

ON THE OUTSIDE—that is the best place to keep the huge old-fashioned pill. Just as soon as you get it inside, it begins to trouble you. That's the use of suffering with it, when you can get more help from Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets?

These tiny, sugar-coated granules do you permanent good. They act on the bowels and naturally, and there's no reaction afterward. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are prevented, relieved, and permanently cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take, and the cheapest—for they're guaranteed to give you satisfaction or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get.

Nothing else urged by the dealer, though they may be better for him to sell, can be "just as good" for you to buy.

A Thrilling Book, To Any Reader Of This Paper.

Tells All About the Indians.

Latest Publication In Its Line. Entitled "Life and Scenes Among the Kickapoo Indians"—Contains Nearly Two Hundred Pages—Sent Free to Everybody.

In order to make the public familiar with the habits, manners, customs, and history of one of the oldest tribes of American Indians extant, we have published at great expense a large edition of a work entitled "Life and Scenes Among the Kickapoo Indians." All their peculiarities, traditions, habits, in fact, their whole life and customs are told in a manner which will interest the reader and hold attention to the end. The book also explains our connection with the tribe, how it came about and what has come from it. The book is profusely illustrated and contains nearly 200 pp.

While this edition lasts we will send a copy free to all who apply, enclosing three cent stamps to pay cost of postage.

We will guarantee to fill all requests received within the next two weeks following the appearance of this advertisement, but may not be able to do so later. It is for your interest, therefore to send at once.

SHOW OF MANY NATIONS

INTERESTING ATTRACTION AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A Walk Through Midway Plaisance Is Equal to a Trip Around the World—Oriental People Living as in the Orient—World's Fair Notes.

Congress of Nations.

World's Fair correspondence.

The Midway Plaisance in the World's Fair Grounds will be one of the most attractive of the Exposition. The term, Midway Plaisance, merely means an avenue lined with buildings in which entertainments are given, and to witness these extra fares will be charged. This side show avenue is a mile long and 600 feet wide. Near the entrance to the Plaisance a Tower of Labels is built, having a height of 91 feet and a diameter at the base of 100 feet. This tower deviates from the plan of the original by having a double track electrical circular railway from the base to the top. A chime of bells is installed at the top, from which a good view of the grounds is had.

The Lash Village.

One of the attractions of the Plaisance is a collection of houses, representing an Irish village. Towering over them is a reproduction of famous Donegal castle. Lady Aberdeen, living in one of the cottages, will preside over the little village. Here are specimens of the work of Irish peasants and of some of the people themselves. Lace, shawls, embroidery, etc., will be made and sold. A Kerry cow makes the center of an illustration of Irish dairy work. Three of the cottages form a national museum, containing rare manuscripts, books and works of art.

The City of Cairo.

Another Plaisance attraction is represented by a street scene in Cairo, in which 150 Egyptians figure. Dark-brown beauties from the banks of the Nile, who dance voluptuous measures, look coquettishly upon the Yankee, their big eyes winning his attention as soon as they flash them upon him. They wear spangles, chains, beads and gilt bands. Arab traders, donkey boys and camel drivers are there. While the dancers modeled after one of the old-style temples found in Spain and in Northern Africa, is another side show on the Plaisance. A restaurant accommodating 500 people in the palace show that the Moors are a practical race. In the building is an immense collection of gold coins. An Algerian merchant has put up a building in which are quartered a large supply of natives who maintain a bazaar, in which are displayed precious stones, swords, pistols with antique flint locks, daggers, knives, broadswords, cushions, and table covers. In another store are found perfumery, sargallo pastilles, attar of roses and sweets, though these are not half as sweet as the dreamy damasks who sell them to you. A Bedouin camp, presided over by a real Bedouin chief, who, of course, would cut a throat with no compunction, is shown. The dancing girls who sway and tremble with simulated emotion keep the hall crowded with spectators.

The Japanese Village.

Japanese, to the number of seventy, have built a village in the style of their country on the Midway Plaisance. It is made of bamboo poles, split bamboo and palm leaves and thatched with native grasses. A screen of split bamboo and leaves encircles the village to keep out those who haven't paid. The Japanese girls dance to the music of an orchestra and puff cigarettes. They are little bits of creatures with black shiny hair. In the center of the settlement are two big bamboo poles with holes cut through them. When the wind whistles through these holes a strange melody is produced that makes the Javans feel homesick and romantic. All sorts of billious and maudlin thoughts travel through their brains while the music is being played by the gale. They get most of the music in Chicago than in Java, as there is a greater supply of wind. A remarkable display in the Plaisance is that of feminine beauty. A building has been put up, and in it are stabled fifty young women, who represent the style of the various nations of the world, together with a Chicago beauty collector, who spent some months in Europe advertising for types of the different races. Lovelick Romos linger round the beauty building and make the air resonant with their mournful lamentations. There is a tacit agreement that none of the girls are to get married until the Fair is over, and then they will be able to select any kind of men they prefer from the wild scramble that will take place for their hands.

Germany has a village in which the artistic and mercantile tastes of her people are combined. The Germans have put up a model of a town of the middle ages, and there are houses of the Black Forest and the other divisions of the empire. The houses are filled with original furniture. Dr. Uric Jahn, of Berlin, manages a German ethnological museum.

A Wonderful Wheel.

The Ferris wheel is the real triumph of the Midway Plaisance. It represents better than any other exhibit the genius of American invention. It looks something like the paddle wheel of a steamer, multiplied, however, a hundredfold. Instead of the paddles it bears passenger cars, and when it revolves the passengers get something of the sensation that a fly must have that sits on the side of the cart wheel and feels it revolve. The wheel is 264 feet high and 254 feet in diameter. It bears 36 passenger cars, each larger than a railroad coach, and with a seating capacity of 60 persons. When the wheel is "loaded" it contains 2,160 citizens. They are Housekeepers Should Remember.

The Government Chemists, after having analyzed all the principal brands of baking powder in the market, in their reports placed the "Royal" at the head of the list for strength, purity and wholesomeness; and thousands of tests all over the country have further demonstrated the fact that its qualities are, in every respect, unrivaled.

Avoid all baking powders sold with a gift or prize, or at a lower price than the Royal, as they invariably contain alum, lime or sulphuric acid, and render the food unwholesome.

An Ingenious Bavarian Railroad Device.

An automatic device for locating and clearly marking track defects is now in use on the Bavarian state railways. The principle of the apparatus is based on the fact that every low point or other similar defect in a line of track causes a shock of greater or less intensity in a car passing over it. The arrangement of the apparatus in the inspection car is such that if the shock exceeds a certain degree of intensity a squirting device is brought into operation, from which either a red or blue liquid is squirted over the roadbed, making stripes from one foot to seven feet long and about two inches wide. The track sections requiring attention are thus very plainly marked. The apparatus, it is claimed, will locate defects which cannot ordinarily be detected by the track walker and will afford evidence of imperfection in the roadbed long before these will show themselves by such signs as battered rail ends at joints, etc.—Philadelphia Record.

Big Swarm of Locusts.

The greatest swarm of locusts ever known invaded South Africa in 1797. They were driven into the sea by a north wind, and the waves throwing them back, a bank of dead locusts from three to six feet thick was formed for fifty miles along the coast.

THE ALGERIAN VILLAGE.

are performing in the theater the merchants sell beads, turbans or shells from the Red Sea and other curiosities, all at Chicago prices, and the snake charmers subdue reptiles and the magicians show their familiarity with the black art. There are performing monkeys, too, and parrots. An old priest goes up into the tower of the mosque at daybreak and calls upon all believers in Mohammed to pray. The people perform their ablutions and then bless the prophet. When they have done this the long-bearded merchants take their pipes and squat in the bazars, looking indolently at the passer-by, while the women and children gaze in wonder and smile knowingly at the ignorance of their ways betrayed by the Americans, who are as great a show to them as they are to purchasers of admission tickets.

A Street of Stamboul.

One of the old streets of Stamboul is reproduced and tenanted with people from that city and from Constantinople, who show pretty much the same sort of entertainment as their Egyptian neighbors. One of their features is a fire department such as is in service at the City of the Golden Horn. The fire pump, which has a large capacity, is slung on poles on the shoulders of the natives, who trot through the streets astonishingly fast. When they reach the fire the water is supplied them by carriers, who bear leather bags that are refilled from the well as fast as their contents are used up. A silver bed, owned by one of the Sultans of Turkey, is on exhibition. A Moorish palace, carried up and down like birds sitting in their nest.

A model of St. Peter's, of Rome, is exhibited. It is of carved wood, coated with a substance in imitation of marble, and is constructed on a scale of one-sixtieth. This makes it about 30 feet long, 15 feet wide, and 15 feet high. It is placed in a building of Roman style, which contains besides the models the portraits of many of the Popes. There are models of the Cathedral of Milan, the Piombino Palace, St. Agnes Church, and the Roman Pantheon, of Agrigento. The attendants in this building are dressed in the uniforms of the Vatican guard.

UNLESS the courts intervene, Jackson Park will be open the world on Sunday. But the great buildings of the exposition will be closed. The price of admission to the grounds will be 25 cents.
