A paragraph in the Joliet news of the 13th, said that Carbon Hill miners were very much wrought up over a notice which had been posted to the effect that their wages were to be cut 10 cents this winter. A close examination, however, showed that at least a great deal of the statement was unfounded. Carbon Hill people are little worked up, and lots of men had not even heard of the alleged trouble. This would indeed be a bad time for a big strike, but it is the opinion of those who best understand affairs, that there will be no serious trouble.
