

PEIXOTO RESIGNED.

The rumor not authentic, and doubted. Sullivan's wife lays him out with a club. Rival senators were organized in New Jersey.

CRIME AND CASUALTY.

Judge Hatch and McGeehan, Iowa fell from a bridge and broke both legs above the knees. The young sister of George Farrar, boy of 11, was arrested, but the stolen goods near Greenville, Ala., with a gunboat won in the breast. Mrs. McCullough, another boy, is jailed for the murder.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Harry Kennedy, the well-known ventriloquist and song writer, died at New York. Mr. Kennedy was about 45 years of age and was well known throughout the country. He was a prominent member of the Elks and for the last few months has managed the new Bijou Theater in Brooklyn.

POLITICAL.

Galusha A. Crow was nominated for Congressman-at-large by the Pennsylvania Republicans at Harrisburg. The Republicans of the Fourteenth New York District have nominated Lemuel Ely Quigg, of the New York Tribune, for Congressman. Frederick A. Seagrist has been nominated for Congress by the Fifteenth District Republicans.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Payment of $3,010,000 in gold for interest on bonds carried the reserve down to $77,400,000. Chief Post Office figures show the value of the country's foreign mail for 1893 to be the greatest since 1864. Sterling Morton, Secretary of Agriculture, says he does not intend to abolish the agricultural experimental stations.

FOREIGN.

A blinding snowstorm prevailed on the English channel. It is believed a number of vessels were wrecked. Ten anarchists arrested for complicity in dynamite outrages in Spain have been given over to the military authorities for trial. Nicaragua and Honduras now have something to fight about. Policarpo Bonilla, leader of the Honduras insurgents, has invaded Honduras from Nicaraguan territory and set up a provisional government, which has been recognized by President Zelaya, of Nicaragua.

MISCELLANEOUS.

It has developed that J. Pierpont Morgan is the philanthropist who has donated a large sum of money to Nathan Strauss, newly chartered in New York, for the grocery store where articles of food may be purchased cheaply by the poor. The amount given is understood to be $50,000. The man who makes this generous gift never speaks of his name, but it is thought his charities foot up fully $100,000 annually. Representatives of many States are at Detroit to form a new secret labor society. Sol Collins, Spring Creek Mo., threw powder on the life of Collins, his wife and four children will die. Editor Goodwin, of the Sedalia (Mo.) Bazon, was thrashed again. This time a man attacked and thoroughly whipped him. Private trial of the big high pressure English locomotive was made at Milwaukee. The time was poor. Superintendent McClure, of the Postiac (Ill.) reformatory, denies the rumor that he is to go to Massachusetts. Mrs. Joseph Wauke, of Mansfield, Ohio, crazed with the grip, seized her eight-months-old child, Sadie, and hurrying to the canal near by plunged in. The water was drawn from the canal, when the drowned body of the mother, with her child in her arms, floated to the surface, was found lodged against a lock. Commissioner Lucken has rescinded the order suspending the payment of a pension to Judge Logg, of the Michigan Supreme Court. This action is taken, the Commissioner says, because of the provision in the deficiency bill passed by Congress which declares a pension a vested right which cannot be suspended without their consent. Saturday morning's dispatches told of the arrival of the revenue cutter Corwin of San Francisco from Honolulu, but what information her officers brought is also being conjectured only. Her commander is not laid at San Francisco, but steamed away to Mare Island yard. As soon as the report by wire from Honolulu was received from that city by the commander of the cruiser Melean, which was followed by a great bustle on that vessel and preparations for instant departure. The crew's officers were ordered to the greatest condition exists at Honolulu. It is even hinted that there has been collision between United States and professional government forces, with bloodshed and the loss of many lives. The commander has on board prisoners. No one was allowed to board her, and for several hours telegrams flew thick and fast to and from Washington. The steamer Mason struck a snag and went down at Frisco Point, Miss. No one reported injured. The Mason had 500 tons of freight. St. Louis steambent men are of the opinion, owing to the locality, that the Mason will be a total loss. Mrs. Mary McCullough, aged 200, died an hour after being dug out of the rags and dirt in her St. Louis home. Plans for the Milwaukee public library and museum, to cost $500,000, have been selected by the trustees. The steamer Venezuela arrived at New York from Venezuela, bringing news of the election of General Crespo as President of Venezuela. On Dec 20 four persons succeeded in passing a forged check of a prominent depositor in the Bank of Caracas and secured $54,000. A Republican inspector has arrested J. H. Willis and William A. Bell, at St. Joseph, Iowa, on the charge of using the mails to defraud patent-right owners. For the last three or four days negro miners of Yale, Kan., and vicinity have been suffering from epidemic and several have died already. The disease seems only a few hours and has a few symptoms of heart failure. Many white families are said to be moving out on account of the threatened danger. It is not thought that it will trouble the whites at all. A United States Postoffice Inspector found that W. D. Smith, postmaster at Lyons, Neb., was $500 short in his accounts. His bondsmen have taken charge and have secured the services of C. Van Kirk, ex-Postmaster, for the time being. Maud Winfield and Lottie Droyph, two Brooklyn girls, fought a duel over a young man, and Lottie is at death's door. A crane undertook to collect $100,000 of George Gould at Lakewood, N. J., but was unable to do so. The Hon. Edson C. Chick, a Brooklyn newspaper man, and he has been an inmate of a lunatic asylum. The Pennsylvania is accused of setting pace in rate cutting, furnishing scalpers with the tickets they want. By paying large commissions the Canadian lines are securing immigrant business. The recent pool is endangered. The Kansas Supreme Court has directed the Dodge City, Montezuma and Trinidad to relay its rails recent turn up. All the tickets for the Chicago and St. Paul have been taken up. The Corbett-Mitch complication. He will stop the big fight. Thirty-five Chicago residents will soon start upon a ten-weeks trip to the Mediterranean and the Orient. The suit which was commenced by C. A. Speckels against his father, Adolph Speckels, and his two brothers with an attempt to defraud him out of his interest in the Hawaiian Commercial Company, was dismissed at San Francisco. Dissensions in the Speckels family have been settled and a compromise effected whereby C. A. Speckels retains his interest. A rich gold strike is reported to have been made in the mountains north of El Paso, Texas. Many are leaving for the field.

FINANCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL.

The beet sugar factory in Lehi, Utah, the largest in the world, has just finished the season with a record of having manufactured over four million pounds. This mill, owned by Mormons with Mormon capital, and having been carefully and economically run is considered a great success. The sugar beets under irrigation have proved more profitable than was anticipated. The sugar qualities seem to be of an improved grade, yielding superior to the same kind from which the seed was obtained. The Hayes Realty and Financial Company at St. Louis has made an assignment, with liabilities of $160,000. Talk about the banks is more cheerful than it was last month. Demand for money shows improvement. Bank clearings at American cities for the week show a decrease of 25.8 per cent in comparison with last year. L. O. Lathrop & Co., publishers at Boston, Mass., have been liquidated. Liabilities and assets large. A decrease of 297 per cent in sales the last half of 1893 is shown by reports covering various branches of trade at Chicago.

THE MARKETS.

Table with market prices for various commodities including Chicago, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Cincinnati. Columns list items like HOGS, SHEEP, WHEAT, and their respective prices.

THE FIRE RECORD.

It was discovered that three lives were lost in a New York fire, in the building on the corner of Pearl street and Centis slip. All were suffocated by the smoke. There were about fifteen persons in the building when the fire was discovered. The loss is small. At Sebell City fire destroyed the opera house block. Seven business houses were burned. The loss will probably reach $50,000, with very little insurance.

NO CONFIRMATION.

ADVERSE REPORT ON JUDGE HORNBLOWER.

Fire Solves the Problem of Removal of Some World's Fair Palace—There Has Been No Bloodshed in Hawaii—Modus Vivendi Continued. From Far and Near. William H. Hornblower, President Cleveland's nominee for the vacancy on the United States Supreme Bench, will probably not be confirmed. At a committee of the Senate on Monday, Mr. Hornblower was instructed to make an unfavorable report by a majority of the committee on the nomination.

Bones of Contention.

Washington Correspondence. A discussion of the capital are the Wilson tariff bill and the proposed bond issue. The free silver people are decided to rally against any issue of bonds, taking the position that all that is needed is a plentiful coinage of the white metal and its use as money. The Texas delegation will be solidly against any issue of bonds, and the silver issue will be solidly against any issue of bonds.

THE WILSON BILL.

As to the Wilson tariff bill, the general opinion is that it will pass through in some shape or other. Representative Turner, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, who has just returned from his home in Missouri, says he found no one among his constituents dissatisfied with the tariff bill. Representative Hayes, of Iowa, says the bill will become a law in time, and that all differences about it will be adjusted within the party, so that there will be no fatal break over it. Representative Stevens, of Massachusetts, who is a member of the Ways and Means Committee, and an extensive woolen manufacturer, says the bill will pass the House unchanged, and that whatever changes are made before the measure becomes a law will be made in the Senate, and that the House will do nothing to change it.

Routine Proceedings.

Since the reassembling of Congress after the holidays but little has been done. Filibustering has been the order of the day, and the Wilson tariff bill has been the rule in both houses. It has been almost impossible to complete any measure of importance. The indications now are that the leaders of both parties, in both Senate and House, will unite with the Democrats in opposing the tariff bill. In any event, exhaustive debates are certain to ensue upon both questions mentioned above, and the House will probably pass an essential element in the calculation.

BOOMING THE SOUTH.

Capital Turning the Tide of Immigration in That Direction. The immigration sentiment in the South is taking on practical forms. Within a few months, writes a Washington correspondent, the tide of immigration has been brought from the West and settled in Maryland, near Chesapeake Bay. A few days ago a number of colonists bound together by the same yearning to get down to the South, and to get a tract of land bought by them. These are signs of a general movement. The Southern Government met at Richmond last April and adopted an address of welcome to intending settlers. They assumed the form of opinion and protection of rights under the law to all honest, well-meaning people. Several States have followed up this formal expression by organizing committees to prepare and disseminate facts about their lands, and the prices of them for inquirers. In a notable way this has been done by Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Texas and Arkansas. And now conditions are being prepared for the work of placing immigrants in these Southern States after the same plans and methods which settled the great Northwest so rapidly.

Overlook of News.

E. H. JONES has been convicted of murder at Georgetown, O. The Children's Endowment Association assigned at Minneapolis. The assets are $175,000; liabilities unknown. STEPHEN LAWRETT WILLIAMS, a high school teacher, committed suicide at Buffalo, illness making him temporarily insane. JAMES E. GALVIN, the base ball pitcher, was arrested at Cleveland, charged with stealing a diamond pin and gold watch, a young man with a strip of
