FUGITIVE PLANS LEGAL FIGHT AFTER BEING DEPORTED FROM CANADA.

SLAYER HAS EXCITING DAY

Immigration Officials Thrust Him Across Border and He Has Wild Flight in Auto With News-papernmen.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 12.—The center of operations in the Thaw case was shifted to this quiet little town on Wednesday when Harry K. Thaw, following his unexpected deportation by the Canadian immigration authorities and an aimless flight by automobile from Norton Mills, Vt., was arrested here by Sheriff Drew of Coos county.

Sheriff Drew received a telegram from Attorney General Carmody of New York, asking that Thaw be held until the arrival of officers with extradition papers.

Thaw has already outlined plans for another prolonged legal battle to avoid extradition by the New York authorities. His first move after his arrest was to engage counsel and to take steps for obtaining a writ of habeas corpus. The writ will be applied before Judge Robert M. Chamberlain of the superior court, at Lancaster, the county seat.

William Travers Jerome, Thaw's ancient foe, who was taken by surprise by the action of the Canadian authorities, is speeding here from Manchester, this state, to take charge of the fight to enforce extradition.

Meanwhile Thaw, who is only technically under arrest and not confined in the jail, has communicated with his mother and his lawyers in Montreal and Sherbrooke.

Gov. Samuel D. Felker was at New Castle when he received news of the arrest of Thaw. He said:

"If the New York state authorities send officers here and the latter bear properly executed documents calling upon us to deliver Thaw to their custody, I shall probably sign the extradition warrant."

After having three hours of freedom Harry K. Thaw is under arrest here. Thaw was rearrested shortly before noon on Thursday by Sheriff Drew of Coos county, at Little School House, five miles from here, after having wandered about the hills of Coos county, N. H., for three hours after being dumped into the United States by Canadian immigration authorities.

Thaw at the time of his arrest was accompanied only by newspaper men. The nearly exhausted fugitive was in such a state of nervousness that he did not know which way to turn after his strenuous flight the slayer made no effort to resist arrest and was brought immediately to Colebrook.

Coaticook, Que., Sept. 12.—Harry K. Thaw was taken from the immigration station to the Vermont border on Wednesday by Superintendent of Immigration Robertson.

As Thaw left the station he yelled that it was kidnapping. Robertson's only answer was that it was entirely "regular."

Robertson produced a warrant signed by Minister of Justice Doherty, who is also acting minister of the interior, ordering the ejection of Thaw.

When word was received here from Coaticook that Thaw had been deported it created consternation among Thaw's lawyers. They had expected to hold up deportation for six months at least, possibly a year and perhaps, if an appeal was taken to the privy council, for two years.

The virtual kidnapping of Thaw, upon orders of the Dominion government and in actual defiance of orders from the high court of the land, was a dramatic climax to the fight that Thaw has made against ejection.

When N. K. LaFlamme and Barrister Greenfield, who were instrumental in holding up the board of inquiry's order of deportation in the court of appeals here, heard of the ejection of their client, they were thunderstruck. At first they would not believe it. They were helpless.

When the news got about in Coaticook that Thaw had been taken to the line public feeling broke out. A crowd surrounded the immigration building and there were demonstrations against the government and in favor of Thaw.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw collapsed when informed that her son had been recaptured. All morning she had been trying to get him on the telephone at the various points he passed through and her agitation increased with each succeeding failure.

ACT NOW GOES TO THE HOUSE

TWO DEMOCRATS OF LOUISIANA CAST BALLOT AGAINST ACT—LA FOLLETTE AND POLINDEXTER FOR IT—CONFEREES NAMED BY VICE-PRESIDENT MARSHALL.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The Underwood-Simmons tariff bill passed the senate on Tuesday by 44 to 37.

Senators Thornton and Ransdell of Louisiana were the only Democrats to vote against the bill, while Senator Polindexter, Progressive, and Senator La Follette, Republican, voted for the measure. Senator Lewis was paired with Senator Gronna, but announced that he intended to vote for the bill anyway, and did so.

Vice-President Marshall announced as conferees on the bill Senators Simmons, Shively, Johnson and Williams, Democrats; Penrose, Lodge and La Follette, Republicans.

The conference work should be completed within two weeks and the measure passed and signed by President Wilson before October 1.

Among the articles placed on the free list were raw wool and sugar at the end of three years; cattle, sheep, meats, wheat, flour, print paper valued at less than 2½ cents a pound, wool pulp, pig iron, steel ingots, blooms and slab, cast iron pipe, photographic and moving picture films, exposed, steel rails, cement, milk and cream, ferro-manganese, lard, flax, hemp, jute, eggs, corn, cornmeal, cash registers, sewing machines, type setting machines, lumber and hair of the angora goat.

The senate placed in the bill a tax on cotton futures, aimed to prevent gambling.

In the chemical schedule the senate has made a great number of amendments, the reductions and increases being about equally divided. In the glass and earthen ware schedule, cement, upon which the house placed a duty of five per cent. ad valorem, was placed on the free list.

The house had a duty of eight per cent. on pig iron, and the senate put it on the free list. The house also had a duty of eight per cent. on iron slabs, blooms, etc., and the senate added them to the free list. The senate reduced the duties of automobiles valued at less than $1,500. It also reduced the duty on motorcycles from 40 per cent. ad valorem to 25 per cent.

In the agricultural schedule, the senate free listed cattle and sheep, which the house taxed ten per cent. ad valorem. It reduced the duties on oats from ten cents a bushel, the house rate, to six cents. It reduced the duty on beets from ten per cent. to five per cent. ad valorem, it reduced the duty on peas from fifteen cents to ten cents a bushel, and it placed wheat, which the house had taxed at ten cents a bushel, on the free list. The senate placed a duty of one-tenth of one cent a pound on bananas. The senate placed a tax of $1.10 per gallon on brandies used in the manufacture of wines.

The senate made slight increases in yarns and tops. It reduced the rates somewhat on cotton stockings. Many large reductions were made in the flax, hemp and jute schedule, including the free listing of flax, hemp and jute. In the wool schedule the senate reduced tops from fifteen per cent. ad valorem to five per cent. and on yarns from 20 per cent. to 15. Woolen blankets valued at less than 40 cents per pound were put on the free list.

The income tax section of the bill provides for an exemption of $3,000 with an additional $1,000 if a man or woman be married, and $500 additional for each minor child up to two. The rates then are to be one per cent. on all income from $3,000 to $20,000, two per cent. on all income from $20,000 to $50,000, three per cent. on all income from $50,000 to $75,000, four per cent. on all income from $75,000 to $100,000, five per cent. on all income from $100,000 to $250,000, six per cent. on all income from $250,000 to $500,000, and on all income in excess of $500,000, seven per cent.

President Wilson issued the following statement:

"A fight for the people and for free business which has lasted a long generation through has at last won, handsomely and completely. A leadership has been shown in both houses of the legislature which the Democratic party has reason to be very proud. I am happy to have been connected with the government at this time."
