WATCHES

Do not identify a particular style of case as a watch. A watch is made up of two parts—the works or movement and the case. The most important thing in buying a watch is to get a good movement as the case may be gold, silver, gun metal, nickel, or any other metal, and yet in no way bear on the quality of the movement. It is the inside mechanism that insures the service.

NEWS FROM OUR EXCHANGES THROUGHOUT THE COUNTY

Daniel W. Herbert, of Pontiac, fell at his residence on the south side Saturday evening, breaking his leg. Mr. Herbert is compelled to use crutches in order to get about and it is thought that ice formed on the bottom of his crutch and on putting it down on the warm floor of his home the crutch slipped, letting him fall.

The wrestling match held last Saturday night at Odell between the Sannem Greek and Martin Thompson, of Streator, was won by the Greek, in two straight falls, the first being in thirty-five minutes and the second in twenty minutes. Thompson was the heavier, but the Greek was in better trim. There is talk of a return match in the near future.

L. T. Tryon, formerly a resident of Strawn and for several years cashier of the First National Bank of Roff, Okla., has purchased an interest in the First State Bank at Broken Arrow, Okla., and will be the cashier of that institution. He is a young man who has many friends in this part of the country who are glad to know that he is meeting with success in Oklahoma.

At 8 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Methodist parsonage, in Odell, George L. Ahrens and Elsie Mae Houck were married, Rev. D. S. Anderson officiating. The young couple are well known in this community, where they have always lived, and anticipate remaining here for the present at least. After the ceremony they departed for Chicago for a short stay with friends.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers' State Bank of Cabery was held last week. The same board of directors was selected with the exception of Winfield Scott, who was chosen to succeed the late R. J. Evely. After the election the directors met and selected the bank officers for the ensuing year. The officers remain unchanged except that H. M. Breneisa was elected assistant cashier to succeed D. M. Breneisa, resigned.

John Kemmetz, one of the well known residents of Strawn, died suddenly while eating dinner Sunday at the home of Henry Hornikie, near that place. Mr. Kemmetz was a single man who has been making his home during the winter with his brothers in this vicinity. Sunday he was taking dinner at the Hornikie home. While seated at the table he suddenly choked and before aid could reach him he had expired. He was a man about forty-five years of age and lived alone all of his life. He leaves several brothers in this vicinity.

A big union revival service was begun at Planagan Sunday. The meetings are being held in the Bennett Hall under the auspices of the Methodist and Christian churches, Evangelist W. L. Wray, of Budd Park, Kansas City, Mo., assisted by J. J. Bell, singer, and two trained women workers, conducting. A choir of fifty voices is aiding. Last week's Planagan Home Times contained a full page advertisement of the meetings. This is the first time that a page advertisement has been used in a newspaper in this county for this purpose.

Postmaster Nelson A. Bemis, of Odell, expired suddenly Monday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock. He was on duty at the office as usual when he was stricken with paralysis. He was taken to his home in an auto at once and medical aid summoned, but nothing could be done, and he lived but a few moments. Mr. Bemis had lived in and near Odell for many years, was well known and universally liked, and his death came as a decided shock to the community. The funeral services held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and interment took place in the family lot in Esmen cemetery.

The body of Mrs. Annie E. Kidwell, of Peoria, who died at the age of eighty-seven years, eight months and six days, was recently interred in the Pike cemetery by the side of her husband, A. R. Kidwell, who died on the farm he owned in Pike township twelve years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Kidwell were early settlers of Livingston county, having moved to Pike in 1866. After Mr. Kidwell's death the family moved to Chenoa, where they resided for three years, when they moved to Peoria county. Mrs. Kidwell was a lifelong member of the Baptist church, having been a member at Ocoya for many years.

Frank Way, an employe of the Central Union Telephone Company, of Pontiac, fell from a telephone pole near Chenoa one day and broke his leg. Mr. Way was working on a pole and in placing his safety belt around the pole one of his climbing hooks slipped out of the pole, a distance of about fifteen feet. He fell on rough, frozen ground, breaking his right leg just above the ankle.

Word has been received in Pontiac announcing the death of James Greenhalgh, of Halsey, Ore. Mr. Greenhalgh was for many years a resident of Livingston county, living in Waldo township. About thirty years ago he removed to Oregon and has resided in that state since. At the time of his death he was about seventy-five years of age. He suffered a paralytic stroke on December 27 and passed away on New Year's day. Deceased was a brother-in-law of James and Henry Andrews and Mrs. George Murray, of Pontiac.

Mrs. Nettie Dunn, of Pontiac, has filed a bill in the circuit court asking for a divorce from Elmer Dunn. She states in her bill that she was united in marriage to Mr. Dunn, March 23, 1903, and that she lived with him until October 23, 1911, when she and her children were compelled to leave him on account of his failure to support them and also on account of his infidelity. Mrs. Dunn asked for and was granted a temporary injunction restraining him from entering her home or interfering with her or her children in any manner.

Monday evening H. E. Torrance and Miss Grace Torrance, of Pontiac, left for Chicago, being called there on account of the death at Austin of their grandfather, E. P. Fenn, his death occurring Monday noon from a stroke of apoplexy. The funeral was held at Austin on Thursday morning. Mr. Fenn for many years lived on a farm near Chatsworth, going to that place in the early sixties and remaining there until 1885, when he retired and went to Austin to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Wyman. He was about eighty-nine years of age. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Eliza Torrance, of Pontiac, and the above mentioned Mrs. Wyman, of Austin; also two grandchildren, H. E. Torrance and Miss Grace Torrance, of Pontiac.

The Ministerial Association of Livingston county met Monday morning in the Young Men's Christian Association building at Pontiac. The attendance was small, but the interest intense, many matters of interest pertaining to church work and civic righteousness being discussed. Arrangements were made for three of four future meetings. Rev. C. H. Hands, pastor of the Christian church of Fairbury, spoke on the subject, "The Minister and His Power for Service." He magnified the necessity of Christian character on the part of the ministry in the preaching of the word. The members of the association discussed the paper in an interesting and instructive manner, dwelling on the spiritual side of the ministry.

T. D. Karnes, manager of Webber's grocery, and city clerk, has been offered and accepted the position of manager of the Farmers' Grain company, of Fairbury, and assumed the reins of government of that institution Wednesday, Jan. 10, at which time the new company will take charge of the business. Mr. Karnes is the second city clerk to graduate into the grain business, G. W. Bennett being the first. Mr. Karnes will, however, have time to look after his business in official capacity and attend to the business of the company as well. He will undoubtedly make a first-class manager. He has a wide acquaintance among the farmers of this locality, has proven himself to be a successful business man, and his honesty is unquestioned.

Miss Elizabeth Frederick, only daughter of Mrs. Mary Frederick, and Albert Koerner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Koerner, both of Cabery, were united in marriage last Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Nuptial high mass was celebrated at St. Joseph's church by the pastor, Rev. Father P. P. Kluck. The bridesmaid was Miss Clementine Koerner, of Culom, a cousin of the groom, and the bridegroom was attended by William Frederick, the bride's brother. After the ceremony at the church the invited guests, numbering more than 100, repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Koerner, where an elaborate wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Koerner left that evening for Chicago and Valparaiso, Ind. At the latter place they will visit Mr. and Mrs. George Koerner. They will return to Cabery in about two weeks, where they will make their home.
