THE NATION'S SOLONS.

SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Our National Law-Makers and What They Are Doing for the Good of the Country—Various Measures Proposed, Discussed and Acted Upon.

Deaths of Congress.
The Senate spent considerable time on the seigniorage bill Wednesday, and in executive session confirmed the nomination of J. Marshall Withers of Ohio as United States Marshal, and reserved the right to reconsider if found desirable. In the House forty pages of the sundry civil bill were discussed on making in all eighty-three in two days, and leaving only sixteen pages more, exclusive of two paragraphs, those relating to the Missouri River Commission, which were passed over temporarily. No amendments of importance were adopted, although the National House members made a vigorous effort to increase the amount for the survey of public lands.

Seigniorage Bill Passed.
The seigniorage bill passed the Senate Thursday a vote of 43 to 31, after an interesting debate. The Senate then took up and passed the bill to amend an act authorizing the construction of a great bridge over the Missouri River at Sioux City. A charter was also granted the Iowa and Nebraska Pontoon Bridge Company authorizing it to build a bridge across the Missouri River near Sioux City. After an executive session of thirty-five minutes the Senate passed a bill to extend the Duley and Winnebago Railroad Company a right of way through the Chipewau and White Earth Indian reservations in Minnesota. Bills to extend the time for completing a bridge across the Missouri River between Kansas City and the city of St. Louis, and granting right of way to the Duluth and Manitoba Railway Company across the Fort Pembina reservation in North Dakota, and the reservation of certain lands in Oklahoma for the Agricultural College passed. Consideration of the sundry civil bill was resumed.

In the House Friday morning after the passage of a resolution calling up on the Secretary of the Treasury for information as to measures taken by him for the improvement and inspection of public buildings the House went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the sundry civil bill. An amendment offered by Mr. Loub, directing the Superintendent of the Coast and Geodetic Survey to examine the coast survey harbor approaches thereto, was adopted. To the paragraph appropriating $750,000 for expenditure by the Missouri River Commission, an amendment setting aside $75,000 of the appropriation to strengthen and improve the river banks at Jackson and Levee worth. Mr. Mercer offered a substitute for the amendment, being to set aside $150,000 of the appropriation for the Missouri River Commission to be expended in the construction, repair, and maintenance of levees between the mouth of the Platte River and Sioux City. He stated that he had the honor to be made to understand that there was something besides the sixteen-mile reach at Jefferson City which needed better protection. The bill between Omaha and Council Bluffs should be looked after.

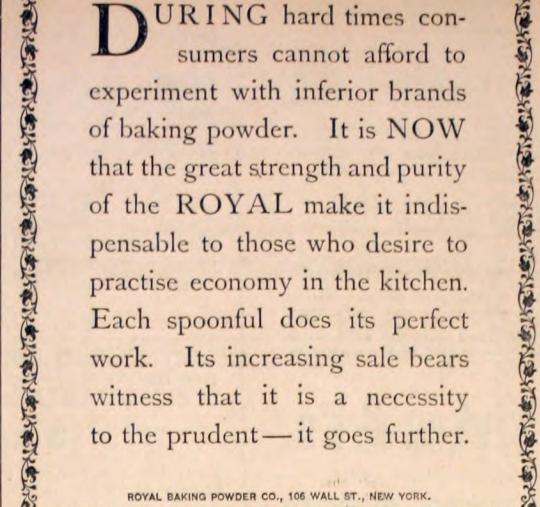

In the House Saturday the Senate amendments to the Senate bill to charter the Iowa and Nebraska Pontoon Bridge Company and to construct a high wagon bridge at Sioux City, Iowa, were agreed to. The House then went into committee of the whole, and the consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill was resumed. Mr. Bowers offered an amendment to the appropriation of the sundry civil appropriation bill, to be expended in the employment of special counsel in the cases of the South Pacific Electric Railway and the United States patents now pending at Los Angeles. The chair ruled the amendment out of the ground that it changed existing law. The committee then rose. The resolution authorizing the enlistment men of the army and navy to wear a badge on public occasions on military duty was agreed to. The remainder of the day was devoted to eulogies upon the life and character of the late Representative W. H. Enock of Ohio.

The House Monday devoted the entire day to the consideration of the sundry civil bill. There was no important business transacted in the Senate, the entire day being consumed in the consideration of bills on the calendar. Most of these were measures of small importance, among them being several of immediate interest to the people of the District of Columbia. A number of bills were taken from the calendar and passed, among them a bill to regulate the making of property maps by officers of the coast and geodetic survey, an act authorizing the Texas and Fort Smith Railway Company to bridge the Missouri River at St. Louis, in the States of Louisiana and Texas. The Senate reported on the President's message in regard to the occupation of Bluefields, Nicaragua, and also a message relative to Hawaiian affairs.

The sundry civil appropriation bill was passed by the House Tuesday without division. The amendment of the appropriation for the General Land Office, amending the provision of the act of 1891, repealing the timber culture and pre-emption acts, which was adopted in the House, and the sundry civil appropriation bill, was passed by the House. The bill was passed by the House (District of Columbia, pension, fortifications and sundry civil appropriation) of $24,315,958 as compared with the same bills for the current fiscal year.

Helped Morse with the Telegraph.
The recent death in Hartford, Conn., of Albert Vail has attracted attention to the fact that her husband, who died in Morristown, N. J., in 1859, aided Morse in inventing the electric telegraph. In fact, Mrs. Vail for thirty years exerted herself to secure for him proper credit for share in that great work. At the World's Fair he received recognition by having his name displayed in letters of light among those of eminent electricians.

Tower of Solferino.
The monument which has been erected upon the battlefield of Solferino is one of the largest, if not the largest, of its kind in Europe. It consists of a tower seventy-four meters high, surmounted by an electric lamp, and rises in seven stories, each representing a campaign in the struggle for the independence of Italy. Each separate story contains all the names of the Generals and other officers, as well as the men who fought in that campaign. No fewer than 70,000 names are thus inscribed on the inner walls of the monument. On the ground floor are the busts and portraits of all the leading generals, and the chief ornaments in the center of the ground floor is the colossal monument in bronze of Victor Emanuel by the Venetian sculptor, Dal Zotto. The tower stands in grounds beautifully laid out, and constitutes a magnificent memorial of Italian unity. Beneath the structure repose 2,000 skulls and other remains of soldiers of three nations who fell on the field of Solferino.

The Land of Promise.
In the mighty West, the land that "flecked with a blue haze a harvest" the El Dorado of the miner; the goal of the agricultural emigrant. While it teems with all the elements of wealth and prosperity, some of the fairest and most fruitful portions of it bear a harvest of malaria reaped in its fullness by those unprotected by a medicinal safeguard. No one seeking or dwelling in a malarial localities is safe from the scourge without Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Emigrants, bear this in mind. Commercial travelers sojourning in malarious regions should carry a bottle of the Bitters in the traditional grip, and against the fever, and the cholera, and the other, damp and unwholesome food or water, it is an infallible defense. Constipation, nervousness, depression, nervousness and loss of strength are all remedied by this genial restorative.

A Substitute for Olive Oil.
In Southern Germany for some years past oil has been produced from the beechnut. It has given great satisfaction as a substitute for olive oil, but has not come into general use because the production is small. One reason why more has not been done in the production of this beechnut oil has been the great scarcity of the nut in certain years.

The "Laughing Plant" of Arabia.
The "laughing plant" produces black, bean-like seed, small doses of which, when dried and powdered, intoxicated the natives of the Arabian coast. It is a drug in the drug stores, and laughs like a madman for about an hour, when he becomes exhausted and falls into a death-like sleep which often lasts several hours and leaves the victim in an awful state of nervous collapse.

Tariff and Taxation.
Tariff duties and internal revenue taxation on incomes and corporations are exciting public interest, but of quite as much interest are those things which tax the system and require at once an external remedy. On this subject, with special recommendation, Mr. Pierce D. Brown, Brigadier-General, Massachusetts, who has been from all kinds of athletic sports, to reduce sprains and bruises, I have used St. Jacobs Oil and always found it most reliable." Also, Mr. C. R. Sands, Marzom, Olla, writes: "I have used St. Jacobs Oil for sprains and rheumatism and would not be without it for anything." Mr. R. Ledbetter, Denton, Texas, says: "I have used St. Jacobs Oil and it is the only thing I ever saw that would cure toothache in ten minutes' time, and it is usually prompt and sure for frost-bites. All of these commendations are of recent date, showing unabated interest.

Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for leucorrhoea, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion, or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present, alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some morbid disorder. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages his practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

Harriet Hards
The following is from Mrs. M. A. McAllister of Lim Rock, Jackson, Ala.: "I was in bad health; age was working upon me; and I had ulceration of the womb; could not get about; I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it cured me. I felt ten years younger. I have not had any return of my trouble. I am the mother of thirteen children and I am fifty-three years old, have never seen a better woman's friend than your medicine. I have recommended it to my husband, and it has never failed in any case, so let me thank you for the good it did me." Yours truly, M. A. McAllister
