NOTICE.

We have repeatedly sent out duns to several of our subscribers who live away from Dwight.

THE PUBLISHERS.

Dr. Williams, of Minneapolis, was here on business this week.

Judge Arnold, of Texas, is in Dwight on business with The Leslie E. Keely Co.

The members of the League should be more prompt at their morning meetings.

Dr. Leslie E. Keely delivered a fine lecture before the league Wednesday morning.

Mr. Irwin, of Keokuk, Iowa, spoke words of encouragement to the league Monday morning.

Every patient in Dwight should hear Capt. Jack Crawford to-night. His entertainments are very fine.

The old Board of Control, Messrs. W. G. Dustin, J. J. Miller and J. D. Bevans, were unanimously reelected Wednesday, for the ensuing year.

A letter from our old friend Shepherd formerly reporter for the STAR and HERALD, a graduate of over two years standing, was read to the league last week.

All members of Keely League No 1 should purchase their autograph books at the Secretary's office.

John M. Kelly spent Sunday in Dwight, and delivered a splendid address to the League at the song service.

Moving South. Good soil, pure water and excellent climate are advantages to be considered when looking up a home, business location, farm, etc.

The STAR and HERALD is in receipt of a very nice letter from Ex-Vice-president C. S. Shanklin, who took such a prominent part in the league amusements while in Dwight a short time since.

Mrs. Ida B. Cole, National Secretary, Treasurer of the Woman's Auxiliary Keely League, says: "The Keely graduates are not free from moral law, but prepared the better to obey it.

Mrs. Austin, the treasurer, was present, for the first time since her sickness.

The attendance was small—too small. The ladies should attend meetings regularly.

Donations amounting to $11 have recently received from kind hearted people, and the ladies are very thankful for all help to assist in the cause.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lyle Saxon, of New Orleans, recently elected National President Woman's Auxiliary Keely League, was born in Tennessee and reared in Alabama.
