From the staff on the postoffice building the national flag is flying at half-mast which appears to be a general opinion that in that position it is a symbol of grief on the critical condition of the republican party. This however, is erroneous. An order has come to Postmaster Dustin, who is custodian of the building, to fly the flag at half-mast for thirty days in respect to the memory of the late Vice President Sherman.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Mickelson Surprised at Their Home Tuesday Evening.

About fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Mickelson called at their beautiful little bungalow on West Seminole street Tuesday evening and tendered them a very pleasant surprise. This surprise had been in store for them for some time, but owing to their new home being unsettled it was decided to wait until a more convenient time.

The evening was spent in a social way. The guests were all given a trial at geography. Each guest was given a piece of paper to answer thirty questions. The majority of the questions were industries and large cities in foreign countries. After the answers were given it was a puzzle to learn who had written the most answers correct, but so many claimed the honor of having all correct that no prize could be awarded.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Mickelson were presented with a handsome eight day clock and a cut glass vinegar cruet. Another package was also presented to Mr. Mickelson but he was very backward about giving the guests a glimpse of it, so we do not feel that we should tell what it contained.

At a late hour luncheon was served after which the guests departed for their homes wishing Mr. and Mrs. Mickelson many happy and prosperous years of married life.

DEATH OF C. G. PEARSON.

Dwight Resident Passed Away Last Saturday Morning.

Last Saturday morning occurred the death of C. G. Pearson at his residence on West Waupansie street. Mr. Pearson's illness was very brief, he having been stricken with paralysis last Tuesday, never regaining consciousness up to the time of his death.

He was a man 65 years of age and was born in Norway in the year 1847. Later in life he came to this country, where he settled on a farm one-half mile north of Budd. In this vicinity he made many friends who are deeply grieved to hear of the loss of their former neighbor.

Mr. Pearson moved to this city about six weeks ago and purchased the property of Cyrus Dyer on West Waupansie street, where he lived until he was called to his home in Heaven.

Mr. Pearson took great interest in orphan children and during his life in this country adopted six children of which five, along with his wife, survive to mourn the loss of a good husband and father.

Short funeral services were given Monday at his residence in this city by Rev. J. C. Aaberg and the remains were then taken to Mudd Creek Church, near his former home at Budd, where longer services were held. Burial was made in the cemetery near Sunbury.

MORRIS REMAINS COUNTY SEAT.

Tuesday Battle of the Ballots Resulted in Majority of 2,756 for Present Location.

Morris will continue to be the county seat of Grundy county. This question was settled definitely at an election held in Grundy county Tuesday, when the proposition to move the county seat to Mazon was submitted to the voters. The total vote was 3,936 for Morris and 1,180 for moving to Mazon. This gave a majority of 2,756 in favor of the present site and endorses the county board in continuing the plans of rebuilding.

Morris is located well toward the northern portion of the county. Mazon is located south of the center. A row was started when the board of supervisors made an appropriation of $75,000 for repairs to the court house in Morris. A red-hot fight ensued. Leaders of the opposing factions called each other liars and other pet names. It is said to be the first time in history that the various factions of Morris were ever known to be fighting for a common cause. This was another war of the north against the south and the north won. Wednesday there was great rejoicing in Morris.

Russians Flock to Australia.

For some time past a number of Russian settlers from Siberia have made their way to Queensland, Australia, and the latest returns available show that this influx from northern Asia is growing in volume. The warm climate seems particularly attractive to these newcomers.

Good Voice to Be Prized.

A soft, well-modulated voice is of far greater assistance in the world, even in the marriage market, than personal beauty. There are few things which possess a more definite value as a commercial asset than graciousness of manner and gentleness of tone. We are not born with harsh voices, we acquire them.—Exchange.
