KEELEY CURE NEWS.

STAR AND HERALD to January 1, '95, for $1 to new subscribers. Try it.

Dr. Leslie E. Keeley again addressed a large audience of patients at the club house Thursday morning.

Wm. H. Tatge, of Englewood, was re-elected president this week. He has been enjoying a visit from his wife.

Blake E. Barrows, of Farmington, Ill., who has done some excellent missionary work in the Keeley cause since his graduation in 1892, arrived in Dwight with another patient Tuesday.

Fred Lavercombe, traveling salesman for Butler Bros. wholesale department store in Chicago, visited in Dwight on Tuesday. He was a graduate of '91 and glories in his cure. He says there is no occasion for a man to drink again after taking treatment in Dwight, unless there is something wrong with the graduates head.

Bill Nye, the celebrated humorist, lecturer etc., and his partner Hawley Smith, the elocutionist, and their agent while waiting in Dwight for a south bound train Thursday called on Secretary Brown and were shown through the club rooms. Dr. Leslie E. Keeley and Dr. Burdick were with the party. They were also shown through the offices and expressed themselves as delighted with all they saw during their limited visit. Mr. Nye was kept busy for a time writing his name in the autograph books handed him by the patients.

The Old, Old Story.

Last week a theatrical looking fellow appeared on our streets in a (last) spring overcoat, surmounted by a shiny silk "dicer," and profusely perfumed with cum spiritu fremment, with other essences of milder natures. He claimed to represent a Dwight picture firm, which desired to make up about 30 crayon portraits for Gardner people at $2 each including frame. This was not to be done through any particular love for the Gardner people, although they charged $10 in Dwight for the same thing, but he blandly informed them, it was simply done to advertise the firm's work and to introduce it into Gardner. With each order he required a deposit of $1; and we are sorry to say some people in this town were foolish enough to be duped, and lost their pictures to be enlarged, as well as their money, some of these pictures being the only ones in their possession and of deceased relatives. He next visited Braidwood and, after taking an "order" from a young lady, demanded the usual deposit. She had only a $10 bill, producing same. She claims he grabbed the bill from her, saying, "I will get it changed." He got it changed, but instead of returning he darted through the back door, climbed the fence and adorned the city of Wilmington with his presence, where he was picked up by an officer and brought back on complaint of the young lady. He now lies in the county bastille at Joliet. Moral: Don't ever expect to get $10 worth of goods for $2. -Gardner Tribune,
