If the present ordinance does not cover a new one should be passed immediately. "Chapter 84," of a series of interesting articles we are publishing (for revenue only) regarding the "Mystery of the Sewer," will be found in this issue of the STAR AND HERALD. This chapter defines the modus operandi of tapping the great underground channel. "Chapter 85," published this week, is a very interesting tale regarding the "Almighty Dollar," and what is to be accomplished with it. We are in receipt of a communication from a subscriber regarding the fearful condition of the sidewalks on Delaware and Washington streets, which has been spoken of in these columns several times. It states of another fall being received, and almost a case for damages resulting. However, as the authorities have seen fit to build new sidewalks on the streets mentioned, and have part of the material on the ground, we refrain from publishing the communication this week. Death of Mrs. Geo. Short. It is our painful duty to announce the death of Mrs. Geo. Short which took place at her residence four miles south of Dwight, last Sunday the 20th of May, at 5:30 o'clock. The funeral was held in the M. E. Church in Odell Wednesday, and was largely attended. Rev. Moots preaching the funeral sermon and the remains were laid to rest in the Odell cemetery. Mrs. Short had been ailing for about three months and was very sick for several days before dissolution. The family lived in Nevada, but moved to their present home about five years ago. Mrs. Short was a woman beloved by all who knew her. She was 57 years of age. The deceased leaves a husband and five children, two girls and three boys to mourn her loss. The many friends of the family extend their sympathy. CARD OF THANKS. The members of the family wish to return their sincere thanks for the kindness extended them during the sickness and death of their wife and mother. Coming Attraction. On the evening of June 2 next, will be presented in the opera house a triple attraction, under the management of Kendall Weston. It will be remembered that Mr. Weston was manager of the Chicago Stock company that presented "Young Mrs. Winthrop" so successfully a few months since. He has recently been playing the leading male part with Rosina Volkes. The attractions to be presented here are "Sunset," "Withered Leaves," and "The American Fascination." It is safe to say that the presentation will be excellent. Friday June 2 is the date. Tickets will be sold at Dr. Barr's in due time. Popular prices. Program for Decoration Day. Retrospective—Dwight in 1881. Mr. John Geis kindly lent us a DWIGHT STAR of date of Dec. 30, 1881, from which we glean some things that will be of interest to people who were residents of Dwight at that time. THE DWIGHT STAR was then owned by Charles Palmer, who did a large business here, and employed from five to twenty men. One of the first articles that came to our notice was one by S. T. K. Prime regarding good roads. Mr. Prime has evidently been agitating that question for many years and is at it yet and will keep at it until something is done. Among the visitors in Dwight at that time we notice Harry Dow, Miss Mary Keeley, Rev. Richard Haney, Capt. Kenney, Ad. Donaldson, Ken Henry. D. McWilliams had just returned from Europe. Doc Hans and Chas. Waters shot a pigeon match for $20, the former winning. Mr. Fox refused to act in the capacity of trustee. Frank Malady broke his neck jumping from a train at Campus. Many other items of interest, also a long article headed "Our Town," which reviews the prosperity of Dwight. The public schools are spoken of very highly, two buildings, and basement of M. E. church being occupied for school purposes, and the schools, like to-day, bearing a high reputation far and near. The article also reviews the extensive work being accomplished by the Kenyon Newspaper Subscription Agency; S. T. K. Prime's Crop Bureau; in reference to the Dr. Leslie E. Keeley, it is announced that it is only eighteen months since the manufacture of gold remedies for nervous diseases was commenced, but that their success had been wonderful. Probably no one, unless it be Dr. Keeley himself, had any idea in those days, what a grand success the remedy was to become, and indeed to-day, it is difficult to realize what it may become in the future. Its success has no limit. The Bank of Dwight did the largest business of any institution in this section. As to-day D. McWilliams was cashier. The proceedings of a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors was published in that issue. There was also a four-column story in three chapters, entitled "The Prairie Inn, or The Romance of a Life Time." The story is a burlesque on early times in Dwight, and the alleged race for supremacy between two citizens, which the writer was pleased to designate as Daniel Macbail and Lyman Connell. The different characters which appear are Lawyer Blower, of Clear Creek, Lawyer Dunbar, Jonas Sadler, the auctioneer, Capt. Dunderary and Dr. Blatant. The scenes were laid principally in a country general store, the Prairie Inn, and the McDonaldson House. The latter house is called to mind now by the main part having been moved through our streets by Dick Roe, this week. The story is said to have caused a great deal of fun in this neighborhood at the time of its publication. Among the advertisers we find in the STAR at that time are some with whom the people are now familiar, others have moved away, and some who have left for a better world. We notice the following: McWilliams & Smith, whole first page, dry goods, etc.; B. Speh, restaurant; Thos. Perry, grocer; J. B. Parsons, hardware, etc.; Ed. He was elected to fill a vacancy and says he'll do it if it takes all summer. An election to fill vacancies for constables will be held June 3. The only ticket running is democratic and Carl Reinmiller and John Connor are the candidates. Quite a number of our people have had the Fairbury Record forced on them here also, as well as at Dwight. The STAR AND HERALD is good enough for us. The coal vein has not increased any in thickness for the past ten days. It remains stationary at 13 1/2 feet. The change in postmasters has started and probably Campus will be in it in the near future, and John Feehery is probably the coming man. Scavenger Work. In the past when our citizens were in need of help by a scavenger, it has been done after a great deal of delay and expenditure of money. This has become a thing of the past, as Weber & Co. are now prepared to attend to this kind of work on short notice. All those who are in need of their services can secure it by addressing them by mail, or calling on Geo. Weber. Notice. The commissioners of highways hereby notify all persons that they must not dump brush, cans or other refuse on the highways outside of the corporation. We have sent out quite a number of notices this week to those who are in arrears on subscription to the STAR AND HERALD. There was a stranger here last week billing the town for a show known as the Pease Sisters, dated for May 30. We hope they will give us a better entertainment than have—we had of late, and we think they will. Richard Wedlock has left for Rutland, Ill., where he expects to work at his trade, that of blacksmithing. We have not as yet learned whether he is going to send for one of Clark City girls or not. Dick is a fine fellow, and we wish him success. Thos. Cumming who has been drilling for coal at this place has met with good success having found two veins of coal. The first vein was 4 feet 4 inches, and the second vein 4 foot. The C. W. & V. Co. expect to sink a new shaft in the near future. Bucklen's Arnica Salve.
