NEWS FROM OUR EXCHANGES THROUGHOUT THE COUNTY.

E. E. Davison, who has been conducting the Illinois hotel in Pontiac for the past year, gave up his lease Thursday night. Julius Hartung, of Hills, owns the building and assumed charge of the hotel on that date.

Joe Cavolsky, who was put off the Alton Limited in Pontiac Monday afternoon for being intoxicated, was given a hearing Tuesday afternoon before Judge W. C. Graves in the county court. The man pleaded guilty and was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

Some time during last Thursday night some one entered the barn of Charles Kemp in Pontiac and stole a laprobe and some harness. Some time Sunday night the stolen property was returned, the party driving up to the barn in a buggy and throwing the laprobe and harness into the yard, where it was found later.

John Rubey, a farmer residing near Blackstone, is in a Streator hospital suffering from a broken hip. Mr. Rubey received the injury while endeavoring to mount a saddle horse. His first attempt was unsuccessful and in making the second attempt his horse threw him and in falling he received a broken hip.

The new comet will be seen here in a few days. The comet, which is of the non-periodic, or stray variety was discovered by Prof. Gale, of Sidney, Australia, on September 8. It is still too far south to be seen in this latitude, but is traveling northward, and will probably be visible in a few days in the southwestern sky after sunset.

John Laidig, a Waldo township farmer, was severely kicked in the face Monday by a horse hitched to a wagon as he was preparing to unload a load of corn with a corn dump. His nose was smashed into a pulp and both eyes were severely injured. He was taken to a hospital at Peoria Monday night. It is hoped the sight can be saved.

While working with Jerry Lyons' carpenter force at the Thomas Hanlon farm last Friday Chester Unzicker fell from the top of the corn crib and broke his left leg about half way between the knee and hip. Mr. Unzicker's home is at Tuleta, Texas, but he has been working during the summer at carpenter work in the vicinity of Cullom, his former home.

It has been found by actual count at the Livingston county teachers' institute held at the township high school in Pontiac last week that 110 of the total number of teachers present were either graduates from or had attended at one time the Pontiac township high school. This is a remarkable record on the part of this school in the line of supplying teachers to the county schools.

Mrs. Caroline Garee, of Long Point, died Monday morning at 6:30 at her home in the country. She was eighty years old and death resulted from various ailments due to old age. The decedent was born in Pennsylvania and had lived in this locality for fifty years. A husband and two children, Mrs. John Hupp and Miss Ollie Garee, of Long Point, survive to mourn her loss. The funeral services were held at the home at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and the interment was made in the Long Point cemetery.

It has just been made public that a most successful flight of the Somerville biplane was made at Coal City last week by Aviator Earl Daugherty, during which six passengers were carried with ease. Hundreds of spectators watched the flight, which was a very successful and pretty one. On Wednesday Daugherty made a tryout flight in which everything went splendidly in the big biplane. He gave the word all aboard, and the passengers jumped forward. Among those to be taken up were George Hill, his son, George Campbell, Herman Kaplan and a lad from Joliet. After all were seated Daugherty got in and gave the signal for the start. The machine was released and it scurried across the field and rose slowly into the air with its loud purring. There was not the suspicion of trouble. After circling the field Daugherty came down with his precious freight. On Thursday morning another flight was made with four passengers. Each time a big crowd of people was out. The town folks do not seem to tire of gazing at the buzzing machine far in the air. The work of experimenting will be continued. Somerville plans to put out a machine that will have actual passenger carrying ability with practically no danger entailed.

Floyd A. Pratt, a well known resident of Reading, passed away at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon, following a lingering illness. Death was due to cancer. The decedent is survived by six children and four step-children. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Long Point church. Interment was made in the Long Point cemetery.

A controlling interest in the Pontiac Democrat has been sold to W. C. McCauley, of Lincoln, Ill. The Democrat was established about a year ago by a stock company composed of leading Democrats over the county, has proven a success and has been ably handled by A. C. Fischer as manager and Ford Johnson as editor.

Mrs. George L. Bigelow, of Pontiac, was Monday notified of her appointment as a delegate to the Northwestern branch meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church representing Pontiac district. Miss Maude Sachs, of Lexington, was appointed as a delegate. Northwestern branch of this organization comprises the states of Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin.

The epidemic of typhoid fever at the reformatory in Pontiac, which for a time threatened to assume alarming proportions among the convicts, seems to be subsiding. No more deaths have occurred and it is reported that of the twenty-three cases in the hospital all but three are on the rapid road to recovery. Three of the cases, however, do not make as rapid progress as might be hoped for, but it is hoped that they, too, will ultimately recover.

Corn husking in Livingston county began in earnest Monday morning. From all reports it will be the biggest crop ever raised in the county. Huskers are in demand all over the county and are receiving three cents per bushel this year and most of them average 100 bushels per day. From several parts of the county comes reports that in many places the corn is averaging seventy-five bushels to the acre, while one farmer from Nebraska informs us that he has a field of 80 acres that will average 90.

Last Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at the Presbyterian parsonage occurred the marriage of Ed Davenport and Miss Mary Hart, of Pontiac, Rev. J. H. Boose, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating. They were accompanied by a small company of their friends, Delbert Ramsey and Miss Marie Davenport acting in the capacity of best man and bridesmaid. After a brief visit with friends in Saunemin they will make their home with the groom's mother, Mrs. Charles Davenport, 529 Timber street, Pontiac, Illinois.

Archie Orr, better known in his home town of Fairbury as Sport, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff J. R. Ives charged with assault upon the person of Louis Jones, also of Fairbury. It is alleged that Orr assaulted Jones near the Wabash passenger station in Pontiac on last Thursday night while the latter was waiting for the special train for Fairbury. Jones received a cut from the point of his chin across his face to his temple which required the attention of a physician to close up. Information was at once filed in the county court and the arrest of Orr followed. In the county court he pleaded not guilty and was held in the sum of $500. He was returned to jail, not being able to furnish the bond.

PRIVATE DANCE GIVEN HALLOWEEN NIGHT.

Large Number Attended First Series of Dances in Spite of Rainy Weather.

The first series of the private dances was given by the Dwight Private Dancing Club Thursday evening in Mazon Hall and in spite of the cold, rainy and disagreeable weather which prevailed all evening, about forty-five members accompanied by lady friends were present.

Sweet's orchestra, of Joliet, furnished excellent music during the evening and up to the last dance they were repeatedly applauded for encores. While the beautiful strains of music sounded through the hall the merry gathering, who were gay in spirit, enjoyed the pleasure of tripping the light fantastic until a late hour. Upon departing from the hall all congratulated themselves on the good time they had had and all wished that the dances to follow will be as good.

A number of guests from out of town were present.
