A large number of farmers have joined the M. W. A. in Dwight recently and more are to follow. It is beginning to be understood that the society is perfectly reliable, cheap insurance. Deputy Head Council Martin intends to call on many of our farmers, and they should take advantage while there is a chance.

Mr. John Pettett is said to be the most popular gentleman in town, as a certain young lady called on him Sunday afternoon and took him sleighriding. As an initiatory she gave him a plunge in the beautiful white snow before starting, but he was not to be bluffed at that and enjoyed a pleasant ride of an hour or more. This item came in too late for last week.

Rev. E. F. Wright says that he has heard the lecture of Rev. J. M. Green on "The Battle of Gettysburg," and that it is able, interesting and instructive. He enters somewhat into the philosophy of the history which led up to the war of the rebellion, and no intelligent person can fail to be deeply interested in Mr. Green's graphic description of that mighty struggle which is now generally recognized as the pivotal battle of those four years of death grapple between freedom and slavery.

We are pleased to state that the people of Dwight and vicinity are fast becoming to look to the STAR AND HERALD for their bargains in trading. Liberal dealers are the advertisers or they wouldn't advertise. They generally buy for cash and make quick sales and small profits, and consequently their goods are new and fresh. If our readers will look over our columns carefully each week they will find the right people to deal with. The fence and side walk advertiser is a back number and are merely trying to catch a few cents from the energetic advertiser who brings the people to Dwight.

Notice the change in Mickelson's ad. Mrs. Sam McDonald has been quite sick this week.

Will Scott was taken sick suddenly Thursday, but is better.

Advertised letters—Casper Hansen, Miss Mary Hansen, N. Knight, George Nasif, A. G. Wagner.

Great-grandfather George Z. Flagler has gone to New Orleans to be present at the carnival of the Mardi Gras.

The well known real estate dealer, Mr. Lovewell, of Indiana, has been in town on business this week.

You can buy goods cheaper this spring at our store than any house will give you in Dwight. Miller Bros.

Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Ayling were called away this week on account of the sickness of Mr. Ayling's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. McIluff, of Pontiac, visited friends in Dwight this week, and were guests of the Oasis club.

Mrs. Frank Chester and children have returned from a two months' visit to Mrs. Chester's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Strong.

Frank L. Smith has been confined to the house this week with otalgia, and has been unable to make his weekly trip to Indiana.

Our young people who are musically inclined have taken the first steps to organize a Mandolin club and have sent to Chicago for a teacher.

Al Goodman will move to the Billy Thompson farm near Verona next week, and takes the STAR AND HERALD with him. Good luck, Al.

We are still making $16 suits in our tailoring department; also $4 all wool pants. Do not delay to call as it will only last for a few days longer. Miller Bros.

The scholars of our public schools, over twelve years of age, can enjoy a rich treat next Thursday evening at Congregational church, listening to the lecture on "Gettysburg."

Col. R. P. Morgan expects to leave for the south with his daughter as soon as she is able to travel. Her present illness was brought on by over-exertion in preparation for the production of "The Princess."

Horace W. Shepard, formerly club reporter on the STAR AND HERALD, is now city editor of the Standard-Herald of Warrensburg, Mo. "Shep" has lots of ability and we are pleased to hear he has settled down to business as a newspaper man. Just get married now, "Shep," and you will be all right.

Rev. E. F. Wright went to Emington Tuesday night on invitation from the M. W. A. lodge and made a speech at an open meeting in the church there. There was a large attendance and a very successful meeting. The M. W. A. lodge is doing nicely in Emington and the speech by Mr. Wright will do lots of good.

Everyone who desires to hear a beautiful, patriotic description of the great decisive battle of Gettysburg should hear Col. Green at Congregational church next Thursday night. The lecture is given under the auspices of the G. A. R., W. R. C. and S. of V. The general admission is 25 cents. School scholars over twelve years of age 15 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilmott leave to-day for Chicago. They have been visiting with their daughter, Mrs. W. A. Ford, for the past three months. This was their first visit to Hutchinson, and they return well pleased with the west and much improved in health. They will visit their son and daughter in Chicago a few days and then return to their home at Dwight, Ill.—Hutchinson Daily News.
