The Election.

The township election passed off quickly, there being 540 votes cast for the highest candidates. The republican ticket was successful with the exception of assessor and Martin Rinehart for pound master, the latter being a republican, by average majorities of over 100. The vote was as follows:

ELECTION NOTES.

Martin Rinehart made Walt Weeso look like 30 cents.

R. D. Gregg only got 112 majority. It served him right. He no business to have voted for that awful telephone ordinance.

Jas. Kelagher, as usual, run as if he was scared to death.

Pontiac went republican all but supervisor just what was wanted most. The man elected is Mr. Hoover, a democrat, but a popular old soldier.

The republicans will have the board of supervisors this year by three majority, and if there is backbone enough among them they will not elect Mike Cleary chairman. Some good man like Ira Lish would be all right.

Nevada went Demo. and Owen Feehan takes Austin Gibbons place as supervisor.

Thos. Olson beat Abe Lower for supervisor in Broughton. Olson is evidently a bustier.

Round Grove went democratic all but Mamer for clerk, by from 6 to 20 majority. The republicans stayed at home.

Joe Corbin, of Sunbury, came near retiring to private life. Dunlap led him a merry chase and only got beat one. There does not seem to be anything the matter with Dunlap.

Among the close calls were Barr, of Esmer by 4, and Wilder, of Waldo, by 2, and Holding, of Avoea, by 6 majority.

Mike Cleary got there again by his usual majority. He seems to have the republicans, of Odell, hypnotised or they are afraid of him.

The Ordinance.

The telephone ordinance passed at the last meeting of the town board caused considerable talk just on the eve of election, principally for election purposes, but in the cases of most of the kickers they were not patrons of the telephone system. It reminded us of the man without a cent or hope for future prosperity kicking about the incometax. The ordinance is all right and does not positively require every man, woman and child in Dwight to have a phonos as some would give you to understand. The only difference is that anyone can have a private wire which he can use without interruption and when he pleases by paying a little more for it, and if he don't get good service, the patron has the people right here at home to whom to make complaints.

As everyone knows the recent service has been very poor and the present ordinance requires the best service all the time and if the people don't get it, it would take one man at Romberger & Smith's telephone all the time to answer kicks. It's worth a half dollar more a month to have the responsible parties on the ground so kicks can be registered with satisfaction and promptness.

It might be remarked with a great deal of truthfulness that it breaks some people's hearts to see other people get along in the world.

Royal Neighbors.

The Royal Neighbors had a fine time at the regular meeting Thursday night. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, and the Dwight lodge entertained the following neighbors from Pontiac and Campus: D. E. Capes and wife, Miss Anna Caviezel, Jennie Chamberlain, Rose Brannon, Katie Doherty, Mary Murphy, Myrtle Davis, Cora Moffat, Maymie McCabe, Ella Maxwell, Meadames A. Chamberlain, Bert Brannon, Geo. Reed all of Pontiac, and Mrs. B. Thompson, of Campus.

Besides the regular order and some things not in regular order the Dwight neighbors served a lunch and a generally good time was enjoyed. The visitors took the 11:30 train south and were accompanied to the station by the Dwightites and things were lively there until the train pulled out.

Miss E. Reilly, of Emington, Ill., will be in Campus at Walsh Bros. store, Saturday, April 7, and every Saturday during the entire season and with a nice line of millinery in ladies and children's trimmed hats, walking hats and saliors, and kindly requests the ladies to call.

CHAPTER 'STEEN.

An Ordinance to be Passed by the Very "Independent" Ticket When They Land in the Townhouse.

Granting to some good fellow or fellows with lots of stuff to throw at the birds, and all their relatives, heirs and assigns who have or may have money with which they know not what to do, the exclusive right to construct, operate and maintain poles, lines of telephones, in the heavens above and the earth below, until Gabriel shall toot his tubor.

SECTION I.—That said "good fellow" shall furnish every man, woman, and child in the corporate limits of Dwight (and those just outside) with telephones, the payment for same being made in anything that resembles 30 cents a year, the same to be collected absolutely after the service has been rendered.

SECTION II.—All poles and cross arms shall be painted red and made heavy and strong enough to hang the telephone owner if he kicks or if he does not give 36 hours service out of every 24 of the most approved kind, and said arms must also be strong enough to hang any man who becomes too prosperous or enterprising in our midst.

SECTION III.—Every "Independent" shall have telephones to burn, wherever he wants them, as long as he wants them, the kind he wants, and said "good fellow" shall pay each "Independent" the sum of $100 a month each as long as he lives, for the prestige he would give the service by saying "Hullo" once or twice in a while.

SECTION IV.—Any time an "Independent" gets his "wires crossed" he shall be privileged to use the telephone for any kind of language he chooses.

SECTION V.—The polls shall be set in back yards and the wires so strung and of convenient height that they may be used for clothes lines.

SECTION VI.—The polls on business streets shall be erected for the convenience of the public, with stairways ascending to a handsome seated platform 14 feet and 9 inches from terra firma, and every afternoon at 3 the "good fellow" shall engage the band to play "Hail to the Independents."

SECTION VII.—Anyone not liking the telephone the telephone company shall be obliged to put in speaking tubes, or send messengers as may be dictated.

SECTION VIII.—The telephone owner shall give $1,000,000 bonds to keep the peace. He is to keep nothing else.

SECTION IX.—All ordinances or opinions expressed in any sense in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed, and anyone questioning the validity or justice of this ordinance, will be run in.

SECTION X.—This ordinance shall take effect immediately after the election of the "Independents", providing, however, that old Gabriel does not get in his work in advance.

The Great Seal is Herewith Attacked.

"HULLO."

The Primary.

The anti-lance primary was held at townhouse, Saturday last from 3 to 5 p. m. John Thompson, H. F. Adams, John Geis and W. G. Dustin, the city committee, having same in charge. After scouring the city the committee found enough gentlemen who were willing and unwilling to serve who would allow their names to be used on the ticket.

The village offices are looked upon as a disagreeable lot. Men are elected and try their very best to do the best they can for the city and almost every act will be criticised by chronic fault finders, and very few are there who will assist in holding up the hands of the "city dads." No wonder it is hard to get good men. This should be different. These men should be supported and assisted in every way. The board are good, conscientious citizens and are open for and willing to accept advice, and if those who do the kicking would attend meetings and keep posted as to the work and offer wholesome advice it would all be better and more pleasant.

The names on the ticket Saturday were J. R. Oughton for president, and H. F. Adams, R. D. Gregg, L. J. Trunnell, John Stewart and W. H. Doty, for trustees, and Geo. S. Baker for clerk. There were four trustees to be nominated, the fourth one being to fill vacancy, and the successful ones were the first three named for two years and the last named for one year. John Stewart who had served on the board faithfully, was defeated by five votes, and is not losing much sleep over it Baker had no opposition.

This makes a splendid ticket and should be supported loyally by our people. Where is there a man on earth who "gives the people a better show" than that big hearted loyal friend to all, John R. Oughton. No one can beat him and no one ought to try. Where can you find better men than Supervisor Gregg, Bert Adams, Lou Trunnell and W. H. Doty, and the same can be said of John Stewart and Geo. S. Baker. There is a little talk against Doty on account of his being a railroad agent here, but there is no good reason why a good railroad man can't be just as good a man as another walks of life. He made a most faithful president of the board of education and didn't run the railroad into the school house and won't run it into the town house.

The ticket is all right.
Romberger & Smith.

The Other Ticket.

What a few people are privileged to call an "Independent" ticket was placed in nomination for village offices at the townhouse Monday, and it was pretty hard sliding to find twenty-five voters who wished to fatter the move and make the ticket legal by signing a petition. There was nothing particular against the men named for the offices, but hardly any one could see how the ticket placed in nomination Saturday could be bettered, or what issue there was before the people to warrant opposition, unless it was saloons.

Mr. Fox was made chairman and Knight Pearre secretary.

F. J. Vickery, the well-known Grundy county farmer, who moved to town a short time ago, was named for president, and W. T. Scott, Simon Klitz and Knight Pearre were named for trustees for two years, and W. H. Ketcham for one year. The clerk was left open.

When it is taken into consideration, that under the management of J. R. Oughton and the present board the water works has been placed on a paying basis, that the city has been kept in excellent shape and that taxes are reduced, and that his personal interests are greater by far than any other man, it will be a very simple proposition for the people to solve, and they will solve it by keeping Mr. Oughton right where he is.
