George Gruver was arrested Monday night on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. The arrest occurred at Interurban Park. He was given a hearing before Justice James H. Gaff, where he was fined $150. He was unable to pay the fine and went to the county jail.

A pretty home wedding took place Tuesday morning at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Gower, of Odell, when Miss Gertrude Day and Mr. Fred Egolf, of Chicago, were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Andrewartha. The bride is a niece of Mr. Gower and the Misses Day.

The funeral of Mrs. Irving W. Hiles, of East Moline, was held in Odell Wednesday afternoon. Deceased died Monday at East Moline of typhoid fever. She was 61 years of age and is survived by her husband and two sons, C. E. Hiles, of Carington, N. D., and A. F. Hiles, of Odell.

During the heavy wind and rain storm Monday afternoon a barber pole fastened to the northwest corner of the Sterry block, in Pontiac, was torn loose from its fastenings by the wind and thrown against the north window of the Pontiac State Bank. The plate glass window was broken out when the pole struck it.

A walkout of about half a dozen latters at the Pontiac shoe factory occurred Wednesday morning. The trouble is said to have occurred when a young man from St. Louis was put on in answer to an advertisement. It is said objection was made to putting on outside help. The men walking out constituted about half the force.

Married, at the Phoenix Hotel in Pontiac, Tuesday at 12 o'clock noon, Paul Williams, of Peoria, and Miss Mary McMahon, of Chatsworth, Judge W. C. Graves officiating. Mr. and Mrs. John Kerrins, of Chatsworth, accompanied them. Following the ceremony the couple departed for St. Louis. They will be at home to their friends after September 15 at 324 Indiana avenue, Peoria, Ill. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Will Bond, of Pontiac.

The funeral of Mrs. Reason Brown, who died Sunday afternoon, was held Tuesday afternoon from the Baptist Church, in Pontiac. Mary McMillan was born December 25, 1841, in Pontiac township and continued to make her home here during all of her life. She united with the Baptist Church in 1877 and remained true to the teachings of her church. On June 29, 1859, she was united in marriage to Reason Brown, also a resident of Pontiac township. To this union were born five children, two of whom, with her husband, survive her. The children are Allan Brown and Mrs. Joseph Morris, of Pontiac. The deceased are Mrs. Emma Burchfield, Mrs. Ellen Blake and Jesse. Besides these she leaves thirteen grandchildren, a brother, Andrew McMillan, of Pontiac, and a half-sister, Mrs. Ann Hendershott, also of Pontiac. Mrs. Brown's only sister, Mrs. Hannah Edgington died Monday evening.

Walter Webber, living west of Pontiac, was painfully injured while working about a threshing machine. Just how the accident happened is not known, but it is believed that the clothing upon his right arm became caught in a rapidly revolving flywheel and that he was thrown around this wheel until his clothing gave way under the weight. The accident was not witnessed by any one. The body of Mr. Webber was seen by one of the men assisting about the machine lying underneath the threshing machine. He investigated with the result that he found the young man had suffered an accident. He called some of his companions and they removed the young man to the farmhouse, where physicians were called. The flesh had been stripped from his right arm and a number of painful cuts and other injuries inflicted. It required twenty-two stitches to close one cut about the head, the ear having been nearly torn off. It is thought the young man will recover.

The Chatsworth Produce Company has purchased a two ton Avery truck to be used by it in collecting poultry and eggs from the farmers in that section of the county.

It cost $4,930 to run the city of Fairbury last year. The report of City Treasurer Charles Steinberg showed the city to have a balance of $3,231.91 at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Mr. Stutzman, a piano tuner, who has been in Fairbury for several weeks, is out his Excelsior motorcycle. He purchased the machine some time ago from a young man, but it is claimed the machine was stolen. A detective from Chicago and the owner of the machine were in Fairbury Wednesday and identified the motorcycle and Stutzman turned it over to them.

Mrs. Hannah Edgington, of Pontiac, one of the oldest residents of this vicinity, died at the home of her brother, Andrew McMillan, 203 South Vermillion street, Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Death was due to old age. Hannah McMillan spent practically all of her life in this township and with her husband helped to develop this from a virgin prairie. Mr. Edgington died a number of years ago. She leaves four sons.

Archer Watts, mail carrier on Route One from Emington, and Miss Florence Walters, of Streator, were married in Chicago Wednesday, Aug. 28. They stole a march on their friends, none of them knew they were married until they received a telegram from them after the ceremony. They visited in Chicago till Saturday when they went to Streator to the home of the bride's mother. They returned to Emington Tuesday and will make that their future home.

One of the laws that was passed by the recent legislature makes it mandatory that highway commissioners of every township erect sign boards. The failure of a highway commissioner to comply with this law subjects him to prosecution and removal from office. Many of the highway commissioners throughout the state who have been informed as to the contents of the new statute are erecting signs at all cross roads. These boards should contain the distances and directions of the principal towns.

Four persons injured Sunday afternoon when their motor car was struck by a west bound freight on the Chicago, Indiana and Southern at Missal are resting comfortably and show marked improvement. Mr. Hunter, who was most seriously injured, is much improved, but he is not yet considered out of danger. The other members of the party are still very sore as a result of their bruises. Mrs. Hunter was able to move about the hospital Wednesday and she visited her husband and Mr. Crouch. Besides his cuts, Mr. Crouch has complained of terrible pains in his head. Little Flossie Hunter, who was bruised down one side, is not able to leave her bed yet.

Harry Moriat, one of the linemen employed by the Pontiac Light and Water Company, while engaged in straightening up some service wires on the north side of Pontiac Wednesday evening came in contact with the trolley wire of the Bloomington, Pontiac and Joliet, receiving 3,300 volts of electricity. Had it not been for other employees of the company who happened to be near by death would have resulted instantly. He was severely burned about his hand, head, shoulder-blades and other places by the electricity and it is thought he might recover from his injuries, but may be permanently injured.

The business men of Dwight and other cities in this vicinity are urged to be on the lookout for a clever pair of check forgers who are operating in Illinois. They were at St. Charles and Aurora Saturday evening and did quite a thriving business. The two workers are a man and woman and the game is an old but dangerous one.

The woman calls at the stores and selects many articles for the household. Later the man calls and asks to see the goods his wife has picked out. He appears pleased with her selections, orders the goods sent to a certain address and offers checks for amounts ranging from $25 to $60 for payment. He has little difficulty in getting the paper cashed.

The man usually represents himself as a surveyor who is doing work in the vicinity which will take him several months and the checks that he offers are usually drawn on the farmer whom he is supposed to be working for. The woman is stylishly gowned and the man wears diamonds and has an air of prosperity which makes it easier for him to secure good money for his bogus paper.
