Does it Pay to Buy Cheap?
A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Sample bottles at A. K. Beltzhoover's.

Liquid Air.
Colonel Richard P. Morgan, as a guest of the Commercial Club, Chicago, enjoyed its one hundred and fifty-fourth regular dinner given at the Auditorium on Saturday evening last.

The occasion was one of unusual elegance and interest; the after dinner subject being "Liquid Air," by Professor Charles E. Trippier.
Col. Morgan says the liquid air is in a cylinder open at the top so that the liquid, which was clear as water itself, was dipped out from time to time as needed with aluminium dippers, its temperature being 300 degrees below zero.
The practical experiments given by the Professor were very astonishing and were so numerous as to occupy fully two hours time, during which the members of the Club and its guests were intensely interested.

Remember that name when you want a delicious, appetizing, nourishing food drink to take the place of coffee. Sold by all grocers and liked by all who have used it. Grain-O is made of pure grain, it aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. It is not a stimulant but a health builder and the children as well as the adults can drink it with great benefit. Costs about 1/4 as much as coffee. 15c. and 25c. per package. Ask your grocer for Grain-O.

RICHARD HANEY DEAD.

The Nestor of Illinois Methodism Expired Suddenly Last Saturday.
Rev. Dr. Richard Haney, of Monmouth, died suddenly last Saturday while visiting friends in Altona. He was 88 years old and had spent most of his life preaching and circuit riding in the Illinois conference. To his friends he was better known during the late years of his life as "Uncle Dick," a title of which he was proud.
Dr. Haney had the distinction for years and until his death of being the "pioneer minister" of Illinois. Away back in the days of log cabin churches he came west and began at once to take a prominent part in the affairs of both church and state. Born in Pennsylvania in April 1812, he became the first student in the first Methodist seminary in Ohio, which was founded at Norwalk. At the age of 21 he joined the Ohio conference and preached until July 2, 1834, when he transferred to the Illinois conference with a salary of $100 a year.

His first presiding elder was Peter Cartwright, and he was ordained a deacon by Bishop Roberts. At that time the Illinois conference comprised all of Indiana west of the Wabash river, all of Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. When he was ordained Bishop Roberts assigned him to a district that took in the state of Wisconsin. When the appointment came he had $7.50 in his pocket and a 400 mile ride on horse back ahead of him. There was no church organization in the district, but he was expected to form one, and incidentally, to collect his own salary. He received $23.50 the first year, and had to sell his horse to pay a board bill. And meanwhile he was teaching a school of nine pupils.

For seventeen years he preached and traveled his circuit with remarkable success as a minister of the gospel and with almost absolute failure in getting pay for his work. In 1862 he was chairman of the great meeting that petitioned President Lincoln to issue the emancipation proclamation, and previous to this time the minister had become a personal friend of Mr. Lincoln and throughout his life-time he used to delight in relating anecdotes and incidents touching that friendship. During the war he was chaplain of the 16th infantry, and later he was a member of G. A. R. Post, No. 30.

Dr. Haney, though 88 years of age, was conducting a revival or "protracted meeting" at the time of his death. The exhausting labors of revival work undoubtedly proved too much for a system whose once splendid strength had been weakened by age, and at the end of Friday evening's session he retired to rest, never to wake again in this world.
Mr. Haney married Adaline Murphy in Quincy in 1838. She died in 1865, and he married Mrs. Ivory Quinby, of Monmouth, who survives him. The surviving children are Rev. James Haney, Galva; Mrs. George R. Palmer, Onarga; Mrs. Emily Baker, Dwight; Mrs. Mary L. Koon, Onarga; Mrs. Luella Robbins, West Grossdale; Charles F. Haney, Galena, Kas., and Miss Elizabeth Haney, Onarga.

In Springdale cemetery, Peoria, the body of the famous exhorter will be laid to rest. The funeral occurred in the First Methodist church in Peoria Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. In accordance with the wishes of Dr. Haney, the services were simple and brief.

Dr. Haney was well-known in Dwight for years and was popular and highly respected, and the members of his family often visited with his daughter, Mrs. Geo. S. Baker, and others here. We clip the following from the Pontiac Leader, which is a fair statement of the deceased worth and popularity every where:
"Uncle Dick" Haney was one of the "grand old men" of Methodism. His whole life had been devoted to the church militant. He had seen the growth of the church keep pace with the development of the west in all its changing conditions from the wild prairie to its present high state of civilization and progress. He never became old foggy or fossilized. He kept time to the music of the century and while holding firmly to the traditions and usages whose wisdom had been demonstrated by experience. He was always ready to welcome a change which meant improvement and made for higher righteousness and better achievement. He died in the harness as he would have wished and no nobler or purer soul has ever gone to the Maker from the bosom of the church.

MEETS TERRIBLE DEATH.

Mrs. A. C. Ball is Fatally Burned in an Accident While Filling a Gasoline Stove.
Pontiac Leader: About 6 o'clock Tuesday evening Mrs. Ball went into the basement of her house where the gasoline was kept, taking with her the tank of the gasoline stove. In some way she spilled a quantity of the fluid on her clothes. When she came back she struck a match to light the fire, when her clothing caught either by the generation of gas or otherwise and in a few seconds a mass of flames. Mr. Ball was away from home, but Mr. James M. Ball, his father, and his son, John, a lad about 16 years old, rushed to her assistance. While Mr. Ball was gathering up some rugs with which to smother the fire she ran into the open air toward the river, they soon running after her. They caught her and wrapped her with an overcoat and rugs but the strong wind had fanned the blaze so that all efforts were useless before her clothes were burned from her body. They carried her into the house and Drs. Daly and Scouler were summoned, but all efforts were unavailing and she died about 6 o'clock Wednesday morning, having never recovered from the shock. She was conscious and talked perfectly rational until about 10 o'clock, not suffering much pain. She then went into a sound sleep from which she never awoke. Both Mr. Ball and John showed great presence of mind and were prompt in their efforts, but to no avail.

Mrs. Emma L. Ball was 31 years of age. She was a most estimable woman, kindly in disposition, domestic in tastes and devoted to her husband family. Her sad death has awakened the most profound sympathy throughout the city.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. From Odell Outlook.
Mrs. M. E. Wright,
Mrs. M. E. Wright, whose maiden name was Ada Hoadley, was born in England in 1862, she came to this country with her parents who located in Streator, Ill. She was united in marriage to M. E. Wright at the home of her parents in Streator in January 1883, and after spending several months in Cincinnati, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Wright came to Odell where they have since lived.

Mrs. Wright was taken sick on Friday Jan. 12, of typhoid pneumonia and continued to get worse until Wednesday afternoon Jan. 24, when she suddenly died. After a short service conducted by Rev. A. P. Solandt at the residence the remains were taken to Streator where regular services were held on Friday afternoon in the Episcopal Church in that city. The interment was in the Streator cemetery.

It's Easy To Take

Thin, pale, anæmic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anæmia.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.
