The maximum, 92 degrees, was registered on three dates, the 26th, 28th and 29th. The minimum, 36 degrees, occurred on the 8th with a light frost; the greatest daily range was 36 degrees, also on the 8th. The total rainfall, 2.81 of an inch, was nearly one inch below normal and badly distributed, about two-thirds of the entire rainfall of the month falling on a single date, the 14th. There was 8 days on which rain fell, varying from 0.01 to 1.86 of an inch on the 14th. 11 clear, 10 partly cloudy, and 9 cloudy days prevailing. Winds from the northeast and southwest. The mean temperature for the past week, 76 degrees, was about one degree above normal, and one degree colder than the corresponding week, 1911. Weather conditions of a seasonable character mark the close of the week.

FRANK L. SMITHS VICTORIOUS AT MORRIS.

Morris Reds Defeated by a Score of 9-4.

The Morris papers for the week preceding June 30th were filled with glowing accounts of the victory of the Morris boys over the Joliet Standards and promising the readers and fans that the Dwight boys were surely going down to defeat when they visited Morris. They predicted that the Hoodoo (whatever that may be) was surely a thing of the past and from now on Dwight was destined to defeat at their hands. This same kind they have endured for the past six years with only one victory in that length of time to cheer them up and that lone victory was won at Dwight—score, one to nothing—and they got but one hit off Mickelson in that game. Hoodoos may be all right but there is one thing the Dwight management will not stand for and that is a bunch of Hoodlums crowding the base lines and throwing pop bottles at players and insulting and threatening to whip any of the spectators from out of town who see fit to cheer the visiting team. To the Dwight players this kind of treatment only spurs them on and makes them play harder but it is something new to them to play under those conditions.

The game was played before a good crowd considering the weather. It rained about an hour before the game was to be called and it was almost four o'clock before the game was called with Dwight to bat. Wallace, the first man up, was given a base on balls. Lannon sacrificed and was safe on Miller's error. Frank Flood walked. Burns was safe on A. Enger's error. W. Wallace struck out. Kern also fanned. Harrison singled. McGahey hit for two bases to right center. Jim Flood struck out, ending the inning. Two bases on balls, four errors, two hits and five runs.
 Morris scored one in the second on H. Enger's two base hit and M. Sharp's single. They added two more in the sixth on a single by H. Enger and a three bagger by M. Sharp. One more was added in the seventh on R. Enger's three base hit and an error by D. Wallace.

W. Wallace started the eighth with a nice clean hit but was out, Enger to Enger, on an attempt to steal. Mickelson batted for Kern, singled to left and scored on a nice two base drive to deep center by Harrison. Three more were added by the Dwight boys in the ninth on a bad throw by Gleghorn, singles by Lannon and F. Flood and a nice two base hit by Burns. Morris was unable to score in their half of the ninth. Jim Flood will work against Cabery in Cabery, July 7th.

Morris Reds Victorious in Fourth of July Game—Errors by Locals Give Them All Their Runs.

Morris finally won a game from the F. L. Smiths and the fans went home rejoicing, even though their runs were all gifts. Mickelson was in fine form and was entitled to a shut out game. He also got two safe hits. Up to the fifth inning neither side scored. Morris scored one in their half on a base on balls to Wilworth and Harry Miller's two bagger. In Dwight's half,

Wallace, with two down, hit to center for a homer, tying the score. In the sixth, Roy Enger was allowed to go to first, when the ball hit his bat and bounced off and hit him. He was really out for being hit by batted ball. Kutz hit to McGahey and an easy double should have been made, but McGahey fumbled the ball and then Smith dropped the ball when tossed to him and all were safe on the error by Smith and both runs scored. The home team came right back in their half and scored two runs on three safe hits. Morris scored the winning run in the eighth on two more errors and one hit. We don't know what the Morris scribe will say about the Hoodoo now but we are sure of one thing, and that is they can thank the umpire for the game as the decision on Roy Enger is the one that won the game for them in the sixth inning. We are not finding fault with our umpire because we think he called them just as he saw them, but we want the general public to know that the Morris boys were not getting the worst of it as they tried in every possible manner to give the spectators that impression.

Sandy Wood, the star from St. Vitauers, struck out three times. Sandy is sure a grand stand player and umpire batter since his short sojourn at St. Vitauers.

Quite a difference in treatment accorded the visiting players and spectators here and at Morris.
 Sunday, July 14, the Streator Reds will make their first appearance for this season. The management has a good strong line up and will no doubt give our boys a tough argument.
 Gutel will be on second Sunday in the game at Cabery and Lannon and Harrison will also be with us. Flood and Flood will be the battery.

DWIGHT CELEBRATES.

The Dwight Band Celebrated the Fourth Here in Grand Old Style.

Thursday certainly was celebrated in grand style. The morning opened bright and clear, the day proved an ideal one, and everything was soon in preparation for a gala day. Many people began to appear on the streets early in the day and in spite of the number of the surrounding towns who were celebrating, by noon Dwight was a mass of people who had arrived to witness the special features that had been so numerously arranged by the Dwight band.

The program was carried out in full during the day. The band was the first to appear on the streets and opened the day by giving a band concert on East street at 9 o'clock, after which a number of races and the high diving dog were the attraction. Immediately following the races, Rev. F. F. Farrington delivered an exceptionally fine patriotic address at West Park until noon, when the order of the day was for everybody to eat. The restaurants then were the scene of a mass of people, besides the number of groups and family gatherings who had gathered in the different parks to enjoy eating their meal out of doors.
 The afternoon opened with a number of races on West street, followed by the band show, which was given on the band stand on the east side. The band then gave a concert and headed the crowd toward the West Side Ball Park, where a hot game was played between the F. L. Smiths and Morris Reds, the Morris Reds winning the game by a score of 4 to 3.

For those who did not care to go to the ball game a couple of vaudeville acts had been secured and were given on the east side. These acts were exceptionally good and were enjoyed by all who saw them.
 The ball game occupied the time until five o'clock, when the hundreds of people were ushered to Franklin street where the principal attractions were the water fight and the greased pole climbing. Both of these attractions proved amusing and exciting, the water fight being a good battle and it was won through systematic methods. It was not only the fighters who got wet, either.

The next attraction was the balloon ascension which did not occur, as the balloon caught fire when about half full of gas and burnt a portion of the top out. Mr. Pearson worked hard so as not to have anything like this happen, but in spite of his efforts, the high wind which was blowing the balloon made it impossible to hold and it caught fire and burnt it enough so that an ascension could not be made.
 At 7:30 o'clock the band gave another concert and the vaudeville acts were given again. At about 8 o'clock a grand display of fireworks was given on the south end of East street, which certainly was enjoyed by all.

The program closed with a dance in Mazon Hall at which about one hundred and seventy tickets were sold which is appreciated by the Dwight band, but well deserved to them for the interest they have taken and the able manner in which they conducted the celebration.

The large crowd that attended from adjoining towns all left well satisfied that they had spent a day of enjoyment and that Dwight was the place to celebrate to have a good time.

Her program will include several titles such as "Charm," "The Kiddy," "The Country Girl" and "The Slavery." Another big novelty act will be a dancing ensemble of remarkable quality called the Ballet Classique. Ed Blondell, the noted comedian, with his company will produce a comedy sketch. Billy Gould and Belle Ashlyn will be very important features. Simonet, a high class tenor, who comes with more than an ordinary reputation. Teshow's wonderful trained cats will give an example of what can be done with these most difficult animals, and Juggling DeLisle will present many novelties in his line of work.
