

Tally Another For the Keeley League of Morris.

Yesterday afternoon G. C. Ridings and B. C. Hitchcock took James Shaw who has been in the employ of Mr. H. to Dwight. Mr. Shaw is a man about 33 years of age, a native of Mass., a fine mechanic and will upon his return re-enter the employ of Mr. H. for one year. The following is furnished us by G. C. Ridings, the secretary of the league, and as the "boys" call him "The Father of Temperance in Morris."

This makes the seventh person that the Morris League has been instrumental in sending to Dwight and we doubt if there is another league in the state of its age and number of membership that can boast of half as good a record.

The money donated to this league, and used to pay for treatment, has been secured by notes payable to the executive board and placed in the bank where they are to be repaid in weekly installments. The return brings money back into the treasury but slowly and will take months to realize a sufficient amount to pay for another patient.

The League has used almost every dollar that has been donated, paid and unpaid, in their good work and now they must wait for the return of money advanced or more aid from their friends and citizens. There is no doubt but what both will respond as cheerfully as they have in the past, until the return payment is sufficient in amount to advance for the treatment of one per month at least. No money is used for this purpose unless approved of by a majority vote of the members of the Executive Board who are S. E. Massey, S. M. Underwood, Rev. C. S. Thomas, O. E. Erickson and Carlisle Walsh.

The further good work of this League is now dependent upon every person who is in sympathy with their labors and the cause for which they are so earnestly and deeply interested.—Morris Post.

The Entertainment.

The League entertainment Tuesday evening was one of the best given in many a moon. The committee appointed by President Ives was an exceedingly good one and worked faithfully together and were rewarded by success. The League room was filled to the doors and many stood outside and listened. The program opened by singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name" by audience. The following program was then rendered:

- Inst. Solo..... Miss Cora Baker
Recitation..... Miss Stella Baker
Vocal Solo..... Mr. Blackburn
Address..... Mrs. Ida B. Cole
Vocal Solo..... Miss Mable Huey
Recitation..... Hattie May Morris
Vocal Solo..... Mr. Dabry
Vocal Duets..... Rev. Cole, Mrs. Ubellar

The selections were all very fine and most of the renditions were encored. Judge Stiles, of Chicago, was present, and occupied a chair on the stage, and made some interesting remarks.

The address of Mrs. Ida B. Cole was excellent and full of interest all around.

Mr. Collins, a colored gentleman from the Livingston favored the audience with two fine selections, not on the program.

Mrs. Cole in her remarks said she met an old deacon in her travels who said he believed any man could stop drinking if he exerted his will power. After she was through Mr. Waters arose and said "Mr. Chairman, I believe a man can quit if he wants to but he can't want to save him from h—!"

We hope to see the interest in these entertainments kept up now. It has been dragging lately.

Keeley League.

It is difficult to see what the Graduate means by taking the control of the Keeley League from the institutes or those that are trying to make money out of it. Following are the officers: President Major S. E. Moore, of Pittsburg; vice-presidents, J. Mullaly, A. W. Hall; secretary, J. Kelly; executive board, O. W. Nash, Capt. A. H. Mattox, Mr. Lindner, J. A. Stratton, H. B. Elliott. There is only one man that we know of in the whole lot that is running institutes, and that is Captain Mattox, and he is one of the very best men connected with the league, and our only wish is that he may make lots of money out of his institutes. He is generous to a fault. The other men are all good ones. What does the Graduate mean. Does it mean that it is better for the League to get along without the influence and help of the solid, bright men who are managers and in other ways connected with Keeley institutes? Their record shows them to have been strong, consistent advocates of the Keeley cure long before they invested their money in institutes, and because they choose to do so as a matter of business, shows their sagacity. They and their class are the ones to look to for strength and support. The Graduate seems to want a Keeley League with Keeley left out.

ON A GOLD BASIS.

Harry Lawrence is visiting his wife and friends in Benton Harbor this week.

Tom Maxwell, of East St. Louis, visited the league this week. He is an old member.

Hattie May Morris, the little club girl, brought a pretty bouquet of flowers to league room Sunday.

John M. Kelly, secretary National League, was in Dwight this week. He reports convention matters booming.

Mr. Williams, of South Chicago, made an interesting address Thursday morning, full of force and telling points.

J. Hayden Burns, the twelfth president of the club, visited Dwight this week. He's the same jolly Burns and a 95er.

Thirteen dollars and a quarter was taken up last Saturday to assist in paying the board of some worthy man.

Mr. Benedict, of St. Paul gave a short and interesting lecture on a trip around the world Wednesday morning. This gentleman has recently been appointed to a government office, and left for Cape Town, South Africa, Thursday.

J. H. Esson, of Joliet, was unanimously elected the 100th president of Dwight League Thursday morning. Mr. Rodman was elected vice-president. They both thanked the members for the honor. President Ives retires full of glory, his week having been very successful.

Will Davis, president of League 12 of Chicago, was a league visitor Thursday morning. He made some excellent remarks which were highly appreciated. He was in Dwight in the interests of a handsome souvenir to be gotten up under the auspices of No. 12, for the purpose of raising finances for the league. It will be a handsome book.

A letter from Major Harry Inasley, manager of The Keeley Institute at Colorado Springs, announces that the delegation from that state will have a special convention train to Chicago in September. They will stop a day at Leavenworth and visit the Soldier's Home and take on the delegation from there and the band, and will also invite other delegations on the line to join them. Major Inasley is a great man for music and there will be lots of it in that delegation. The train will be decorated finely, and it is safe to say that everything will be in ship shape. That's the way Harry does things.
