The flag symbolizes our purposes and our aspirations; it represents what we believe and what we mean to maintain, and wherever it floats it is the flag of the free, the hope of the oppressed; and wherever it is assailed, it is a sacrifice it will be carried to a triumphant peace.—Wm. McKinley.

The returns are not complete and it is not believed that Mr Bryan has heard from all of his notification committees.

So far the gentlemen in charge of the Democratic spellbinding have been unable to announce any appointments for the Hon. Grover Cleveland.

If, as the Democrats affirm, the Dingley bill is the mother of trusts, it must be admitted that quite a large family of children were born before their mother.

It will be perceived that Governor Roosevelt is not going about the country apologizing for his views of Democratic encouragement for the Tagals.

"Populists balk at Stevenson," says one of the headlines. No reason why they should: Uncle Adlai will agree to anything or do anything than they want.

Bryan has quit quoting Jefferson and Jackson, has about given up Lincoln and Grant, and has taken to Scripture to defend his position as Republic Savior.

Among Mr. Bryan's many exploded predictions is the one of 1896 which threatened the country with four years more of hard times in case of his defeat.

The figures show that the farmers of the country paid $825,000,000 for the fun of electing a Democratic President in 1892. It is doubtful if they will do so again.

The Democratic managers have requested Mr. Altgeld to confine his remarks to German, but the German voters will understand the gentleman no more ways than one.

Democratic leaders in Congress were not the least bit apprehensive about "militarism" when they were engaged in urging that the United States go to war to free Cuba.

Hon. William Sulzer is keeping remarkably quiet these times; so quiet that he hasn't yet explained what has become of that left over $18 the relic of the Washington City pro-Boer exhibition understood to have been in Mr. Sulzer's possession at last accounts

As usual, the Democracy enters the campaign mighty long on precept and dreadfully short on example.

Chairman Jones has not given up New York. It will be recalled that his astute campaign manager didn't give up the fight in 1896 for several days after the voting was over.

In thirty years, in which the population of the country has increased one hundred per cent, the production of cotton has increased three hundred per cent; and they don't feel so badly over this in the Southern states either.

All of the counties in Arkansas have not been heard from, but at the hour of going to press Chairman Jones, Chairman of the Populist Committee, had not parted with any of his American Cotton Bale Trust stock.

As the campaign advances it becomes more and more evident that the friends of good government, true patriotism, sound money and protection to American interests are uniting to oppose those who stand for the reverse of these civic virtues.

Since Mr. Bryan is swinging round the circle so gaily, he might devote one of his single-topic speeches to a discussion of the validity of the fifteenth amendment to the Constitution to which he was so devoted; also to the "Consent of Governed" in North Carolina.

As a rule, the less practical a man is the more he believes himself capable of interpreting the constitution. Judging from Bryan's speeches he could manage the entire business of the Supreme Court without any assistance, but would fail in any legitimate business enterprise.

"What I denounce," said William J. Bryan when a Congressman "is a protective tariff; is false economy and the most vicious political principle that has ever cursed this country." Since then the Gold Standard was the most vicious, and now Imperialism is the most vicious principal that ever cursed this country.

Never before in the history of Presidential campaign have the supporters of a candidate been asked to believe that the platform means the reverse of what it says. The Democrats argue that Bryan will not do anything to advance the cause of silver, as he has promised to do. They are also being convinced that he would not retire the army from the Philippines as he has promised. Such an anomalous condition should not beget confidence.

DEMOCRATS GOT THE MONEY.

"The Democrats profess to be grieved beyond measure that President McKinley has not done more for the Transvaal. But he offered England to negotiate a peace, and that is more than any other country on the globe dared to do," said Senator Dooliver, in a speech at Evanston. "I have studied carefully the Democratic sympathy for the Boers, and I have a mighty poor opinion of it. When the envoys of the Transvaal visited Washington the Democrats took up a collection for the Boer widows and orphans. I gave $5 myself, and they raised $1,200. But for O'Connell and that is more than this money $140 went for wine, $104 for carriages, and $68 for hotel bills, though the envoys drank no wine, and always walked and the hotelkeepers entertained them free. O'Connell reported that he had only $14 left, and the Boer widows and orphans never saw a cent even of that."

COL TURNER SCORES ALTGELD.

Takes Ex-Governor to Task for His Attack on Roosevelt.
 Henry L. Turner, colonel of the First Illinois regiment during the war with Spain and in command of the Second brigade, Third division of the Fifth Army corps in the Santiago campaign, has written an open letter to ex-Governor John P. Altgeld, in which he takes the latter to task for the attack he made on the military course of Governor Roosevelt in a speech at Toledo, O., recently. The letter differs from Altgeld's speech in that it is written in perfect good temper, but Colonel Turner, who by the way, is an old time Democrat, not only shows that Governor Roosevelt's course at Santiago was deserving of all the praise which has been given it, but that the attacks made on him by Democrats are all utterly without foundation.

The letter is headed, "Was Colonel Roosevelt the Plata Hero?" and at the start Colonel Turner says to Governor Altgeld: "You challenge his patriotism, his malice, his truthfulness, and his right to a place in history as a real soldier and a brave man."

The Colonel comments on the fact that when the Democrats nominated McClellan and Hancock for the presidency they recognized the fact that a soldier was not necessarily debarred from political honors and their candidate now, like Colonel Roosevelt, was also a colonel of volunteers in the Spanish war.

"Is William J. Bryan a tin-plate soldier also?" asks the writer. "Is the man who saw real fighting to be condemned while the man who saw none is to be exalted? Was Colonel Bryan's service more valuable to the country than Colonel Roosevelt's that you would exalt the one and decry the other?"

No "Pompous" Poising.
 Then taking up the cry of Governor Altgeld that Roosevelt's desire to enter the army was a case of "pompous posing" and "strenuous strutting" Colonel Turner says:

"Why do the boys of Illinois crowd our regiments to overflowing? Why did any of us go? Why did Colonel Bryan go? For the same reason that Colonel Roosevelt went. It was a genuine, devoted love of country and sense of duty that actuated all alike. If there were any tangled with our thoughts any vision of glory, they were common alike to all, and gilded the sleep of the dreamer of Nebraska just as often as they did that of Colonel Roosevelt."

Continuing, the letter draws attention to the fact that Colonel Roosevelt was at the head of his troops, which there saw heavier fighting than any other regiment engaged. Its loss was 16.1 per cent, the heaviest of any of the regiments engaged, and, says Colonel Turner, "no tinplate hero ever stood in the front line when death was hanging over his head." In the early war the heaviest loss of any regiment was that of the Sixth Regular infantry, 24.9 per cent, and Colonel Roosevelt's Rough Riders came second with 22.2 per cent.

Did Not Shoot Him in the Back.

The charge that Roosevelt was blood-thirsty is also denied and the accusation that he shot Spaniards in the back is denied in toto. Says the letter:

"Here are the acts: In the charge on San Juan hill, as Colonel Roosevelt rushed on the trenches two Spanish soldiers aimed at him. Mauser rifles leaped up, fired at ten yards' distance, then, still armed and unconquered, started for the rear. As they fired and were turning the Colonel, armed only with his revolver, shot one in the left breast and killed him.
 "Under such circumstances neither Colonel Roosevelt nor any other soldier could do anything else and do his duty. Here was an active, unwounded, unsundered enemy, driven from his first line, hurrying to find a new point of defence from which to renew the fight. A complete reply to your criticism is that any soldier in the situation of this Spaniard has a perfect defense in prompt surrender. You know that ever since the war began it has been a foundation principle of military science to break your enemy's lines, then crush and destroy him as he runs away. It was the corps of General Hancock, the Democratic presidential candidate, the bravest of the brave, which poured shot, shell and musket balls into the back of Pickett's broken division at Gettysburg. It was General Lawton, than whom no braver man or truer Democrat ever lived, whose troops on that same field of Santiago, shot down in heaps the Spaniards as they ran from El Caney."

Says Roosevelt Told Truth.
 In reply to Altgeld's charge that Governor Roosevelt was guilty of untruth when he said at Minneapolis that the Democratic party is the party of lawlessness and disorder, Colonel

Turner asserts if he made such an assertion he told the exact truth, and he calls Altgeld's recollection to the scenes in Chicago in 1894 when the Illinois was governor of Illinois, and mobs were loose in Chicago during the Debs insurrection. Colonel Turner with other Democrats appealed to Altgeld to preserve law and order, but he now writes, "Can you not also recall how you hesitated and paltered and delayed until a Democratic president stepped in with United States troops?" And again: "Remember how your wing of the party, the wing now in the saddle, in 1896 incorporated in the party's platform a denunciation of such a Democratic presidential action. It is because the Democratic party at Kansas City reaffirmed and adopted this apology for disorder that Colonel Roosevelt spoke, not falsehood, but the truth, when he designated your party as he did."

Choice of the People.
 In connection with the latter saying, "No, no, sir, you are all astray in this matter," Colonel Roosevelt is just as brave a man and true a soldier as any of those heroic men who fought side by side with you and me in the great war of the rebellion. If he is in fact a Democrat, he is a Democrat through no desire for "pompous posing" or "strenuous strutting," but because the American people will have it so. If you have any fault to find blame the people. They made him a candidate against his will. They are entitled to see him in the white, not to be seen or heard. Not because he is the Republican candidate for the vice presidency, but because he was my good comrade in the Cuban war and is my cherished friend today. I am glad to be able to say to you, sir, to the people of the State of Illinois, that Colonel Roosevelt is a broad, brainy, cool-headed, far-seeing, patriotic American, worthy of any man's trust and confidence, and absolutely true to the welfare of the nation."

TURN TO REPUBLICANS.

Marion County Democrats Desert the Cause of Bryan.
 From all parts of Marion county, the old home of Bryan, comes the cheering news of changes from the Democratic to the Republican ranks. Among the latest to come out for sound money and expansion is Dr. Thomas Goose-tree of Carter, one of the oldest practitioners in southern Illinois, and a life long Democrat, renouncing Bryan and the Democratic ticket. He states that he and his two sons, also Democrats, will vote for the Republican ticket of the state and national Republican ticket. He says that Bryanism savors too much of anarchism, while the expansion and sound money policy of the present administration is in direct line with the old Jeffersonian Democracy and the policy of the great support of all right thinking people, regardless of former party affiliations.

Samuel Keel of the same place is another supporter of W. J. Bryan in 1896 who severed his connection with the party and has announced his intention of voting for McKinley. W. C. Ferguson of Odin, a retired farmer and a former Democratic wheel horse in Marion county, has served notice on the Democratic leaders that he stands no longer identified with that party, but will support McKinley and Yates for the reason that the Republican expansion policy is Democratic doctrine of the Jefferson brand, while the flag-furling policy of the latter-day Democracy is weak, unpatriotic and un-American.

John Sager, a merchant at Helm, Rome township, who was born and raised a Democrat, has joined the McKinley club at his place, and in a speech on that occasion, announced in emphatic terms his repudiation of Bryan and all that Bryanism means. He says that McKinley's policy has been a true one, and that he does not desire to jeopardize his interests by voting into power a party with no definite policy. Mr. Sager is a German and says that the Democratic imperialistic ghost is too transparent to frighten any sensible American voter.

About the Jews and Alschuler.

"Of course you can learn a good deal about politics in Chicago," said Nat. H. Cohen, a Champaign business man, on his return home from a trip to the city. "Things are active there; but I was gratified particularly to hear my Jewish friends talk in respect to Alschuler. You know the Democrats are fond of saying all the Jews will vote for him. Well, I'll tell you how that is. Jewish voters who would vote for Bryan and his money ideas will vote for Alschuler; but Republican Jews will vote for Yates. They are looking for a sound money system on which to do business. They are not making their religion the basis on which they vote.
