My husband was afflicted with boils for eight years. Last spring his neck was nearly covered with little boils, which grew in number and size until they turned to carbuncles. Everything the doctors did seemed to

Aggravate the Disease.

He at last bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when he had taken half of it his neck was well and he has had but one pimple since. The remainder of the medicine I gave to my twelve-year-old boy, Willie Massey, who had been afflicted with Rheumatism from his infancy. After he had taken a half bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla it seemed to do him so much good that we concluded to give it a fair trial in the spring. My husband purchased four bottles, and together they have been taking it for over a month. Now my boy, instead of creeping around and crying with pain in his legs as he used to, can play all day and run and play as lively as any children. Mrs. JOHN ALSTOTT, Ozark, Arkansas.

Will be of value to the world by illustrating the improvements in the mechanical arts, and eminent physicians will tell you that the progress in medicinal agents has been of equal importance, and as a strengthener of laxative that Syrup of Figs is far in advance of all others.

English Horse Exports.

In spite of the imports from Poland, Finland, Holland, and even America, and the pony trade with the Baltic, the English export of horses enormously exceeds the imports in value. A three year total gives us $32,000 of exports, as against $204,000 of imports, and the quality and price of English horses rises steadily.

The imports do not include those from Ireland, which until recently supplied the entire Belgian army with remounts, and at present largely fill the ranks of London cab horses. They fetch on the average about £30 apiece, and as a new harness cab costs £100 the hirer enjoys the temporary use of a capital of £100, and the services of the driver. But the number of cabs steadily decreased, and from the horse's point of view, this decline is hardly to be deplored.—The Spectator.

It Don't Cost Much

To get well. Only a dollar or two and a little faith.

The case of Mrs. Lillie Meyer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is an example. Some time ago she began to feel sharp pains in her abdomen, with bearing-down feeling and pains in her back. She tried doctors, and got no relief.

At last, a friend told her of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, after using it, the pain left her, and menstruation now comes without suffering.

Your druggist will tell you what a great medicine this is, and the price is only one dollar. You see, it don't cost much to get well. It will expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development.

The Senate proceedings were rather dull Wednesday, most of the afternoon being consumed by the committee of Washington, who made a carefully prepared speech in general opposition to the tariff. Before the tariff bill was taken up, the House went into committee of the whole, with Mr. Hatch of Missouri in the chair. At present the bill is in the hands of the Treasury Department, and it was agreed that general debate on the bill should be adjourned to Thursday. A NO-TO-BAC MIRACLE

PHYSICAL PERFECTION PREVENTED BY THE USE OF TOBACCO.

An Old-Timer of Twenty-three Years' Tobacco Chewing and Smoking Cured, and Gains Twenty Pounds in Thirty Days. LAKE GENÈVE, Wis., May 4.—Special. The ladies of our beautiful little town are making an interesting and exciting time for tobacco-using husbands, since the ease with which it can be cured by a preparation called No-To-Bac have been so plainly demonstrated by the cure of Mr. F. C. Waite. In a written statement he says: "I smoked and chewed tobacco for twenty-three years, and I am sure that my case was one of the worst in this part of the country. Even after I went to bed at night, if I woke up I would want to chew or smoke. It was not only killing me but my wife was also ailing from the injurious effects. Two boxes of No-To-Bac cured me, and I have no more desire for tobacco than I have to jump out of the window. I have gained twenty pounds in thirty days, my wife is well, and we are indeed both happy to say that No-To-Bac is truly 'worth its weight in gold.'"

The cure and improvement in Mr. Waite's case is looked upon as a miracle—in fact, it is the talk of the town and county, and it is estimated that over a thousand tobacco users will be using No-To-Bac within a few weeks. The peculiarity about No-To-Bac as a patent medicine is that the makers, the Sterling Remedy Company, No. 45 Randolph street, Chicago, absolutely guarantee the cure of three boxes to cure or refund the money, and the cost, $2.50, is so trifling as compared with the expensive and unnecessary use of tobacco that tobacco-using husbands have no good reason to offer when the wives insist upon their taking No-To-Bac and getting result in the way of pure, sweet breath, wonderful improvement in their mental and physical condition, with a practical revitalization of their nicotineized nerves.

Did You Ever Meet a Truly Good Man?

No doubt you think you have, but we seldom see a man who is not a bit of a misanthrope. If he did, he swore occasionally, and no man can be truly good who swears occasionally. Health, nerve tranquility and morality are apt to go hand in hand. Painful spasmodic diseases like rheumatism and neuralgia ruin the temper, make one morose, peevish and restless. The kidneys, bladder, stomach, liver and bowels when inactive, induce sleep and appetite. A very quieting effect, not an anesthetic, is produced by a wineglassful of restoring. It is incomparable in malarial disease.

A Lesson in English.

"Pardon me," as the criminal said to the Governor.

"Step this way, please," as the dancing master said to his class.

"By, by," as the clerk said to the customer.

"Yes, there," as the farmer said to his field hand.

"Take a chair," as the dentist said to his patient.

"You make me tired," as the hired girl said to the Monday washer.

"Drop in some time," as the slot machine said to the nickel.

"Call again," as the poker player said to the other poker player.

"Get on it," as the bicycle teacher said to his nervous scholar.

"Come around next week," as Thursday said to the day before.

"It's all up with you," as the sidewalk sweeper said to the roof cleaner.

"You're a corks," as the brewer said to the bottler.

"That's the end of it," as the boarder said to the landlady when she gave him the tail of the chicken.

Milk Sold by the Pound.

At Quebec the winter markets are very curious. Everything is frozen. Large pigs, killed perhaps months before, may be seen standing frozen in the butcher's shop. Frozen necks of beef, mutton, deer, fowl, eel, haddock, and eels, long and stiff, like walking-sticks, abound on the stalls. Milk also is kept frozen, and is sold in buckets of every last year, having planted 2,000 acres.

An Immense Celery Farm.

About ten years ago J. B. LaBue, of New York, bought a small tract of land in the Delaware about fifty miles from New York. He drained and prepared the land and now has the largest celery farm in the United States, on which he raised 50,000 bushels of celery last year, having planted 2,000 acres.

A Draughty Place.

"Yes," remarked the traveled man reflectively, as he tilted back his chair, "there's some hot places. Now, for instance, there's Yuma, in Arizona. I once knew a fellow," he continued, "who went there for his health. By wearing a wet towel about his head he just managed to pull through the first year, but after he became fairly well acclimated, he seemed to thrive in that temperature and was as lively as a cricket for several years.

"One unlucky day, however, he received a telegram calling him to Mexico on an important business. He had scarcely reached the place when he was taken with a chill and died without medical aid. His friends decided to cremate the body, and after due preparation, the remains were carefully wrapped in a sheet and consigned to the flames. The receipt read: 'When sufficient time for the incineration had elapsed, the mourners gathered round to receive the ashes. An attendant respectfully opened the door, and you can imagine their surprise when they beheld the man who had raised himself up and called out, 'Please close that door, I can't stand the draught.'"

Fourteen Rich Englishmen Who Departed from This World Last Year.

In a recent issue of the London Statist it was stated that the wills disposing of personality exceeding £100,000 each, reported last year, were fewer than in any one of the four preceding years. In aggregate amount last year's reported wills, with over £100,000 each in personal estate, disposed of £8,000,000 less than those of 1892, and nearly 24,500,000 less than the average of the years 1891, 1890, and 1889. The following is a list of some of the largest fortunes:

Table listing names and fortune amounts: Sir A. B. Walker (£2,874,192), The Earl of Derby (£1,807,200), Samuel Henry Thompson (£1,185,000), George Alexander Baird (£871,719), Richard Vaughan (£747,784), Henry Thomas Goshall (£726,530), Thomas Nelson (£590,807), The Baroness Forester (£589,480), Sir William Mackinnon (£566,705), John Fulton (£478,875), George Samuel (£470,722), J. D. Alcock (£468,819), G. Gilbert (£468,819).

It is noted that the average of the age of twenty-nine persons, the aggregate amount of whose personal estate exceeded £10,000,000, was no less than 71 years.

Electric Wires.

Some writer very aptly likens the nerves to electric wires, and the general working of their system to that of electric cars. A man who "slips his trolley" like Mr. Joramiah Eney, 1812 W. Lombard st., Baltimore, Md., will need something better than even a galvanic battery to set him all right. Mr. Eney found that something in the following way, "I suffered," he says, "a long time with neuralgia in the head. I gave St. Jacob's Oil a fair trial and an entirely cured." In this way the great remedy acts as a motorman to restore broken wires, and set the system to perfect action.
