OBITUARY.

It was a mysterious dispensation of God's providence that death should enter the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wiumar Thanksgiving evening and take from them their only child, a bright, affectionate, dutiful son, aged but fifteen years. And while his spiritless form lay cold in death Thanksgiving day, 'twas hard to recognize the kindly hand of Him who dealt that stroke.

Only the most implicit faith in His mercy and wisdom could make that day a day of thanksgiving to those parents, bereft of their loving and beloved boy.

"Rejoice for a brother deceased,
Our loss is his infinite gain,
A soul out of prison released,
And freed from its bodily chain.
With songs let us follow his flight,
And mount with his spirit above,
Escaped to the mansions of light
And lodged in the Eden of love.
Our brother the haven hath gained,
Out flying the tempest and wind,
His rest he hath sooner obtained,
And left his companions behind."

At a meeting of the Sons of Veterans Tuesday evening the following officers for 1894 were nominated, and as there is but one candidate for each office they will be elected unanimously at the next meeting: Captain, Orville Brown; 1st Lieut., John T. Buffham; 2d Lieut., Harry Seeley; Camp Council, W. G. Dustin, A. A. Boyer, Jos. K. Buffham. It is proposed to have a social gathering after the three meetings of the Corps, Post and Sons, Tuesday the 19th, and invite their friends. Each one will be required to pay ten cents to partly cover expenses. Lunch will be served.

Just in Time.

By dint of hard work and frozen fingers our new studio is rapidly nearing completion, and will be a gem from the ground up, which is not a great way, to be sure, but sufficiently high for all practical purposes, as we will demonstrate to the people of Dwight before spring. It is not absolutely necessary to be up in the air to make good photographs, and much more convenient for the customers to be on the ground.

We will be ready to receive our friends and patrons by the 12th of December and will make a negative or two free of charge of all those willing to pass through the trying ordeal, whether you desire photos or not. As you know, this is an entirely new enterprise, and we want to get a batch of negatives as soon as possible from which to print a display.

The holidays are rapidly approaching, and we all realize the obligation we are under at this time of the year. What can be more appropriate or more thoroughly appreciated than a nice photograph to give to your friends?

If you can arrange for sittings at once we will be able to finish the work before Christmas.

EVANS & CRANDALL.

It hasn't got out very much tha Frank Smith is a lawyer, but he is, when he has to be. Will Ketcham was busy last Friday with a case here, and also had a case in Gardner. Mr. Ketcham will undertake most anything, but being in Dwight and Gardner at the same time is not good law. Frank Smith went up to Gardner to attend to that case and carried a Blackstonian look with him, and appeared before a justice and demanded a continuance The justice demurred, but Frank persisted, and when the justice denied the continuance Frank made a motion for a change of venue. The justice said it was irregular. Frank had considerable time with him that he had no use for and insisted on looking up authorities for the past one hundred and fifty years more or less, and the judge being a man well along in years concluded life was too short and granted a continuance to 9 o'clock the next morning, when Will Ketcham took charge. Frank says if the justice hadn't got tired out and had called the case, he intended to examine witnesses until Ketcham came.
