Good Fishing in Galliee.

Bible students may be interested to know that there is still good fishing in the Sea of Galliee. Dr. Ernest W. Gurney Masterman, who has practiced medicine in Galliee, made a special study of the fishes found there and in a recent book says that he found 43 varieties, twice as many as can be found in the British isles. The fishermen are taxed a fifth of the value of the fish caught, the revenue going partly to the sultan and partly to a pasha in Damascus.

Trouble With the Eyes.

Sometimes thy hairs become loosened and get beneath the eyelids. Before going to all the trouble of examining the upper and lower lids, fill the wash bowl with cold water and open the eyes under water. Open and shut them several times, and in nearly every instance this will wash out the bothersome hair. It will at least loosen such a hair so that it may be easily removed by the cotton-tipped toothpick.

ROAD ITEMS

Growing out of a meeting held at the Sherman house last March a convention, attended by 200 good roads enthusiasts, the present Illinois Highway Improvement Association was organized. This association has since grown into an organization which, through its sustaining and associate membership, represents a grand total of 50,000 of the best citizens of the state of Illinois. The association has selected as its board of directors some of the most influential and patriotic men identified with the various commercial associations throughout the state.

At the state convention held at Peoria last September, under the auspices of the Illinois Highway Improvement Association, which convention was attended by 500 delegates, representing every town and city of any importance in the state, the following recommendations to the state legislature were made:

1—State and county co-operation in the construction and maintenance of main highways and bridges.

2—A non-political state highway commission of at least three competent members, who shall devote their entire time to their duties.

3—Improvement—in such counties as elect to come under the provisions of the law—of main, continuous, inter-county highways connecting county seats and other important cities, principally at the expense of the state and county; such roads to be selected and improved by county authorities, subject to the approval of the state highway commission, and after improvement to be turned over to the state for perpetual maintenance.

4—Improvement, maintenance and control of remaining roads—about 80 percent of the whole—under supervision of county and township authorities.

5—Effective measures to guarantee maintenance after roads are once constructed.

6—Use of the state automobile tax, together with such other funds as the legislature may appropriate, in the improvement of highways.

7—Extension of the employment of prisoners in state institutions in the preparation of material for road building, and the use of state prisoners—under state direction—on an honor system, in actual work when practicable.

8—Payment of all road taxes in cash.

9—Compulsory dragging of all dirt roads.

10—Safety of road users, such as "rules of the road" and the proper construction and guarding of crossings at roadroads and intersection of streets and highways.

Since the state convention two meetings have been held, one in November at Bloomington and one in December at Cairo.

Since its birth, less than a year ago, the Illinois Highway Improvement Association has steadily grown in power and purpose, its influence has become state-wide, and the organization has already accomplished much in the way of gratifying results, and citizens throughout the state have the assurance of still greater benefits.
