

KEELEY LEAGUE NEWS.

Opie Read and Nixon Waterman left Thursday for Chicago.

Chas. C. Irvin, of Alexis, Ill., made his farewell speech at the meeting Saturday.

The national executive board Keeley League will probably meet in Leavenworth, Kansas, early in January.

Remember your nickel or dime when you go to the club. The entertainments are worth much more than this and the collection is simply to pay expenses.

Willard S. Brown celebrated his third anniversary Tuesday by making a speech to the boys. It has been a happy three years for Willard and he appreciates it.

W. G. Dustin, state president, and W. S. Brown, state secretary Keeley League, will call a meeting of the executive board to meet in Dwight about the middle of January.

Remember that those who do not take part in the club entertainments are expected to put in five or ten cents when the hat is passed hereafter. The expenses must be paid.

During his visit to Dwight last week Rev. Frank W. Merrill, of Rock Island, made the members of the club and the patients a splendid address that was highly appreciated.

Col. Nate A. Reed, Jr., of Chicago, was at the meeting Tuesday and by request addressed the club in his old time forcible and entertaining manner. The genial Colonel is always a welcome visitor.

Dr. W. F. Kirkendall, of Rochester, Ind., G. M. Stonebreaker, Rock Island, Philip Cortner, Smithton, and Jas. D. Cranley, Cincinnati, O. made their farewell remarks Wednesday morning and departed for their respective homes.

The following club officers were elected Tuesday: President, F. C. Sasser, Brunswick, Mo.; First Vice Pres., H. N. Tolson, Cairo, Ill.; Second Vice Pres., H. F. Kellogg, Redfield, Ill. R. J. Boswell, of St. Louis, was appointed Sargent at Arms.

Warren G. Richards, of Cleveland, Ohio, a graduate of Aug. '92, was present and made some very forcible remarks, closing with several character imitations of "Every Day Folks" that were highly appreciated and warmly applauded. Mr. Richards is an entertainer of more than ordinary ability.

Hereafter a collection will be taken up at the club entertainments. All those who wish to attend can do so, and are extended cordial invitation, but all those who do not take part, are expected to pay five or ten cents when the hat is passed. The expense of these entertainments is considerable and a constant drain on the club finances, which are very low, and it is no more than right that those who enjoy the entertainments should chip in enough, anyway, to pay the expense.

Home and Country.

How do you manage to do it for the money? Is a question which might properly be put to many of our magazine publishers. The world wonders at it. Yet the answer is found in the fact. In these days, many of the monthlies furnish a veritable goldmine in way of illustration, and added to this an excellent intellectual feast at a low subscription price, while a few years since, none but the higher price—not higher class—magazines attempted such things. As a result, the leading magazines were then considered a luxury such as none but the rich and well-to-do could afford. The popular heart was not touched.

The tendency now is to make the magazine as much a necessity in the homes of the common every-day people as is the daily or weekly home paper, without which life is not worth the living.

Among the magazines of the present time, the Christmas number of Home and Country, Cor. James Tanner, Editor, just at hand, is an evidence of what can be done by the publisher in serving the cause of the common people. Reduced in subscription price to $1.50 a year, and sold at 15 cents a month, the latest issue of this publication, from an artistic point of view, because of its numerous full-page illustrations, and as well from the variety of subjects treated, well maintains its reputation as a leader in its line. Published by Jos. W. Kay, 58 East 10th St., New York.
