 The new management of the C. & A. is liberal and just, and with a public spirited local agent, Dwight is getting what she wants. Through the efforts of Mr. Doty a new walk has been laid on the central crossing across the tracks, which is a great accommodation to the people.

 There has been a great many inquiries at the postoffice and on the street as to how to stop a newspaper which is not wanted.  The editor understands that he has been taken to task for speaking of F. J. Vickery as "the well-known Grundy county farmer". Well, we have always found the Grundy county farmers among God's people. They are all right, and there are no more progressive, up-to-date farmers in the country than they—unless, of course, it is the Livingston county farmers. No one should feel badly about being called a Grundy county farmer, even if he does want to be mayor of Dwight.

SAD ACCIDENT.
 Tragic Death of L. E. B. McClure, An Old and Highly Respected Citizen of Dwight.

The tragic death of one of Dwight's oldest and most highly respected citizens last Saturday, cast a gloom over the entire community. L. E. B. McClure was well known by almost everyone in and around Dwight. For the past few years he and Mrs. McClure have resided with their daughter, Mrs. H. A. Kenyon, in Dwight, and during the sickness of Mr. Kenyon, Mr. McClure has been regularly to the postoffice and did the marketing for the home. Last Saturday he came down town as usual, came to the postoffice, where he chatted cheerfully for a few moments, and then went to the east side to do some errands. He started home just before the 11:40 train south was due, and got as far as the railroad crossing on Mason avenue and Franklin street, where he stopped to look at a construction train where men were unloading new rails. He evidently did not notice the express train until it was near the crossing, he being quite deaf, and then became very excited and shocked so he could not move and was struck by the train and met death instantly.

Coroner Snyder was immediately notified and came to Dwight on the 2:10 train.

The following jury was empaneled, who rendered a verdict according to the facts: John Geis, Robt. Bell, Martin Seibert, Frank Davis, B. A. Buck, Thos. E. Barry.

The remains were taken to the treatment hall and examined by the attending physicians but life was extinct. The many friends of the deceased extend their sympathy to the members of the stricken family.

OBITUARY.
 L. E. B. McClure was born in New Berlin, New York, November 4, 1816, and spent all of his earlier years in the western part of his native state. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Mary Smith, who lived several years. After her death he remained single for some time, and then married Miss Charlotte R. Starke, of Springfield, New York, and two daughters were born to them, Mrs. H. A. Kenyon, of Dwight, and Mrs. Palmer, Editor of the Banner of Gold, Chicago.

Mr. McClure moved to this state about thirty years ago, and for the greater part of the time has been a citizen of Dwight.

As a man, he was honest and upright, had a keen sense of humor, and possessed the artistic taste to an unusual degree, and was a lover of the beautiful. This was a family characteristic and he had a sister who gained a reputation both as an artist and as a teacher of art. He had three other sisters and four brothers of whom only two survive him.

Mr. McClure was deeply interested in temperance work, when a young man and was an active and faithful member of the Sons of Temperance for a number of years.

He was always distinguished for a great kindness of heart, which made him a good neighbor and an unselfish friend. He was deeply attached to his family, and the protracted sickness of his son-in-law, Mr. Kenyon, wore upon him very perceptibly.

It is not strange how often one's expressed wishes are fulfilled?
 Only a few days prior to the accident which deprived him of this earthly life, Mr. McClure said to a friend, "I hope when I die that I may go quickly, and not be left to linger with sickness and pain."

Saturday morning he went as usual for the mail and on his way home, in crossing the C. & A. R. R. track, he was struck by the engine of the palace express and instantly killed. It is needless to say that not only the family but the entire community was greatly shocked by the tragic event.

The funeral was held at the residence of Mr. Kenyon at 2 p. m. Sunday, the Rev. Wm. Woolley officiated, assisted by the Rev. E. F. Wright. The body was laid to rest in the Oak Lawn cemetery. He leaves a wife, two daughters and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

Obituary of Rev. Jas. W. Haney, D. D.
 Jas. W. Haney was born Jan. 24, 1840, in Bloomington, Ill. From childhood he was lover of books and was ambitious for a thorough education took a course of study in the Northwestern University and graduated from that institution in 1861.

He at once began the study of law and entered upon its practice in Chicago early in 1862.

When the war broke out he was fired with patriotic ardor and at once enlisted in the service of his country and raised a company which was placed in the 72d Regt. of Ill. Vol. Inf. and was known as Co. I.

Mr. Haney was converted in the army and as soon as he returned home he resolved to enter the Christian ministry and joined the Central Ill. Conference of the M. E. church and was assigned to a field near Lacon.

He was a useful minister and was distinguished for untiring energy, and for a broad and liberal spirit. He had none of that sectarian narrowness which is the baneful characteristic of some men. His alma mater honored him with the degree of Doctor of Divinity, 1886. Mr. Haney was the presiding elder of the Normal District for six years and performed the usual duties of that important position with his accustomed earnestness and ability. Having completed his term two years ago he accepted pastoral work again and was assigned to the Galva church. He was its faithful and laborious pastor up to the time of his death, which occurred Thursday, April 5, 1900.

He had been suffering from failing health since 1896 and the death of his father, the venerable Richard Haney, D. D., Jan. 27, 1900, seemed to give him a very great shock. From that day he rapidly failed, but with indomitable will he persisted in doing his work until March 4, when he preached his last sermon.

The funeral was held in Galva at 8 a. m. Saturday, April 7th, and the body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Moline.

Thus another of God's choice servants has laid aside the armor of earthly conflict and entered into the portals of eternal life.

The Rev. J. W. Frizelle, his presiding elder, officiated, assisted by other ministers of the conference.

His sister, Mrs. Geo. Baker, attended the funeral. He leaves a wife, one son, three daughters, one brother, five sisters and a large number of friends to mourn his loss.

Death of Aaron Prickett.
 Following is from the Mulvane, Kansas, record:
 "Aaron Prickett was born in Kendall county, Ill., November 15, 1859, and died at his home three miles east of Mulvane, April 3rd, 1900, aged 60 years, 4 months and 19 days. He was married February 19, 1887, to Miss Nancy Barby, to which union were born four children—Mrs. Y. Ogg, Joliet, Ill., James Prickett, Campus, Ill., and Edward and Ella Prickett, Mulvane. He has a brother and sister in Illinois and a brother in Colorado. He was converted and united with the Missionary Baptist church in early life. He served through the civil war as a member of Co. A, 36th Illinois infantry, and at the time of his death was commander of Mulvane Post No. 203, G. A. B. He came to Kansas in the spring of 1893, where he lived until the close of life, loved and respected by all. Death resulted from pneumonia."

Aaron Prickett was well known by all the old residents of Dwight, Round Grove and vicinity and highly respected by all. He settled in Round Grove in 1868 and resided there until he moved to Kansas in 1893.

The funeral was held at the home and was under the auspices of the G. A. B. Post of which he was the honored commander. He was at one time an honored member of the Dwight Post.

Death of Mrs. L. V. Wood.
 Mrs. L. V. Wood passed away last Friday after a few days of sickness about two years ago Mrs. Wood was stricken down with paralysis from which she never recovered. Although she did not suffer but little pain, yet she was nearly helpless.

The deceased was born in Bethany, N. Y., 1825, when four years of age moved to Ashabua, Ohio, when ten moved to Newark, Ill. In 1851 was married to L. V. Wood, when married moved near Dwight, Ill., where they remained until 1885 when they moved to Keneasaw, where they have lived until the present time. There were born to them nine children, four of whom survive: R. O. Wood, Keneasaw, Neb.; Mrs. Ella Erickson, Chicago, Ill.; Henry Wood, Degrupe, Minn. and Mrs. Alma Howe, Kearney, Neb.

Mrs. Wood was converted when eleven years of age and united with the Free Baptist church and has since lived a Christian life. Although passing through many trials and hardships, and time of religious depressions, has never wavered in her faith.

She leaves to her friends the blessed assurance that she has an abundant entrance into the heaven of rest which she has so earnestly sought.

Mrs. Woods was the daughter of Deacon Gleason. Her grandfather, Nathaniel Brown, was a Free Baptist minister, also one of her brothers, Rev. Absalom Brown, Hadam, Kansas.

The funeral was held at the Free Baptist church in Keneasaw, the three churches uniting in the exercises. Sister Wood leaves many friends to mourn her loss but not without hope. That sweet spirit has gone to the bright beyond where we shall meet beyond the river where the surges cease to roll.—Keneasaw, Neb., Citizen.

OBITUARY.
 John Kobacher was born in Borkach, Bavaria, Germany, came to America in 1866, and was working a number of years in the brewery. Seventeen years ago he settled on his farm one and a half miles north of the townhouse in Goodfarm, District No. 2.

He died the 7th of April in Joliet in the hospital and was buried April 9 in the Goodfarm cemetery. He was 80 years of age. He leaves a brother and two sisters in Germany and an aunt in America.

He was a good man, well liked by all who knew him, and will be missed greatly by his relatives, neighbors and friends.

M. W. A.
 The Dwight Camp No. 1777, M. W. A. entertained about thirty of the Braceville Neighbors Tuesday evening at their regular meeting and the latter entertained some of the Dwight boys—indeed they were very entertaining at times.

V. C. W. H. Doty called the meeting to order and after the opening, called upon V. C. Reizel, of the Braceville Camp to take charge of the initiation ceremony, which he did, also the other officers of Braceville Camp. Neighbors, (that is they are now) Mike Dunn, Ernest Ra-mussen, Robt. Mays and John Burnham were "put through" by the Braceville team, led by Neighbor Ferris, of the Joliet News. The team is an excellent one and do their work fine. The Braceville Neighbors brought a fine orchestra with them, which added materially to the effect of the work.

The hall was filled with neighbors and the evening and part of the morning up to the 4:15 train was very enjoyable. The Dwight Neighbors served a lunch of sandwiches, coffee, fruit and all who would, smoked.

Take it all in all it was a most pleasant occasion and it is to be hoped that the neighborhood visits will be kept up and the fraternity grow.

The members of Dwight Camp feel very thankful to the Braceville Neighbors for their visit and fine work and hope to entertain them again some time.

Fair Sample of Kicks.
 It is well known that the Leslie E. Keely Co., through the influence of J. T. Oughton, expended about $25,000 and placed the water works system in splendid condition so that it is paying the village something, and then presented it to the village of Dwight, and still there are those who would give the people to understand that it was the people's money, raised by taxes, that did it.

The truth of the matter is that there are a few—very few, thank the Lord—who would not be satisfied with anything that was done unless they did it.

The STAR and HERALD has nothing personal against Mr. Vickery or any of the gentlemen on the "Independent" ticket, and believes them good citizens and neighbors and no small part of our village but we simply submit to the people of Dwight that it is only a common-sense view of matters to believe that experienced men like J. R. Oughton are more competent to fill the position than men who never had any experience.

What's the use of making any change. There's no issue but saloons, and there has never been a man in Dwight who has done more for the town than J. R. Oughton. His interest in his business, his fine home, and everything about him indicates his interest in our beautiful city.

With J. R. Oughton at the helm and such men as H. P. Adams, R. D. Gregg, L. J. Trunnell and W. H. Doty, and Geo. S. Baker to do the official business of Dwight everyone knows everything will be all right.

The issues if any, are business and good sound judgment and no saloons,—not what a person has got to pay for a telephone if he wants one, or whether Bob Orr cleaned every crossing in Dwight in fifteen minutes on a muddy day, or whether the water tower and engine will be done away with and a windmill put up.

What every voter in Dwight should honestly ask himself is "which are the men who will give the very best administration of the affairs of our city and then vote for them, and let the good judgment of the people prevail.

Figures Tell.
 Attention is called to the published reports of the village treasurer and finance committee in this issue. While the levy for village purposes is 2 per cent it should be remembered that all the water works bonds are now paid and that the village indebtedness is now only $8,000. It will be seen also that the net profit from the water works for last year was $837.94 and will be more this year.

It will be seen that the village is in splendid condition, is well equipped with modern conveniences and will be out of debt in about four years more.

There is no city or village anywhere better or more economically conducted and it all speaks volumes for the business sagacity and untiring work of the president and members of the board.

Circuit Court.
 The April term of Circuit Court will convene Tuesday, April 17. Circuit Clerk Hoobler has issued the docket on which can be found eight criminal cases, 155 common law, and 103 chancery.

The first panel of jurors called for the first day of the term, and the second panel for April 30. The list was published in this paper several weeks ago.
