

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

School Notes.

The members of the High School now number 64.

There is some talk of a school excursion to the fair.

Miss Madge Owen has joined us in our school work.

Several of the teachers were at the fair last Saturday.

Miss Bertha Spellman has been absent this week on account of sickness.

Messrs. Miller and Pettett, members of the board, visited the school Tuesday.

Miss Julia Kelly and Miss Mertie Bureau have returned to their school duties.

Several members of the book-keeping class were "off balance" and it took several days for them to get straight again.

The Physics class is indebted to M. Estes Buck and Howe Parker for a neat and accurate balance. Thus we add to our apparatus.

A course in opposition work has been arranged in the Grammar and High School departments. It requires a lengthy, neatly written composition every two months, on such subjects as are assigned in biography, narration, history, description, literary, abstract themes, &c.

A. and B.

Jeffers-Phelps.

At the residence of the bride's parents on Monday evening, Oct. 16, at 8 p. m., Miss Nellie S. Jeffers and Mr. Everett G. Phelps, of Janesville, Wis., were united in marriage, Rev. Fisher, officiating. A few of the bride's relatives and most intimate friends only were present. The bride wore an elegant crystal silk of the brightest heliotrope hue and the groom in conventional black. Several useful presents were presented to the happy couple.

The evening was a fine one and everybody off pleasantly.

After the ceremony a bountiful feast was prepared which all enjoyed. Miss Nellie has been a teacher for a couple of years and is a stenographer, hence the result is another type-writer in our loss.

Mrs. Phelps is an estimable young lady and has hosts of friends in this neighborhood. Mr. Phelps, it will be remembered, was in the employ of Major C. J. Judd for sometime, and is a man of sterling qualities. We join their many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Phelps left Tuesday for a brief visit to the fair and will then take up their residence in Janesville, Wis.

Wonderful Success.

Miller Bros. of Dwight, are a firm that the people of the city should be proud of. They have built up their immense business from a small beginning, until now it is the largest of any house in this vicinity. This has been accomplished by fairness with all their customers. The firm employ about twenty-five hands the year round, and has thus been a valuable industry for Dwight. This year they have taken even more pains than ever to please their customers, and it is only necessary to call on them to be pleased.

Miller Bros.' clothing department is complete in every particular—styles, prices, etc. The gents' furnishing department cannot be beaten, and the merchant tailoring department is second to none.

The dry goods store is the envy of all dealers, the shelves containing everything new in that line.

The millinery department is a bower of beauty.

We have not the space to speak of everything, but advise you to call at the immense combined stores and see for yourselves.

Miller Bros. will have a great cloak sale next Tuesday, the 24th.

Read their advertisement in this issue.

A Damage Case.

The case decided in the circuit court last week against the Village of Chatsworth, should be a warning to all villages and cities. Mrs. Eliza Rowe was badly injured by falling on a defective sidewalk in Chatsworth in 1889. She sued the town for $5,000 and won the case in the circuit court at Pontiac about four years ago and got a judgment for $2,500. The town officials thought to get the verdict reversed and carried the case to the supreme court. The case was sent back to the circuit court for a new trial, and last week Mrs. Rowe secured a verdict against the village for $3,200. The village will now have to settle, and the amount might have been saved by the expenditure of a few dollars in time.

Insured for $2,000.

Chris. Eyer was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America, and carried an insurance policy for $2,000. Of course this is no recompense for the loss of a husband or father, but it will assist the widow in the care and education of the bright little boy that is left fatherless.

Something New in Oil.

The attention of the farmers is called to the fact that they can get the best Kerosene Oil at Gregg & Starrett's feed store on Mason Ave.

Frank Reeb has returned from the K. P. meeting in Decatur, where he went as a delegate, and reports a grand meeting. Chas. Burgoyne, of Chicago, was elected grand chancellor. The next meeting will be held in Springfield.

Mrs. Frank Jones, son and daughter, of Gardner, and Mrs. Stevens and John Fish, of Maine, are the guests of A. Baker. They visited the laboratory and treatment hall and other places of interest and are very much pleased with Dwight.

Rev. Grower, professor and representative of the Chicago Congregational Seminary, preached two excellent sermons in the Congregational church last Sunday. He is a man of excellent ability and was successful in raising some money to assist scholars.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCartney, of Central Falls, R. I., have been spending the past week with G. L. Taylor and family. Mr. McCartney was formerly a resident of this place, but for the past twenty years has been superintendent of the American Curling Co., of Central Falls.

Advertised Letters, Dwight Post Office, Oct. 18, 1893.—Cordelia Harris, Henrietta Hayes, Ole Jacobsen, O. E. Kreste, W. H. Martin, G. E. Olden, G. C. Parkington, Andrew Peterson, Kliffie Russell, G. S. Thomas, A. S. White, J. White, Geo. White, Gustave Wolf, Miss Lizzie York.—J. B. Parsons, P. M.

L. J. Trummel, of Dwight, was chosen foreman of the grand jury last week at Pontiac, and he made a good one. There is nothing like being an all around man. Lou can run a hotel with the best of them, run a grand jury, judge a horse race, don't take a back seat in a game of cinch, and we believe could run a postoffice all right—if he got a chance.

The Andrews Opera Co., gave "La Mascotte" in the opera house Thursday night to a fair sized audience. The above play was substituted for "Princess of Trebizonde," on the afternoon previous to the show. They are not the same people with the company there was last year, but they are just as good all around and in some parts much better. The leading characters were all well sustained, and it is a very pleasant evening's entertainment for those who appreciate comic opera.

Thomas, the nine year old son of Patrick Monahan, of Budd Station, was thrown from a pony he was riding on Sunday, and was carried in an unconscious condition into the house of P. Delahanty. About an hour afterward he was carried to his father's home, and Dr. James McCoy, of this city, called to attend him. At the present writing the boy shows only a moderate concussion of the brain and minor bruises on the back of the head and the shoulder blade. It is to be hoped that nothing more serious may develop.—Ransom Public.

NEWS AND NONSENSE.

Chicken pie socials are held in Fairbury. Yum! Yum!

The Sons of Veterans of Ransom will give a ball Oct. 27.

Wateka wants a "Wateka Day" at the fair. Don't want much.

G. W. Larimer, brakeman on the 3-1, was quite badly hurt last week.

Paxton will pave Main street with brick, similar to the way Dwight didn't.

Mrs. Capt. John P. McLean and John Koester, of Bloomington, died Monday.

The Independent Times says there is gambling going on in Streator. Is it possible?

Rev. A. Warner, pastor of the Congregational church at Gridley, died last week Monday.

The wheel managers at the Mazon races did no business. Are people tumbling to themselves?

C. Irion's jewelry store was burglarized at Fairbury, by a fellow by the name of Etter. He was captured.

The grand lodge, K. P., of Illinois, met at Decatur last Tuesday. The attendance was large and enthusiastic.

Christian Rieck, of Kankakee, was badly wounded last week, while resisting an attack of burglars at his home.

Ex-Congressman Owen Scott, of Bloomington, has purchased the Odd Fellows Herald, and will make an excellent paper of it.

Kankakee is surely a cosmopolitan city. A street car load of people were held up in North Kankakee, the conductor sandbagged and robbed and the passengers badly frightened.

C. Y. Trice, the land agent, was in the city this morning. He arrived on the vestibule from Kansas City, and when the train stopped here he jumped off and ran to the engineer and requested him to slack up at Mazon, as he would like to get off there. This was agreed to and Trice started back to his car. Just as he arrived there the train started, and then he remembered that he wanted to get off at Seneca and not at Mazon. As he had not asked the engineer to stop there he let the train go on without him and waited until the 10 o'clock train came along. When the reporters called at the depot Trice was looking over some advertisements of brain food. He said he needed something of the kind, as he had recently bought a pocketbook on time and had now forgotten where he was at.—Streator Free Press.

Hard times make desperate men and tramps. There will be lots of them out through the country and the people should be prepared for them.

Rev. Irl Hicks predicts storms the 23d and 24d and from the 26th to the 30th. He also predicted them for the 15th to 18th, but he was not right.

Ex-Mayor Boys was fined $5 for thumping Occasional Editorial Writer Shay. If the latter had written editorials all the time probably the fine would have been larger.

The large general merchandise store of T. S. McDonald, of Sibley, Ill., was burned last week. The owner was a former resident of Campus. The post-office was in the building.

There has been quite a number of jail deliveries this year. The Streator Free Press says all prisoners should be vaccinated to keep them from breaking out. Altgeld might interfere.

Miss Emma Ford, of Springfield, dreamed her mother's spirit came to her and told her where she could find a box containing something of value. She woke up and found a box of money. That's a good way.

The Democrat, of Kankakee, says Snow is not big enough for a Congressman, let alone governor. Brydia, of the Record, will suspend the Democrat. There is more fun than a box of monkeys in politics if you are out of it.

We are in receipt of Vol. 1 No. 3 of the Public, a neat well edited paper published and edited by B. S. Ford, of Ransom, Ill. Ransom is a lively little town and they support it deserves.

A couple of Poles got married in Streator the other day, and the reporter of one of the papers couldn't find out their names. This is the way he wound up a notice of the wedding. "We extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dont-knownameski."

Streator people, who are in the habit of putting buttons in the contribution box on Sunday, may be profited by reading the following: "Brethren," said a Rockford preacher when the collection was being made, "perhaps some of you will be kind enough to put a needle and thread in the bag so that I may be enabled to make some use of the buttons with which you are all so liberal."—Streator Free Press.

Andrew Devan and S. L. Glover went to Essex this week to build a house for parties there.

Mel Spencer has rented one of Phillip Clover's farms, and is preparing to farm for himself, all he lacks now is a woman, and he expects to have one soon. There's no flies on Mel.

Union.

Miss Mamie Marshall is visiting the White City at present.

Mrs. A. Marshall is visiting her sister, Mrs. McDonald in Iowa.

Miss Sue Essington attended the world's fair on Chicago day.

Mrs. Sarah McKane is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Essington.

Master Claud Thompson and sister, Mabel attended the world's fair on Chicago day.

We can already hear the bang of the golden ears against the throw-board before the break of day.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roth has been quite sick for the last two weeks, but is slowly recovering.

A sad accident occurred while blasting a well at Emington about 11 o'clock, a. m. There were five killed and five wounded. The five injured ones are doing as well as can be expected from the latest reports.

Pontiac Pick-ups.

Chris. Strawn was a Chicago visitor to the fair the first of the week.

Reese John was attending to his large real estate interests near Olney, Illinois, this week.

Capt. Avery was in Olney in the interests of the Mutual Aid this week. Mrs. Avery accompanied him to the fair to-day.

Walter Farrow and Pierce Koons, forgers, plead guilty in the circuit court the former being sent to the reformatory for one year and the latter to the penitentiary for the same time. Andrew Etter, of Fairbury, plead guilty of burglary and got four years. John Charley did the same and got one year. The court was busy with the Nels Nelson vs. Chicago & Alton damage case at this writing.

Strength and Health.

If you are not feeling strong and healthy, try Electric Bitters. If "la grippe" has left you weak and weary, use Electric Bitters. This remedy acts directly on liver, stomach and kidneys, gently aiding those organs to perform their functions. If you are afflicted with sick headache, you will find permanent relief by taking Electric Bitters. One trial will convince you that this is the remedy you need. Large bottles only 50c, at Dr. Barr, Dwight, and Augustine's Braceville, Drug Store.

There are twenty-three moonshiners selling liquor on the drainage canal, so says an exchange.

Moving South.

Convenient markets, good soil, pure water and excellent climate are advantages to be considered when looking up a home, business location, farm, etc. Maryland and the Virginias afford these, with many more advantages. Improved farm lands adapted to stock raising, dairying, grain, grass and fruit growing, can be obtained at low prices and upon easy terms. Thriving towns invite the merchant, mechanic and business man. Abundance of coal, timber, ore, water power, etc. Free sites for manufacturers.
