There are some clever performers in the lot and the race promises to be one of the most interesting of the meeting, which opens on Tuesday, July 24th. The merchants of Dwight, and citizens generally are requested by the Fourth of July committee to make arrangements for decorating this year in a manner that will eclipse anything ever seen in these parts. Commence to think about it right now. Harry Seely represented Dwight Camp, Sons of Veterans, at the State Encampment in Springfield this week. He is bringing new customers to town everyday to sell their grain and thus increasing all branches of trade. Mr. Mezger is a hustler in the business and has the nerve to buy well. Additional interest attaches to the Streator races this year from the fact that it is probably the last meeting that will be held at the old track. Next year a fine new track will be laid out. The fastest time ever made on the old track was a pacing record of 2:07 3/4, made in 1887, by You Bet, with a running mate. One of our citizens is engaged in the pastime of reducing by the target rifle route what he considers an overproduction of cats. Much better were he to turn his attention to decreasing the superabundant population of the impulsive and loud-mouthed genus bow-bow in this community. Cats are of some avail in destroying vermin, but dog—how! We wish to correct a wrong impression that has gone abroad. We said two weeks ago that the gates on the Alton trains were attended by "32 button kids." It should have been "42-button kids." We make this correction cheerfully and would not wrong the "lockups" under any consideration. Credit should be given where credit is due. Ah, there!

It is gratifying to the STAR AND HERALD to know that the new creamery man, John Lowe, comes so highly commended. Deacon John C. Carr, of Aurora, one of the leading business and creamery men in that part of the State, has written a gentleman here, endorsing Mr. Lowe as a man of character; honest, capable, and in every way worthy the respect and confidence of our citizens. We wish him prosperity, and are pleased to learn that the present outlook is highly favorable to the success of the enterprise. He is now taking in between four and five thousand pounds of milk daily. Monday last Rev. Ayling, pastor of the M. E. church, entertained at the parsonage the members of the Junior Epworth League, some seventy-eight in number being present. During the afternoon the Juniors, headed by Rev. Ayling, marched in double file down in front of the STAR AND HERALD office, where they halted and were greeted by the office force, when the young folks sang in chorus one of their beautiful songs, "Tolling On," which was singularly appropriate if applied to our office force. The Juniors were heartily thanked for their kindly remembrance of the "poor printer man," and for the refreshing impetus they gave to finish well the day's hard work. From the STAR AND HERALD office they marched up to the Keeley Laboratory, where they sang another song at the close of which they were treated in return to a kindly talk by Dr. Leslie E. Keeley. Dedication Exercises. The Right Rev. J. L. Spalding, D. D. Bishop of Peoria, assisted by a large number of the Reverend Clergy, will dedicate the new Catholic church at Campus, Ill., on Wednesday, June 20, 1894, at 10:30 a. m. Refreshments will be served in the old church after the exercises. All are invited. Pleasant Social. The streets of Dwight presented a lively appearance Thursday evening with quite a number of carriages flying about. The cause was that the Missionary Society of the M. E. church were to hold their anniversary at one of the beautiful country homes of the members, Mrs. Archie Dunlop, about three miles southwest of town. About seventy-five were present and the reader can imagine what it means to turn seventy-five good natured methodists loose at one time and one place, with the intention of having a good time. They just made the handsome home and farm ring with laughter. The young played games and some not so young, and all enjoyed a splendid evening. The society wish to return their heartfelt thanks to Mrs. Dunlop and family for their efforts to make the anniversary a success and for the many kindnesses extended.
