A gentleman recently upon removing to a certain town to become a permanent resident, immediately wrote the editor of the home paper to send him a publication, and added the following pertinent remarks: "In becoming a resident of your town I desire to locate myself— I never search for the cemetery. It is the province of the Almighty and the devil to deal with the dead. My business is with the living, and I always find him in the town paper, occupying a space in which he is the stranger to his place of business. He secures my confidence, and I put him up, and almost invariably become his customer. That may, or may not be worth while to him, according to his views, but it is 'worth while' to me, for I find I can always do better dealing with a live man rather than with the one in the cemetery."

Go to Lewis' and get an Ideal machine. Harry Hussey is visiting friends here this week.

Ye olde folk concert at Methody preachin house last night waf a grande affaire, but wat too late for thif iffue. Ye writer will try to say something in harmony next week.

The country editor who takes all his advertisements out in trade, says an exchange, will be gratified to learn that a new pill just patented will keep a man alive a whole week without eating.

Mrs. Dr. Broughton will visit her old home in Broadhead, Wis., for a few weeks. She left yesterday, and will spend Sunday with her son Will in Madison, Wis., where he is attending school.

Alf. Baker, an old resident of this county, but now of Dwight, was a visitor here to-day. Mr. Baker took an active part in the hanging of Tibbits which took place in this city some twenty-five years ago.—Morris Post.

Mrs. Ketcham and Mrs. Chamberlain returned last week from Kansas. The latter had her household effects shipped to Dwight, and will probably erect a cottage before long, and reside here permanently, so as to be near her mother and brother.

Rev. E. F. Wright was home from Wednesday till Friday. He attended the Alumni Association of the Chicago Theological Seminary in Chicago Tuesday. He says he is well pleased with Dwight and never lived in a town he liked better.—Huntley Paper.

Owing to a large increase in practice Dr. Florence Thompson has secured the assistance of Dr. F. C. Ross, of Chicago, a thoroughly experienced and competent workman, who operates in an extra chair, hence there will be no delays and waiting. Nitrous oxide gas for the painless extraction of teeth.

The balloon girl, Josephine Baraboo, had a narrow escape at Odell Tuesday. The balloon burst and descended upon the parachute, twisting it so that it came down very fast. The crowd was terror stricken, but the girl was not badly hurt. Ballooning is precarious business, and it is only a matter of time when some accident will occur.

The creamery will open for business next Monday. The business will be run on the co-operative plan, the services of an excellent, experienced manager having been secured in the person of John Lowe, from the creamery districts of the northern part of the state. The new management will buy all the milk brought them, and solicit the patronage of the farming community.

Sergeant Bates, of Saybrook, Ill., who carried the stars and stripes through the South and in England soon after the close of the war, gave a short address at S. of V. hall on Thursday night. The speech was exceedingly good and a temperate presentation of what should be done to prevent aliens from taking the positions now held by our educated American citizens. The hall was well filled.

While in Streator recently the writer had a very pleasant visit with Mr. Van Skiver, the gentleman who is one of the proprietors and writers for the lively editorial columns of the daily and weekly Free Press. The Free Press office is one of the best equipped in La Salle county, and the paper stands high in the community. We are also under obligations to Hon. J. C. Ames for a ride about the city behind one of his speeders.

Pontiac Sewer. The contractors of the Pontiac sewer are getting along nicely, and the people are fortunate in having a place to put it, and more fortunate in having neighbors who have no desire to cause trouble for their home by tying up improvements.

Strayed or Stolen. One Sorrell mare, three years old left hind foot white. Also a mouse colored mare, two years old, has a black stripe down the back, left hind foot is white and has a sore on heel.

Think this over and tell your neighbor to call in Decoration Day or to-day or any time before Thursday night and take advantage of this excellent and cheap offer.

School Matters Settled. The question as to a change in the principalship and among some of the teachers has finally been amicably settled by the Board of Education to their entire satisfaction and, we hope, to the satisfaction of all concerned. Prof. Wilson has sent in his resignation and will not apply for the coming year, but will seek a position elsewhere. The professor leaves the school with the best wishes of the Board of Education. He is a highly educated gentleman and will probably secure a position with a better salary.

Prof. J. H. Meneely has accepted the position as superintendent of the Dwight schools. He has been assistant for some time and is perfectly competent and will fill the bill. His assistant will be Miss Ella Gregg, daughter of Emory Gregg, of Fairbury. She has recently taught in Pontiac and comes highly recommended.

Miss Chenoweth has concluded to stay and will take Mrs. Gould's place. Miss Reading will take Miss Chenoweth's room. Miss Thompson has decided not to come on account of financial reasons. The other teachers will remain as they are for the present.

The Board has seen fit to reduce the salaries of several teachers and the principal so as to make a saving of $560 a year. Reducing expenses is all right if the same results can be obtained, and it looks as if it could in this case, but expenses of the schools are the last thing that should be cut if bad results follow.

Goodfarm Sunday Schools. We received the programme of the Goodfarm township Sunday school convention yesterday, to be held in the German Evangelical church to-morrow (Sunday), too late for publication. It is a very interesting programme, but copy should be sent to this office not later than Thursday noon to insure publication.

Commencement. The commencement exercises will be held in the opera house Monday evening, June 1. There will be only three graduates, but arrangements are being made to give them as good a send-off as if there were a dozen, which is eminently right. Handsome programmes and invitations will be sent out the first of the week.

School Notes. Guy Allen visited the schools Thursday. Miss Cora Baker visited the high school Monday. Dr. John Keohler made us a short call Wednesday morning.

It would not be a bad plan if some of the glass in the cases was mended before the term expires. We infer from some manuscript which we saw the other day, that some of the young ladies are preparing works on Philosophy and Chemistry.

It is understood that Miss Thompson, who was engaged to teach the 6th and 7th grades has reconsidered the matter, and has declined the position. Following is included in a letter to Prof. Wilson from Wheaton College: "I enclose herewith a prize scholarship in accordance with our proposition to your school. We hope you may find it a help to the whole class and that we may be called on by the winner to furnish face value for it next year. Very cordially yours, D. A. Staw."

Dwight Lawns. We are pleased to note the care and attention that many of our citizens bestow upon the lawns surrounding their homes and we regret if there are many towns the size of Dwight that equal us in that respect, and in our walks have noted the following places as well worthy of notice. Chas. L. Romberec, perhaps, has made the greatest improvement in his grounds, (and they are quite extensive) of any one in town, and they are well worthy of a visit. The Miller brothers, occupying opposite corners on Mazon and Wash, avenues, have their yards in good order. Coming this way on Mazon ave. we notice J. R. Oughton, M. Seabert, R. P. and Dwight Morgan and other whose grounds are neatly trimmed and in good shape. The corners occupied by Mayors Haise and D. B. Stevens and the yards of A. Brubaker, L. A. Nafziger, and others are kept in good trim. Coming east we think the grounds of Hon. O. W. Pollard never looked more attractive, and no doubt after his long absence, he enjoys his excellent lawn. Geo. Flagler's grounds are also in most excellent shape and show that a great deal of labor is bestowed upon them. Next comes the residence of D. McWilliams, whose home and surroundings compare favorably with any in the village, and it is always in fine condition. On Mazon avenue, further east, Dr. Keeley's residence and J. B. Parsons' and H. J. McLean's are adjoining, with a most beautiful lawn in front of each. We shall notice other improvements soon.
