

School Time Means New Clothes For Your Boy

and we have gathered together a lot of new suits that for style, quality and price will outclass any stock you'll see elsewhere.

We Have Made the Values Extremely Big This Season

and you'll be delighted when you see what excellent suits you can get for little money. These big values are going to attract a lot of new customers to our boy's department.

Bring the Boy Here

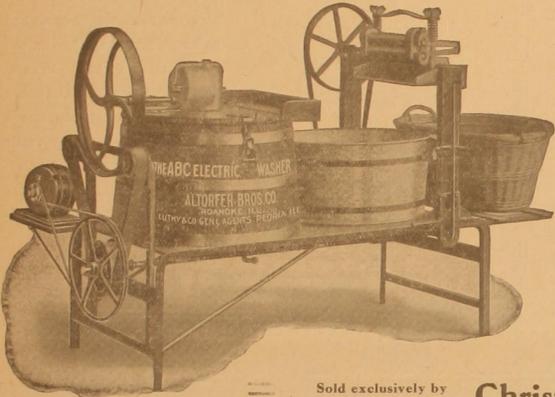

We are making a special effort on boy's clothing this season and we are anxious to have every boy and his parents find out about the excellent qualities of our boy's clothes.

Carey & Seibert

THE STORE THAT SATISFIES

The A. B. C. POWER WASHER

Operated by either motor or gasoline engine--most perfect machine made

Ask R. Mills, Ed. Chalmers, J. Hahn, Adolph Strafe at Grand Central Hotel, and many others

Sold exclusively by Christopher Bros.

FARE REFUNDED
Round trip on a $20 purchase; one way on a $10 purchase.

HEENAN'S
Streator, Ill.

No Phone Orders
No Approvals

Thursday, August 28th

"DOLLAR DAY"

At the Big Corner Store in Streator

Out-of-town patrons will do well to come to Streator bright and early on Thursday, August 28th, where a whirlwind of good things in Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Garments, Men's Clothing, Shoes, Dress Goods, Notions, Groceries, Furniture, Undermuslins, Drugs, China, Hardware, etc. will greet them.

The purchasing power of a dollar will be greater than ever before, so don't put your shopping trip off until later than the 28th.

OUR BIG "DOLLAR DAY"

If you are a subscriber to this paper now, wouldn't you like to send it to one of your friends?

DWIGHT NOTES

Mrs. D. Heenen went to Chicago Wednesday.

T. J. Carrington, of Adams, was in Dwight Thursday.

Mrs. J. P. Cahill, of Budd, was in Dwight Thursday.

Special discount on refrigerators, West Side Furniture Co. Adv.

Roy Seymour was a Chicago passenger Thursday morning.

Eddie Long spent Wednesday evening with friends in Pontiac.

Mr. Thos. Johnson, of Essex, called on relatives here last Saturday.

No other like it, the Hastings Cabinet. The West Side Furniture Co. Adv.

Buy Marigold Oleomargarine at Drew's and save on your butter bill.—Adv.

Send your children to C. M. Baker & Son's for their school books and supplies. Adv.

Miss Mamie Slow went to Braceville Friday to spend the day with relatives.

Mr. F. M. Davis left Wednesday to attend the Big Bend G. A. R. reunion at Cornell.

Miss Cecilia Kenny and Harry Harold were week end visitors at the Slow home.

George Brumbach spent Wednesday evening in Pontiac attending to some business affairs.

John Brown, of Joliet, spent a few days here the first of the week the guest of friends.

Miss Lydia Fox left Monday for Hinsdale where she will spend a couple of weeks.

Miss Grace Deutsch left Friday morning for a few days visit with relatives in Chicago.

Mrs. McAdams, of Slater, Mo., returned home Monday after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Tom Brown.

Max Miller of the firm of Miller Bros., is spending his vacation in Cleveland, Ohio, with relatives.

Lost: Hand painted belt pin with lady's head on it. Finder please leave at this office—Reward adv.

Miss Vera Hedderson returned to her home in Waterman after spending a week here the guest of Eulala Lower.

R. H. Gould sold his residence property on W. Waupansie street through the Frank L. Smith Agency this week. Adv.

Miss Florence Golesky left Friday morning for Wesley, Iowa, where she will spend a two weeks vacation with relatives.

Miss Emma Tock returned home Wednesday, after spending several weeks visiting in Indianapolis, Ind., and Chicago.

Modern cottage, 6 rooms with bath, hot water heat and all modern conveniences for sale. Inquire of Andrew Neilson. Adv. 33-1f.

For prompt sale of city property list same with us—No partiality shown but everybody treated cordially and alike. Weary & Snyder. Adv.

A party consisting of Fred and Blanche Reeb and cousin Miss Ruth Plummer motored to Starved Rock and Deer Park Wednesday.

Miss Lucy Reinhart who conducts a millinery store in this city has returned from her vacation which was spent in Chicago and points in Michigan.

Did you get a sample dust cloth at The Furniture Store, if not we have one for you. Save the coupon, it is worth real money to you. C. M. Baker & Son. Adv.

During the hot weather my photo gallery will be closed every second and fourth Sunday of the month. There is a photographer in your town. L. Dierks.—Adv. 25-1f

Mrs. John Pfeiffer returned to her home in Wilmington Tuesday after spending a few days here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Austin Gibbons and other relatives.

The last of the small street cars which have been used on the B., P. and J. here for the past several months was returned to Streator Wednesday, from which place they were originally borrowed.

If you are contemplating the purchase of a piano, consider and you will buy "a Krutzmann," a high grade piano at a reasonable price. Sold only by C. M. Baker & Son. We also sell the Auto Piano.—Adv.

Miss Evalyn McKee returned home Friday morning after a few days visit in Wenona. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Ellison and little son, who will remain here for a few days visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McKee.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Mylenbush and daughter, Eva, of Minneapolis, Minn., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brill and other Streator friends, went to Dwight Tuesday morning to visit friends before returning home.—Streator Free Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flomerfelt returned Tuesday evening from an extended Eastern trip. While away they visited Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, New York City, Brooklyn and a number of other places of interest. They were accompanied home by Mr. Flomerfelt's sister, Miss Flomerfelt, who will visit here.

Carl Tock for lumber and coal.—Adv.

Edw. Reeb was in Kankakee Thursday.

E. B. Gower, of Kankakee, was in Dwight Monday.

A. V. Scott, of Kewanee, was in Dwight Thursday.

Buy your school books and supplies at C. M. Baker & Son's. Adv.

Mrs. John Baker and Miss Dorothy, spent Wednesday in Chicago.

Dr. Harvey, of Ransom, made a professional call in this city Tuesday.

William Barthold spent Sunday in Wilmington fishing along the river.

Vera and Andrew Tambling are visiting relatives in Odell for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Holbrook and family, spent last Sunday at Henry, Ill.

We have some very choice lots for sale—Let us show you. Weary & Snyder. Adv.

C. M. Baker & Son sell school books for both Livingston and Grundy Counties. Adv.

Miss Bessie Vlasek, of Chicago, is the guest of Miss Ella Mickelson for two weeks.

Nathan Epstein and sister, Jennie, spent Sunday in Chicago, the guests of relatives.

Miss Barnum's Millinery store will be open Aug. 25th for the fall millinery business. Adv. 38 1w.

Miss Icy Orr who spent a week visiting relatives in Chicago, returned home last Friday.

Before you select your new fall hat we ask your careful inspection of our display. Carey & Seibert. Adv.

A. R. Morgan sold his residence property on W. Delaware street through the Frank L. Smith Agency this week.

Miss Ethel Cass and Mrs. Maud Swift drove down from Chicago Thursday in the latter's New Hudson 54 recently purchased from Ferguson and Naffziger. Adv.

The Kohler & Campbell is a safe piano to buy and you cannot go wrong for each instrument is fully guaranteed both by the manufacturer and their sales agents, C. M. Baker & Son. Adv.

The friends of Miss Mary Electa Dustin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Dustin, and Mr. J. Howard Connor, son of Mrs. Sarah Connor, of Joliet, will be surprised to learn of their marriage last December.

Charged With Abduction.

Frank Van Gampler, of Wilmington, who was arrested last Thursday morning on the complaint of Henry Wiemer, father of Beaula Weimer, also of Wilmington, after they had been caught in this city, where they were waiting for a train to take them to Peoria to get married, was re-arrested Wednesday morning on a warrant charging him with abduction. The warrant was issued by Justice Stephen A. Goodspeed, of Joliet, after the case of disorderly conduct, which had been tried in Wilmington, was dismissed. He was arraigned for preliminary examination and placed under bonds of $1,000. Attorney James W. Faulkner is representing Van Gampler.

Point for Theologians.

When you come to think of it, the unbelievableness of death to the average person, in view of our daily acquaintance with that great fact, is one of the queer quirks of the human brain. Or may it not be something bigger and better—a proof of our instinctive realization of our own immortality?—Exchange.

Mystery Cleared Up.

"My theory," said the eminent student, "is that the Venus of Milo was holding her drapery up with one of those lost arms." "I see," replied the man who knows nothing of art, "and signaling for a taxicab with the other."

To Clean the Soles of Shoes.

Get your druggist to make a solution of orange shellac and alcohol, and with a small brush apply this carefully to the heels and soles of your white shoes whenever the latter are polished. It leaves a satiny finish, and a ten-cent bottle has lasted considerably over a year.—Woman's Home Companion.

Humor Not Her Strong Point.

When a Wilkesden (Eng.) rate collector told the magistrate that a defaulter laughed at him, the defendant—a woman—retorted: "Quite untrue, I never, in any circumstances, laugh."

Busy World.

Anybody can see that this is a busy, humming, bustling world by the number of humming hustlers who stand around and watch a skyscraper being built.—Galveston News.

Renew your subscription for this paper.

You Pay 10c For Cigarettes Not So Good

Rich, Mild Quality That Never Varies

SALES OF OVER 11,500,000 A YEAR PROVES GOOD QUALITY

ANSWERING HIS LETTER

By ANNA PHILPOT.

"Well," indignantly exclaimed the girl to herself, after she had glanced at the date of the letter that the post man had just left. "Two weeks!" She flung her head high, and looked into the mirror to get the effect. "I'll show him that I can keep him waiting, too!" She unfolded the letter and read it. Then she reread it.

"Not an apology in it, either! I ought just to write and tell him a thing or two—but he'll wait at least three weeks before he gets a word from me! Let him see how he likes it!" She was extremely indignant.

Going to her desk, she flung the letter disdainfully upon it and closed the lid. Then she opened the desk again and took up the letter.

"I wonder," she pondered, "whether I ought to wait three weeks. I don't believe it would be well to wait more than just as long as he waited. That will be a broad hint to him. But I'm not going to be satisfied with hints! I'm going to tell him good and plain that if my letters aren't of sufficient interest to be worth an answer before I've forgotten everything I wrote to him I'll just direct them to people by whom they will be more appreciated."

"I'll write him this very minute and set forth matters clearly to that young man while everything's fresh in my mind. Then I can leave the letter undated and send it later, whenever I decide will be best."

Suiting the action to the word, she proceeded hastily to scribble off a letter.

"I'd better not begin to scold him at first," she decided. "I'll just answer his letter. I'll write as though I had nothing to say especially, and when I get nearly to the end I'll tell him a few things that he ought to know!"

She wrote on, happily smiling to herself, through a number of pages.

"Goodness!" she reflected, "What's the use of stirring up trouble? I think I'd just better let it drop and act as though I hadn't noticed how long a time had elapsed since he got my letter. It's far better that way. Really, it is foolish for a girl to let a man think she's eagerly waiting and watching for his letters."

"Then, too, I suppose he's awfully busy. They say that successful young business men usually can't get on with girls at all, but their time is almost never their own. And then his poor arms must get so tired writing his memoranda and getting out his reports that he ought to be praised for writing at all. Poor boy! It's mean of me to be resentful. I suppose he does his best. And it must be fearfully lonely for him out there and I suppose he just waits and waits for my letters.

She Flung the Letter.

"Let's see. He did say that he walked to the postoffice every night for the mail. Think how disappointing it must be to find nothing from me, day after day. He might cease going for the mail altogether if he thought no one would write. Goodness! What if I waited three weeks and then he didn't think it worth while to go for his mail any more and he'd never get my letter?" And I'd sit here thinking he just wouldn't answer. That's the way most trouble starts. I'm not going to let it start that way for us, if I can help it!

"I've made this letter just as formal and unconcerned as I possibly could," she said. Then she glanced through her letter. "Oh, I think it sounds awfully cold, considering the fact that we're engaged! I'll just add a postscript and try to make him see how much I care for him."

She scribbled away until the postscript was five pages longer than the letter. Then she looked at her watch. "Goodness! I suppose the poor boy is counting the hours to see when a letter can get back to him. And he's so busy that the days just fly. I'm sure he didn't mean to wait so long before writing."

"Oh, what's the use? I'll just put on my coat and run to the mail box to catch the next mail with this letter. Poor, lonesome boy!"—Chicago Daily News.

According to Instructions.
Bobble—I heard you got a letter from your brother?
Joey—Indeed, I did.
Bobble—Was there anything important in the letter?
Joey—Well, I didn't open it, for on the outside of the envelope was printed: "Please return in five days." So I sent it back to him.