ON A GOLD BASIS.

League No. 12, of Chicago, will have headquarters at Parlor B, at the Livingston, during the convention.

Dr. Broughton delivered a very interesting lecture to the club Thursday morning, and received a unanimous vote of thanks. The members of the faculty are always gladly welcomed.

Every member of the League and all gentlemen here for treatment should do all in their power to uphold the reputation of League No. 1 for hospitality during the state convention the 27th and 28th.

The editor has noticed many Keeley buttons at the world's fair. We also noticed that they were worn by well-dressed, fine-looking men, and that they had their wives with them. Would they have been there if it had not been for Doctor Keeley.

Mr. H. W. Lawrence left for home last Friday. His estimable wife came on to meet him, and they visited the world's fair this week. Mr. L. was a great worker for the club and made many friends both in and out of the organization who will be pleased to hear of his success in life.

Major E. Alliger, of New York, and Mr. V. Jacobs, of Australia, were elected president and vice-president, unanimously, Thursday morning, President Dr. Norris and vice-president Dr. Backus, retiring. The retiring officers were excellent ones and labored faithfully for the best interests of the league, and received a unanimous vote of thanks from the members. Major Alliger and Mr. Jacobs made interesting remarks.

Major S. E. Moore, of Pittsburgh, was in Dwight Monday. The Major is president of the the National Keeley League, and is very much interested in the September meeting which will take place in Chicago. He is also one of the fathers of the organization and much of its greatness to-day is due to the systematic work performed by himself and his secretary, John Kelly, of Pittsburgh. The Major informed us that possibly he might be present at the state convention in Dwight next week.

There was a large attendance at the Keeley club last evening and considerable business was done. The following members were chosen as delegates to the state convention of the Keeley club which is to be held at Dwight June 27th and 28th: W. C. Henderson, Wm. Comerford, W. C. Jones, Eli Johnson, and Chas. Holderman, with Thomas Owens, John Delookery, Thos. Flynn, El. Carr and Allie Welsh as alternates. —Morris Post.

The Graduate seems to be afraid that some one that has not been cured two or three years will have something to say, or receive an office, in the Illinois State convention of Keeley Leagues next week in Dwight. We fail to see any good reason why they should not speak their pieces. It is certainly a benefit to any organization to have new blood instilled into it. The Graduate infers that the new men will have a great deal to say and the old heads will run things in the convention. Is there a ring? There should be no jealousies or any undue desire to run things in the convention. The organization is for practical temperance reform and not for the aggrandizement of anyone in particular. The officers should be chosen with that aim in view no matter where they come from. The grand work to be accomplished must not be handicapped in any way.

Keeley Cure.

We meet upon a common plane—
The farmer, scribe and clerk—
The merchant leaves his counting room,
The laborer leaves his brief—
And all join to secure
The benefits which Dwight affords—
And praise the "Keeley Cure,"
The old, the young, the middle aged
Are dropping into line—
And I guess 'tis your experience—
I know full well 'tis mine—
That when they're ready to depart
In search of a favored power
They all unite to glorify
And praise the "Keeley Cure."

The youth who tampers with the glass
Will soon bear to his sorrow
His best girl saying when they part:
"Please go to Dwight to-morrow"
There'll be no chance for such a man
Although a touching wooer
'Till he returns with sweeter breath
To praise the "Keeley Cure."

In many homes throughout the land
Our patient loving wives
Are thanking God for this one gleam
Which brightens up their lives—
And when the children gather near—
So spotless and so pure—
They make a hallowed little band
To praise the "Keeley Cure."

When we have finally left these scenes,
Returned to kindred dear,
Strong in the strength which Keeley gives
Nerves firm, and vision clear,
To mingle in the business world
We cannot do a truer
A nobler or a better thing
Than praise the "Keeley Cure."

When the little span of life is passed
And everyone shall know
The secrets of that wondrous land
Where golden rivers flow—
There'll be no chance for such a man
Although a touching wooer
'Till he returns with sweeter breath
To praise the "Keeley Cure." —BRACE

Our Harry Gets There.

Good reports come from the work of Harry Lawrence every time. The following we clip from the Lacon Democrat:

The social given by the Keeley League last Thursday night was a decided success, both socially and financially. Mr. Lawrence's address was a good one and was listened to with interest. The recitations by Misses Hattie Kunkle and Pha Law were highly appreciated. The boys cleared about nineteen dollars. The thanks of the League are extended to the public for their liberal patronage, to the ladies who so kindly and efficiently assisted, and to Rev. Irving who donated $5 to the cause.

Tuesday Evening Entertainment.

The committee on entertainment for the past week, Messrs. J. H. Temple, J. H. Savitz, and P. E. Fonn, deserve a great deal of credit for the fine entertainment given this week. The league hall was well filled. The program was gone through with.

Prof. Fenn and Temple Address..... Mr. Fisher Recitation..... Ethel Watkins March Song..... Stella Borvik Violin Solo..... "The Girls" Recitation..... Prof. P. E. Fonn Pleasant Song..... "The Girls" Recitation..... Flora Smith Song..... "The Girls" Remarks..... Major Alliger Recitation..... Clara Jensen Song..... "The Girls"

Among the many features that might be spoken of with praise was the address by Rev. Fisher of the Congregational church. It was one of the best addresses ever delivered before the league, and was highly appreciated. He spoke in behalf of the home people and in behalf of the men here for treatment. One of his illustrations was particularly fine. He said in substance: Suppose for instance, I should hold up before the world the largest diamond, brilliant and beautiful, and some man should come along and say there was a slight flaw in the stone, would the people condemn the diamond. No. It is so with the gentlemen here for treatment. They are bright and intelligent, educated and have character, but they have had a flaw. They acknowledge the flaw when they come to Dwight, and deserve the right hand of fellowship from all mankind.

Major Alliger also made some very interesting remarks. Prof. Temple deserves great credit for the manner in which he had trained the little ones to sing. A Spirited Debate. The members of Keeley league No. 1 and all others who were present at the Monday and Tuesday meetings of the club were treated to a rare exhibition of wisdom, wit, logic and oratory.

Instead of the usual address or recitation the lecture committee had arranged for a discussion of the question, "Is the accumulation of great wealth in the hands of the few of advantage or disadvantage to the growth of a nation?" Mr. C. P. Umstot was selected to lead in the affirmative and Professor Temple followed in the negative. As both gentlemen spoke from their convictions the opening on each side was effective and interesting.

Mr. Umstot in his address was clear, logical and dignified and supported his position by an array of solid facts that seemed indisputable. Professor Temple surprised his listeners by an address that did full justice to his side of the question, and as an oratorical effort has rarely been excelled in the club room.

After the opening addresses had been delivered the club adjourned to continue the debate on the following day. Tuesday Mr. Claflin, of Chicago, in a short, pithy and forcible address opened the debate for the affirmative and was followed in the negative by Mr. J. H. Johnson, of Huntington, Oregon. It was evident from the first that Mr. Johnson was no novice in the art of debate or on the forum. He held his audience spell-bound until his closing sentence and the club has seldom listened to so ringing an address so effectively delivered. The debate was then closed and the judges, Messrs. J. L. McMurrer, James M. Savitz and Dr. W. P. S. Henry, took the pros and cons of the arguments and after a careful and exhaustive review of the question decided two to one in favor of the affirmative. Such debates, so well conducted, so effectively argued, are of interest, importance and full of instruction to all who hear them, and we express the hope that they will become a frequent feature in the future meetings of the club.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 28th of May, while in Des Moines en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhoea. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for the past seven years, and knowing its reliability, he procured a 25 cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to traveling often produce diarrhoea. Every one should procure a bottle of this Remedy before leaving home.

For sale by Dr. C. H. Barr, Dwight, Ill., and W. H. H. Augustine, Braceville, Ill.

Messrs. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga. Gentlemen—I've used nearly four bottles of P. P. P. I was afflicted from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet. Your P. P. P. has cured difficulty of breathing and smothering, palpitation of the heart and relieved me of all pains. One nostril was closed for ten weeks, now I can breathe through it readily.
