FROM PONTIAC

APPROACHING MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED AT PARTY—M. KIOSKI HAS LITTLE FINGER CUT OFF—SHEEP FLOCK RAIDED BY DOGS—GUSTAVE SCHMIDT FILES CITIZENSHIP PAPERS.

M. Kioski, baggageman at the Alton station here, met with an unfortunate accident Tuesday afternoon, having the first joint of his little finger on his left hand cut off when an ax dropped on it.

P. J. Hawk, instructor in manual training in the high and city schools, returned Wednesday evening from Springfield, where he had been for several days arranging the exhibit of these two schools at the state fair.

William Applegate, a farmer, living near Blackstone, received a badly dislocated shoulder Monday. His team started to run away and in attempting to get into the wagon to stop them he slipped and fell, receiving the injury.

The boys selected from Livingston county to attend the boys state fair school at Springfield are Harry Porter and Roy Black, of Pontiac. The boys' expenses are paid and they receive free instruction in agricultural subjects.

Dogs raided the sheep flock of P. H. McGreal, southwest of Chatsworth, recently and killed several of them. The next night Mr. McGreal housed the sheep and set several fox traps in the gateway and lane entering the sheep yard, with the result that two of the dogs were captured.

Gustave Schmidt, a farmer, residing near Blackstone, was in this city Tuesday afternoon and filed with Circuit Clerk J. G. Whitson his application for his first citizenship papers. He is twenty-eight years old, was born at Edemission, Germany, and came to the United States July 8, 1910.

Tony Catalano and Joe Cosposito, two of the four Italian boys who were arrested some time ago charged with stealing milk from the porches of North Plum street residences, were released from the county jail Thursday morning, having completed their sentences. The other two were released last week.

Dr. J. A. Marshall has been suspended by the board of managers of the Pontiac reformatory on the charge of cruelty to the patients whom he treated and Dr. John Ross, of Pontiac, has been appointed temporarily until Dr. Marshall, who refused to resign under the charges, is given a trial by the civil service commission.

Dana Veatch is having a store building erected at the corner of West Reynolds and South Division streets, where he will shortly open up an up-to-date suburban grocery. He expects to carry a complete line of staple and green groceries. He has had thorough training in this line, having been associated with several of the leading groceries of the city.

Wednesday evening Miss Margaret Young informally entertained the members of the Anita Club at her home on West South street. During the course of the evening Miss Young announced to her friends her approaching marriage to Ernest N. Malary, which is to take place on Wednesday noon, October 8, 1913, at the home of her parents in this city.

John W. Fornof, who for the past fifteen years has held the office of postmaster at Streator, retired Tuesday at the closing of business. Fred LeRoy, editor of the Independent-Times, who was recently appointed to the office of postmaster, immediately succeeded him. Mrs. Virginia LeRoy, who is well known in Pontiac, succeeds her husband as editor of the Independent-Times.

Porterfield & VanAlstyne have taken on a lease on the White brick building lately vacated by the Cullom post-office and about October 1 will move the printing plant of the Cullom Chronicle and Saunemin Headlight to the new location. They will have the first floor and basement, utilizing the latter for the engine, presses and folders. The building is one of the best in Cullom, steam heated and electric lighted.

There are half a dozen or more people who are trying out Cullom's new deep well water for various stomach, kidney, liver and rheumatic ailments with surprisingly good results. The more the well is pumped the better the water seems to get. The sulphur smell is still prevalent, but is not as strong as at first, and the water mains are gradually being flushed out thoroughly so that the water will soon be perfectly clear and palatable.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Forney, in Minonk, Wednesday evening at 6:30 their daughter, Miss Helen D., was united in marriage to Ernest J. Henderson, formerly of El Paso, but now studying law in Minonk with Judge Kennedy. Rev. A. K. Tullis, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony. Only immediate relatives were present. The bride is a graduate of the Minonk schools and she completed her education at Wellesley.

A copy of the Angola News, published at Quilongua Station, Angola, Africa, announces the birth of Julia Vincent Kipp to Rev. and Mrs. Ray B. Kipp, at Quessua Mission. Rev. Mr. Kipp is a former resident of Livingston county, having spent his early life at Wing. He and his wife are missionaries under the Methodist Episcopal Church. The News, by the way, is printed in English, set up by native African boys who are attending school at the mission. The territory in which the mission is located is Portuguese.

Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock was celebrated the marriage of Miss Blanche Hagaman and James R. Melvin at the home of the bride's parents, one mile west of Chatsworth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. F. Shriner, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The bride is the oldest daughter of John Hagaman and has taught school for a number of years, and the past two years was teacher in the grammar department of the Chatsworth public school. The groom is the oldest son of Supervisor and Mrs. W. H. Melvin, of Pleasant Ridge township, and is engaged in farming.

Mrs. W. A. Moon, wife of one of the wealthiest retired farmers in this locality and a resident, with her husband, of Moon, Livingston county, before locating in Streator, died at her home here at noon Wednesday of typhoid fever, with complication of stricture of the gall duct. Her illness was of short duration. Her maiden name was Mammie Cossell. She was born southwest of Streator on February 22, 1864, the daughter of Margaret and Abram Cossell. She is survived by her husband and a sister.

The Family Cough Medicine.

In every home there should be a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, ready for immediate use when any member of the family contracts a cold or a cough. Prompt use will stop the spread of sickness. S. A. Still, of Mason, Mich., writes: "My whole family depends upon Dr. King's New Discovery as the best cough and cold medicine in the world. Two 50c bottles cured me of pneumonia." Thousands of other families have been equally benefited and depend entirely upon Dr. King's New Discovery to cure their coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Every dose helps. Price 50c and $1.00 at John A. O'Malley's Drug Store.—Adv.
