A Few Pointers.

If your building is vacant for ten days without a permit from the insurance company your policy is void. The use of a gasoline stove, or keeping gasoline, benzine naphtha, firewood, or any fluid of more than 110 degrees on the premises without a permit will nullify all insurance policies, any trade or custom to the contrary notwithstanding. If mechanics are engaged in altering, repairing and making additions to a building for more than fifteen days without consent of the company it will render the policy void. If the building stands on leased grounds the company must be notified otherwise the policy is void. If a manufacturing establishment is operated later than 10 p. m. the policy must be endorsed, otherwise it is void. Policy holders should read their policies and remember that the printed conditions of all policies are exactly alike, word for word, since the uniform policy act went into effect May 1, 1892.

Thursday afternoon two jolly young fellows stopped at Evans & Crandall's car to finish up some pictures they had made on their trip from Chicago. They were Messrs. F. A. Padgett and W. M. Breckenridge, two Chicago boys who have been started out by the Pope Manufacturing Co., of that city, to belt the globe on Columbia 32-pound bicycles. The undertaking is a business affair, the gentlemen are to establish agencies and advertise the wheels in Australia, Greece and Turkey. The company pay their steamer passage and allow them a fair salary, while they will further increase their treasury by furnishing matter for several leading sporting journals. They carry little baggage, in the shape of a little extra clothing, a few toilet articles and a fine camera, with which they do good work. They expect to make the trip in about two years.
