as last a master of the ceremonies and introducer appeared in the shape of a small and elegant quadruped, evidently a family pet, which trotted into the kitchen to be caressed.

A lady of the English party gently stroked its stem, the President is present, presently they met, about the center of the animal, and the interchange of a few remarks became inevitable.

So—"This is a very pretty goat," from the English lady. "My end is antelope, madam," from the President.

It need scarcely be said that both ends were antelope, but the reply was very neat.

The Similarity.

The silly young man had told a couple of young women that he was engaged to an acquaintance of theirs, and one of them proceeded to find out about it, and next day reported to her friend.

"Well," was the inquiry, "what about Frank's story?"

"It's quite like his head."

"How's that?"

"Nothing in it." And they let it go at that.

Regrets.

A callow youth was placed by his father in the office of the village attorney to study law, at a salary of nothing a week. At the end of the first day's study he called on his father and said: "Tobe, how do you like the law?"

"Tain't what it cracked up to be," he replied; "I'm sorry I learned it."

Curiosities of Sound Travel.

"Each Spoonful has done its Perfect Work,"

Is the verdict of every woman who has used Royal Baking Powder. Other baking powders soon deteriorate and lose their strength, owing to the use of inferior ingredients, but the Royal Baking Powder is so carefully and accurately compounded from the purest materials that it retains its strength for any length of time, and the last spoonful in the can is as good as the first, which is not true of any other baking powder.

"Own Up."

One of the members of a Maine regiment told a story of "Honest John Wood." The incident occurred in very cold weather and at an important crisis.

"At night time," said the narrator, "when we pickets arrived at the outposts, Captain Wood said:

"It is too severe for men to face this storm all night."

"There was a small house close by, and the Captain directed that we should build a fire in it, and shelter ourselves as best we might."

"We did so, and all weary with marching and lulled by the warmth, we all fell fast asleep. When the officer of the guard rounds came our way he found a regular Sleepy Hollow."

"Of course we were reported, and in the morning we were summoned to headquarters. Naturally, we were terribly frightened, for sleeping on picket is a serious offence."

"We were ushered into General Wilson's tent. He sternly repeated the charge. Had we been guilty of sleeping on our posts? We had. It would have been useless to attempt any explanation; but Captain Wood who was present, anticipated any that we might have attempted."

"General," he said, "the blame does not rest upon these men. I am responsible for it all. I gave them orders to take shelter in that house and build a fire there, and I am to blame. They would not have been asleep but for me."

"How long have you been in the service, sir?" asked the General, sternly.

"A few months, General."

"I thought so. If you had been here longer, you would have come up here full of excuses, and ready to shift the blame on any one at hand. You can go. Your honesty has saved you."

Evidently the men were forgiven as well as their officer, for the narrator of this story subsequently became a lieutenant.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

HE OBEYED HIS MOTHER.

A boy in Arkansas shot his mother and gave as an excuse that she loaded the gun and told him to shoot her, threatening to shoot him if he disobeyed her.

The poor woman was undoubtedly crazy.

It is a fact that farmers' wives are more liable to go crazy than any other class of people.

Hood's Cures

The marvelous cure of Miss Lettie Huntley, of Cortland, N. Y., has attracted widespread attention. She was high to death, and in a few days felt hemorrhages caused by ulcers in the stomach. Couldst nothing. When the physicians said there was no hope, her mother urged her to try

Miss Huntley, Hood's Sarsaparilla. She reluctantly consented, and in a few days felt stronger, bloating subsided, appetite gradually returned, and in a month she could walk across the room. In six months she was as well as ever in her life, and has been in perfect health ever since. She says: "I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla and that alone, saved my life."

United States Government

World's Fair Souvenir Coins

The Official Souvenir of the Great Exposition—

5,000,000 of which were donated to the World's Columbian Exposition by the Government, are being rapidly taken by an enthusiastically patriotic people.

As there early promised to be a demand for these Souvenirs that would render them very valuable in the hands of speculators, the Exposition Authorities decided to place the price at and sell them direct to the people, thus realizing $5,000,000, and using the additional money for the further development of the Fair.

$1.00 for Each Coin

Considering the fact that there were but 5,000,000 of these coins to be distributed among 65,000,000 people, in this country alone (to say nothing of the foreign demand,) and that many have already been taken, those wishing to purchase these mementoes of our Country's Discovery and of the grandest Exposition ever held, should secure as many as they desire at once.

Realizing that every patriotic American will want one or more of these coins, and in order to make it convenient for him to get them, we have made arrangements to have them sold throughout the country by all the leading Merchants and Banks. If not for sale in your town, send $1.00 each for not less than five coins, by Post-office or Express Money-order, Registered Letter or Bank Draft, with instructions how to send them to you, all charges prepaid, to
