She is survived by her husband and eight children.

Guadalupe Garcia, the Mexican who was arrested at Ancona last week and taken to Pontiac charged with cutting one of his fellow countrymen with a knife, was held to the grand jury Monday under bonds of $2,500. He was unable to furnish bond and went to jail. E. R. Rodrigues, another Mexican, who witnessed the cutting, was held as a witness, but was later released on his own recognizance.

The marriage of Miss Selma Winger, of Streator, and Edward Kaut, of Chatsworth, took place at the Lutheran Church in Streator Tuesday, December 24. The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winger, of Streator, and has visited in Chatsworth, where she has many friends. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kaut, of Chatsworth. They will live in Streator until spring, when they will go to Iowa to reside on a farm.

The contract for the erection of the new German Lutheran Church in Chatsworth was let on last Wednesday to Hal Opperman, of Pontiac, the consideration being $6,317. Mr. Opperman is to furnish bonds for the performance of the work, and it is hoped that the edifice will soon be in the course of construction. The contract was let several months ago to another contractor, who failed to comply with the stipulations of the agreement and the contract was annulled.

James Grant was arrested in Pontiac Tuesday afternoon by Sheriff W. A. Patterson and spent Christmas in the county jail. Grant and his wife have been separated for some time. Tuesday he went to Pontiac and after becoming intoxicated went to the home of Mrs. Grant, broke open the front door, broke out the glass in the front door, broke open the kitchen door and broke open the door leading upstairs, and tore up the house in general. Mrs. Grant and the children were badly frightened and their screams brought the attention of neighbors, who notified the sheriff's office and Grant was in turn arrested. Grant was arrested some months ago after chasing his wife out of the house to neighbors and threatening her.

DIGNITY IN LOW NUMBERS

New York Business Men Said to Attach Importance to Figures of Their Telephones.

"Such a small thing as a telephone number has some significance in the standing of a firm," remarked a New Yorker who had little else to do but talk and observe.

"How so?" asked the other.

"Take the low numbers—Broad 1,' for instance—and, as a rule, it will be the number belonging to an old established firm, provided, of course, that firm has remained in one location. The firm now bearing the above number was in existence before telephones were in use at all, and in like manner it is possible to ascertain the old established business houses. If a firm moves, but remains in the same exchange, it has the privilege of retaining its original telephone number. Americans don't care much for age and long established anything, as a class, but there are many firms in this city that are proud of their telephone numbers in a system where the numbers run high up in the thousands."

Saints and Sinners.
Goodness itself can be so overgood that you can't distinguish it from badness.

When saints make sandwich men of themselves, advertising their virtues to the public, extolling their own tender, angelic qualities, you want to kill them.

If only some of the pains taken to make human beings good were expended in trying to make them happy what a different place this old world would be.

If only teachers and preachers and parents and fanatics and reformers would realize that what people need is a little sunshine sent into their lives before they talk about responsibilities and a future state.

There are children and grown people so cobwebbed over with care and misery that all talk of "how good" to them is useless. Their only hope—their only salvation—lies in infusing a little sympathy, consideration and happiness into their lives.

Often it is a mother—weary, body and soul. Tired of plodding, tired of working on in a round of endless detail—little, insignificant, provoking items that she gets no credit for doing, but fatal discredit for leaving undone.

Telling the Time in Turkey.

In Turkey the watch and clock are extremely rare and a big crowd of persons could be rounded up on the street without finding a watch among them, but the natives have an exceedingly ingenious way of approximating the time and some of them hit it with considerable accuracy. They locate two cardinal points of the compass and then folding their hands together in such a manner that the forefingers point upward and in opposite directions, they observe the shadow cast. In the morning or evening at certain known hours one finger or the other will point directly at the sun. A comparison of the two shadows will determine the hours between. Another system followed in that country and some others of the orient is to observe the eyes of a cat. Early in the morning and evening the pupils are round. At nine and three o'clock, it is oval and at noon it consists of a narrow slit.

RAILROAD NEWS

The Alton recently let the contract for a new passenger depot at Bloomington to D. B. Donnellson, of Milwaukee. The building is to cost $100,000 furnished. The new depot is to be erected on the site of the old one.

The Alton officials, in common with those of other roads, are watching the parcels post innovation with deep interest. The express traffic on the railroads is one of the important departments, and if this is affected it will reduce the earnings of the railroads materially. There are some who think that the parcels post will work up new business that the express companies never handled and not affect the latter, while others predict that the express traffic will be cut 50 per cent. With the increase in mail by the parcels post the present postal car facilities promise to be inadequate and it is likely that all roads will be compelled to add more postal cars. It is predicted that the Alton will be handling postal cars on trains 3 and 4 during the day and trains 7 and 8 at night as soon as the parcels post gets well established.

Work has commenced upon the new bridge of the Alton over the Kankakee at Wilmington. This will be one of the most pretentious jobs since the Glasgow, Mo., bridge was replaced a number of years ago. It has been decided to construct new abutments of concrete for the support of the structure and work has commenced upon this job. The old bridge has been raised two feet and will rest on false work while the new abutments and new framework are being installed. When the new bridge is built around the old the false work will be removed and traffic permitted to move on the new tracks.
